Nixon Trims Sentinel, Cuts Out Marin Base

Modified Plan For 10 Years

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon approved today a compromise antimissile system to safeguard "against any attack by the Chinese Communist that we can foresee over the next 10 years," and to protect the U.S. missile-bomber force from knockout.

He told a nationally broadcast news conference he believes his decision for a modified ABM system "is vital for the security and defense of the United States and also in the interest of peace throughout the world."

Nixon denied his plan, which he said will cost between $6 billion and $7 billion, will escalate the arms race. This has been a major point of attack by senators and scientists opposing deployment.

He said the Soviets, a traditionally defense-minded people, understand the Sentinel is a defensive weapon.

AWAY FROM CITIES

The net effect of Nixon's actions, coming after a five-week Pentagon and White House review, will be to shift the emphasis of the antimissile from protecting cities to insuring that this country's deterrent power is better shielded from knockout in a surprise attack.

"I believe this system is the best we can provide for our nation's security," he added.

He said a massive city defense system would have to be near-perfect to be credible—that is, effective in cutting civilian losses significantly.

'EVERY INSTINCT'

"Although every instinct motivates me to provide the American people with complete protection against a major nuclear attack," Nixon said, "it is not now within our power to do so."

But he added: The safety of our country requires that we should proceed now with the development and construction of the new system in a carefully phased program."

In this connection, he indicated that safeguarding this country's 1,054 long-range, land-based missiles and its 600 bombers would pay off to a greater

HOW ABM WORKS — Drawing indicates working of Sentinel antiballistic missile system as earlier explained to a Senate subcommittee, with radar spotting an enemy missile re-entering the atmosphere and triggering a Spartan missile to destroy it with a nuclear warhead. Sausalito Proposal Dropped

The controversial Sentinel antiballistic missile system will not be located on Wolfback Ridge in Sausalito, nor any other place in the Bay Area, the Department of Defense said today.

Lt. Col. Harold L. Alabaster, Sentinel information officer at the Pentagon, said two Sentinel bases will be constructed to protect Minuteman intercontinental ballistics missile systems at Malmstrom Air Force Base at Great Falls, Mont., and Grand Forks Air Force Base in North Dakota.

PLAN CUT BACK

The Sentinel bases, announced this morning by President Richard M. Nixon, eliminates the threat that any part of the Sentinel system will be located in the San Francisco Bay Area or on the West Coast.

The Department of the Army last year announced that a Sentinel base, designed to protect the United States against Communist Chinese attack, would be located in Bay Area on Angel Island or Wolfback Ridge in Marin County or the San Pablo Ridge in Contra Costa County.

In December, the Army indicated Wolfback Ridge was the preferred site, partly as a result of the furor of Marin residents over the possibility of Angel Island State Park being converted into a missile base.

TESTS BEGUN

No final decision has been made on Wolfback Ridge pending the outcome of geological tests to determine the suitability of the site for the huge underground missile complex.

Final announcement of a site for the Bay Area was due at the end of this month, amidst a storm of protest from Marin civic and conservation groups joined by various city councils.

THE DRUG SCENE

An Addict Can Fool A Layman

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Writer

(Fifth in a series of 10)

How do you know that someone is taking mind-affecting drugs?

Often there are telltale signs. But authorities warn that anyone making himself a self-appointed, suspicious detective faces pitfalls in interpreting such signs as sure indications of drug use or abuse.

One reason is that other drugs, prescribed for medical conditions, can produce the same signs or effects. The suspected "drug taker" may actually be ill, or injured.

Another reason is that a person's behavior — if he seems depressed or lethargic, or gay and outgoing — may be only a purely emotional reaction to some experience or news that made him feel moody or excited.

One general sign of drug abuse or dependence can be a break in the usual pattern of a person's life. But such a switch in interests and behavior can also stem from other causes, particularly during adolescent years with their customary and rather natural roller-coaster swings from enthusiasm to depression.

Use of marijuana is difficult to detect.

The person using it frequently may have reddened eyes and dilated pupils. But the redness of the eyes can also be caused by conjunctivitis or "pink eye" infection.

In early stages of using marijuana, the person may be stimulated and very animated, or behave in a silly fashion. Later on, he may seem sleepy or stuporous.

Marijuana has a characteristic acrid odor, like burned alfalfa or rope, that may cling to clothing for a few hours.

There are no blood or urine tests to detect marijuana, or LSD.

Drug authorities estimate that pot smoking is going up among high school students, but they have no reliable figures. In some schools, marijuana is becoming quite popular, says Dr. Henry Brill, former vice-chairman of the Narcotics Addiction Control Commission of New York State.

"But, like sex, there may be a lot of boasting talk about marijuana rather than actual indulgence in it," he says. "On the other hand, marijuana is

Czech Youths Applaud Tito

PRAGUE (AP) — More than 5,000 chanting Czechoslovaks marched through Prague to the Yugoslav Embasssy today in a demonstration of support for President Tito and the Yugoslav Communist party congress, boycotted by the Soviet Union and other Eastern European nations.

The young Czechs stood before the embassy for half an hour chanting: "Long live Tito." "Tito yes, Brezhnev no."

Leonid I. Brezhnev is the chief of the Soviet Communist party which is believed to have ordered Czechoslovakia's Communist party not to attend the Yugoslav congress under way in Belgrade. Only Romania of the Eastern European nations sent a delegation.

Fifth Dead Whale Found Near Bolinas

A dead gray whale was decomposing today on RCA Beach north of Bolinas, bringing to five the total number of whales washed ashore on Northern California beaches in recent weeks, and the second on Marin coasts.

Marine biologists are investigating the possibility they died after swimming through the oil slick in Santa Barbara Channel, which is on the whales' annual migration route.

A whale washed up Jan. 10 in an inaccessible area south of Stinson Beach, another was found Feb. 27 at Half Moon Bay, a third Tuesday on Ocean Beach in San Francisco and a fourth yesterday at Pacifica.

Inmate Captured In Austin, Tex.

Robert Earl Aldridge, 41, who walked away from the Crittenden Center in Oakland Monday, was captured last night by police in Austin, Tex., San Quentin Prison officials reported today.

Aldridge was apprehended through the co-operation of the Travis County, Tex., Sheriff's Departmtent and the Federal Bureau of Investigation, San Quentin officals added.

Aldridge was working outside the walls under the prison's rehabilitation plan when he made his escape.

Marin Agencies, Military Slapped For Polluting Bay

Novato Given May Deadline

I-J Special Report

MARTINEZ — The Novato Sanitary District yesterday was issued a cease and desist order by the San Francisco Regional Water Quality Control Board to stop polluting the Petaluma River and Novato Creek, and the Bolinas Community Public Utility District was given 16 months to complete a sewage system.

The order requires the Novato district to submit "a firm and detailed time schedule for all major steps necessary to comply with this board's requirements" before May 15. The scheduled steps must include completion of financing and plans and specifications, award of construction contracts and completion of construction.

If the district fails to meet the May 15 deadline, the district will turn the case over to the district attorney's office for prosecution, according to the order.

The board noted, however, that the district may be dissolved in a special election on April 15. Dissolution was proposed by the North Marin County Water District.

The deadline would be reviewed if the district were dissolved, the board agreed.

The board's executive officer,

Bell Given Prison Term

A 35-year-old San Rafael man who left construction work two years ago to go into a full-scale drug-selling business yesterday was sentenced to state prison by Judge Samuel W. Gardiner of Marin Superior Court. Two Marin confederates drew lighter sentences.

James Dewey Bell, said to be one of the biggest drug dealers in the Bay Area as well as the largest dealer to go before Marin courts, was given concurrent sentences on counts of selling marijuana and selling methedrine.

The marijuana sale conviction carries a five-year-to-life sentence and the speed sale, a one-to-five-year sentence.

Bell, known as the "Missouri Walker" to narcotics agents for his birthplace and his habit of parking his car a block or so from his supply of narcotics, was arrested last February in the largest drug roundup in Marin's history.

He was subsequently arrested

Federal Bases Next Target

I-J Special Report

MARTINEZ — A cease and desist order against the number one polluter of the bay — the federal government — was ordered yesterday by the San Francisco Bay Regional Water Quality Control Board.

The board, which has campaigned for years to have federal installations clean up the wastes they dump in the bay, rejected its attorney's advice that it had no jurisdiction over the federal government.

"At least we have tried, and have done our duty," declared director Sidney S. Lippow of Martinez. Citing the government as "the real culprit" in bay pollution, he said federal installations are the "worst offenders" in many parts of the bay.

"I see no reason why they shouldn't comply" with the district standards, said William A. Alexander, vice chairman of the State Water Resources Control Board.

The cease and desist order, to be adopted formally at the board's April meeting, specifically cited the Alameda Naval Air Station and the Mare Island Naval Shipyard. Both dump untreated toxic wastes such as cyanide and phenol into the bay, reported the board's executive officer, Fred H. Dierker.

The air station dumps 525,000 gallons of waste a day, and the shipyard dumps 1,750,000 gallons a day, according to a report last July by the board's staff.

Span Board Asks New Law To Permit Transit Bonds

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District directors voted 11-4 today to seek legislation that would enable them to sell about $520 million in revenue bonds to build a rail rapid transit tube between Marin and San Francisco.

The motion, by director E. J. Guidotti of Sonoma County, did not mention how the money would be used but the action clearly was tied to a proposal made last month that a feasibility study of a tube be made by the board.

The tube study was proposed by director William C. Blake of San Francisco, who said the plan that the district enter the bus business would be a waste of money.

Guidotti suggested that the board be empowered to sell the revenue bonds — to be paid off with bridge tolls — with a two-thirds vote of its 18 members. Similar legislation sought unsucessfully by the board last year would have allowed the

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Air Piracy Denied

MIAMI (AP) — Alben William Barkley Truitt, whose grandfather was the late Vice President Alben W. Barkley, has pleaded innocent at a preliminary hearing on charges of air piracy.

Truitt, a 35-year-old photographer, is accused of forcing the pilot of a light plane to fly him from Key West to Havana last Oct. 23. He later went by boat to Canada, which deported him to the United States.

At the hearing yesterday no date was set for the trial.

Circus Party

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Richard M. Nixon saw her first circus in five years, a special matinee for 6,300 poor and physically-handicapped children, and called it "really a great show."

"I've always loved the circus," said the President's wife, who was flanked at the performance yesterday by two 4-year-olds from an infant home.

Peace Corps Change

WASHINGTON (AP) — Jack Vaughn, who was appointed director of the Peace Corps by President Lyndon B. Johnson in 1966, says he will soon bow out of the job.

There had been reports that the Nixon administration had asked Vaughn to stay on, but he told newsmen yesterday he had received no such commitment.

Peking Raps Russ

TOKYP (AP) — Red China has charged the Soviet Union with six more intrusions on a disputed island on the Manchurian border where 31 Soviet soldiers and an undisclosed number of Chinese were killed in a clash March 2.

Hsinhua, the official New China News Agency, did not say whether any of the new alleged intrusions resulted in shooting.

The charge was contained in one of three protest notes delivered to the Soviet Embassy in Peking yesterday, the agency said. The other two criticized treatment of Chinese diplomats in Moscow and damage to the Chinese embassy during demonstrations last weekend.

Portugal Flooding

LISBON (AP) — Forty-eight hours of heavy rain have caused severe damage throughout Portugal. The Tagus River overflowed its banks in many places, flooding farms, roads and villages.

At Banatica, across the Tagus from Lisbon, 107 persons had to be evacuated from their shacks when the hill behind them started to slide.

Weather officials said the rainfall in Lisbon was the heaviest since 1876 — 3.7 inches in 24 hours.

Hickel Directs Alligator Drive

EVERGLADES NATIONAL PARK, Fla. (AP) — Interior Secretary Walter Hickel, opening his battle to save the alligator, assumed the role of a poacher in a nighttime training exercise—and escaped detection.

Hickel joined rangers for the hour-long drill in a remote section of the swampy Everglades last night.

"I wanted to find out how a poacher operates. And now I know," the secretary said after he and the park's assistant chief ranger, Dick Stokes, came out of hiding.

"This has showed me how easy it is for the poacher to get away," said Hickel, who was told earlier that the park's 20,000 alligators face extinction unless their slaughter is stopped.

Antipoverty Probe Seeks Power Shift

WASHINGTON (AP) — An unpublished report by congressional investigators recommends that the Office of Economic Opportunity be stripped of its authority to coordinate antipoverty programs and that the responsibility be assumed directly by the White House.

The General Accounting Office, auditing arm of Congress, concluded after a two-year study that only a firm White House effort can bring order to the multitude of antipoverty and social welfare programs on which the federal government spends $25 billion annually.

LONG REPORT

The 200-page report, tentatively scheduled by GAO for release next week, is being kept under tight security. But several Capitol Hill and federal agency officials who have been briefed on GAO's findings told The Associated Press yesterday that the document:

Levels its sharpest criticism at shortcomings in the administration of OEO programs and the lack of coordination between those projects and the scores of similar programs now run by more than a dozen different agencies;

Recommends wholesale changes in the apparatus of antipoverty operations, leaving the Community Action Programs to OEO but transferring responsibility for all other programs to the White House.

Recommends that OEO remain responsible for innovation, a sort of research and development role;

Recommends sweeping changes for the much-criticized Job Corps;

TRAINING PLAN

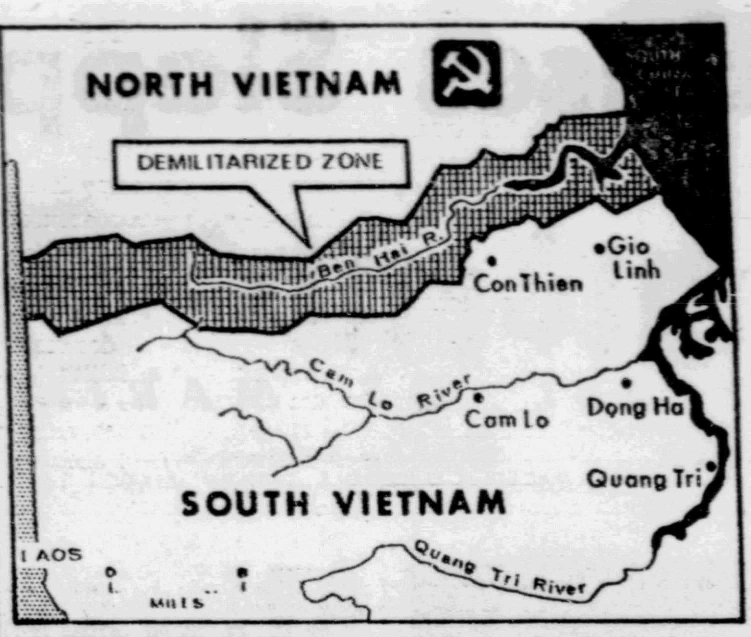
Recommends consolidation of manpower training programs;

Calls for congressional review of apparent conflicts between community action groups and neighborhood boards in the Model Cities program.

Several of the recommendations correspond with President Nixon's action last month in transferring the Job Corps from OEO to the Labor Department and the Head Start program from the antipoverty agency to the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Nixon, like GAO, recommended retention of OEO as an agency.

The report says that OEO, with a $2 billion annual budget, was given the impossible assignment of coordinating the entire federal antipoverty effort, which includes programs ranging from welfare and unemployment benefits to educational supplements and Social Security payments.



SAFE FOR REDS—Newsmap details the demilitarized zone between South and North Vietnam. U.S. troops have been ordered not to shoot into the northern half of the DMZ unless fired on first. (UPI Telephoto)

DMZ No-Shoot Policy Irks U.S. Commanders

SAIGON (UPI)—The United States has ordered its soldiers not to fire into the North Vietnam half of the border Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) unless guerrillas there first shoot at them, U.S. military sources said today.

The policy, in effect since President Johnson stopped the bombing of North Vietnam Nov. 1 but revealed by official sources for the first time today, has rankled U.S. commanders along South Vietnam's northern tier.

These commanders say the policy lets the Communists set up camps and guns that threaten U.S. Marine positions along the zone. Yet the U.S. soldiers can fire only when fired on from the northern sector, and that has happened just eight times since Nov. 1, U.S. figures show.

The disclosure came as the number of North Vietnamese intrusions into the so-called neutral zone passed the 3,000 mark since the Nov. 1 halt in U.S. bombing of North Vietnam.

In ordering a halt of the bombing, former President Johnson set forth among several implied conditions that the neutrality of the DMZ could not be violated by Communist troops.

This policy, which likely would be changed if an invasion were threatened, has given North Vietnamese troops virtually free access to the upper half of the DMZ.

Israeli Planes Once Again Hit Jordan Valley Targets

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli warplanes roared over Jordan today and hammered a suspected guerrilla pocket a few miles beyond the Jordan River and just south of the Sea of Galilee.

Witnesses reported smoke and flames rising from the Jordan Valley, and military sources said the targets were bases of the Arab commando organization Al Fatah.

The army would give no information, and no further details were available.

The Suez Canal, scene of five artillery battles in the past six days, was reported quiet.

Israeli and Egyptian gunners exchanged fire up and down the 103-mile waterway twice yesterday. Fires could be seen blazing at the Port Suez refinery complex and at Ismailia, but Cairo Radio said they were under control. Egypt also said six Egyptians had been wounded.

For the first time since the 1967 war, the shooting came within a dozen miles of Port Said, Egypt's sprawling Mediterranean port at the northern end of the canal.

Egypt claimed its guns downed three Israeli helicopters, but an Israeli spokesman denied the report. Israel reported no casualties or material losses.

An Egyptian communique said three Israeli missile positions were destroyed, as well as two artillery batteries.

Nuclear Pact Now Before The Russians

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate ratification of the nuclear nonproliferation treaty has passed the next move in damping down the arms race to the United States' would be partner in disarmament talks—the Soviet Union.

U.S. diplomats generally expected that Moscow would soon follow suit. The Kremlin does not have to tussle with a sometimes balky Legislature in its ratification routine.

But some figured the Soviets might foot-drag a while, using the delay for such political purposes as pressuring the West Germans to join the treaty.

It takes ratification by all three original nuclear co-sponsors of the pact—the United States, the Soviet Union and Britain—to bring the treaty into force. Britain ratified last November.

Also, at least 40 other nonnuclear nations must ratify. Since the treaty was presented to the world last July 1, a total of 87 countries have signed and 10 have ratified.

A lopsided Senate vote of 83 to 15 in favor of the treaty yesterday climaxed an eight-month U.S. delay caused by international tensions and domestic politics.

The treaty carries two basic provisions: (1) nuclear nations pledge not to supply atomic arms to those who do not have them, and (2) the have-not countries agree not to acquire them.

Reappointed As Board Member

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Robert McCarthy Sr., father of state Sen. John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael, yesterday was reappointed by Gov. Ronald Reagan to the board of directors of the 1-A District Agricultural Association.

The senior McCarthy, who first was appointed to the board by Gov. Edmund G. Brown in 1957, is a Democrat. The association operates the annual Grand National Livestock Exposition, Horse Show and Rodeo at the Cow Palace, and board members are not paid for their four-year terms.

Tank System Under Attack

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of a House subcommittee has charged the Army with "wasteful mismanagement," contending the service developed a new tank weapons system without suitable ammunition.

The three-member House Armed Services investigating subcommittee, headed by Rep. Samuel S. Stratton, D-N.Y., opened an investigation yesterday into part of the Army's tank program.

The first day's testimony centered on two new systems: the Sheridan and a modification of the M60, now the mainstay of the Army's heavy field armor.

Both are designed to fire, from the same tube, 152mm ammunition or the heat-seeking Shillelagh missile, and in both engineers encountered difficulties in developing the sophisticated new turret mechanism.

Sundays Liked By Would-be Killers

NEW DELHI (AP) — Sunday is the favorite day for would-be killers, according to an official of the central bureau of investigation.

He said a study of murders in New Delhi also showed that January and February are for some reason preferred by murders. The largest number of murders are committed between midnight and daybreak and the fewest in the forenoon, he said.

CAMPUS UNREST

Alioto Roughed Up By Angry Students

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The tempo of violence has increased in several student protests as gunfire was exchanged on one campus, the mayor of San Francisco was roughed up at another and classes were canceled after new clashes at a third.

At North Carolina A&T State University in Greensboro, police and students exchanged gunfire near the campus last night. Police said two students were slightly wounded and 10 persons arrested.

The gunfire came after police used tear gas to try and break up a crowd of students they said were disrupting traffic and stoning cars. Off-duty policemen were summoned to quell the disturbance.

The disorder began after a campus rally in support of striking university dining room workers employed by a private corporation.

Earlier in the day the students had decided to boycott the Washington, San Francisco dining halls although their meals there have been paid for in advance. The workers are seeking a 40-cent-an-hour pay increase to a minimum $1.80 per hour plus other demands.

At Georgetown University in Washington, San Francisco Mayor Joseph Alioto was roughed up by demonstrators who rushed the stage. He was forced to move to another building for a planned speech on "Law and the Campus."

Alioto said he was struck on the side of the face and on the shoulder. He did not require treatment and no severe injuries were reported.

College officials said many of the demonstrators were known members of the Students for a Democratic Society and some were from other schools.

Leaflets titled "Racist Strikebreaker Plans to Speak at GU" were circulated in advance of his appearance. The reference was to the strike at San Francisco State College.

Officials at Rutgers University canceled classes at the Newark, N.J. campus today because of "threats of violence and physical injury." Black students had vowed to shut the campus down.

Their pledge came last night after a day in which black students set bonfires, invaded an administration office and twice clashed with firemen.

University president Mason Gross said he canceled classes "at the request of representatives of the student council as well as senior faculty members."

The black students are protesting a faculty vote to repudiate agreements between themselves and the administration to admit more Negroes.

Elsewhere:

Negro students at Beloit College in Wisconsin reached a tentative agreement with administrators on demands including hiring Negro instructors who will not necessarily have to meet the usual qualifications.

The leader of a Negro student boycott at the 15 schools in Plainfield, N.J., said the strike would continue indefinitely. The schools reopened Thursday after being shut down for a week following a racial brawl in the high school.

"We won't enter the building until there is a better school and we are assured we'll all come out in one piece," said Debbie Low. School authorities have agreed to reforms including expansion of Negro history but the students say they reneged on a promise to have security officers but "not policemen" in the schools.

In Patterson, N.J., three days of sit-ins at Eastside High School were followed by a walkout and a "liberation" school for the boycotting students. The walkout by 500 Negroes and whites was to protest the presence of police and cancellation of a school board meeting.

Marijuana Raiders Find Marinite Bound To Post

SAN FRANCISCO (AP — Police staging a marijuana raid arresed two men on a kidnaping charge yesterday after finding a Larkspur man tied hand and foot in a Sunset District basement.

Arrested in the basement on kidnaping and narcotics charges were Robert Loveless, 20, of San Francisco, and Harry Felten, 20, of Burlingae.

Loveless was quoted as saying Doko "owes me a lot of bread and hasn't paid me." Doko was tied, he added, to teach him a lesson.

Doko was charged with pssessing marijuana and being under the influence of drugs.

Inspectors also arrested outside the house Raymond E. Pesce, Richard C. Thomas and Stanley Kolar, all 21 and all of San Francisco, on narcotics charges.

Police said they found 13 kilogras of marijuana—about 29 pounds. They also said they found two color television sets, cameras, radios, musical instruments, a sawed-off shotgun and a pistol—all believed stolen.

Vandals Open Gasoline Valves

NAPA (AP) — Vandals opened valves at Shell Oil Co. storage tanks yesterday and released 30,000 gallons of gasoline, 1,500 gallons of solvent and 1,300 gallons of weed killer.

The Coast Guard and game warden Don Hall at Napa said they found no trace of the petroleum products in the nearby Napa River and no loss of wildlife.

Officials couldn't immediately determine a motive for the vandalism, which cost the firm $6,500.

Death Reveals Guerrilla Base

MIAMI (AP) — Deputy sheriffs combed the swampy Everglades today for a man accused of killing a fellow soldier of fortune during a combat drill at a secret Haitian guerrilla base.

The missing man, described by companions as a Haitian Negro who claimed to be a deserter from the U.S. Marines, disappeared after the fatal shooting Tuesday of Gerald D. Baker at the base in the Everglades.

Sheriff Robert Brown of Monroe county jailed 12 men found at the base on charges of being accessories to murder. He said the group at the hidden camp had planned to invade Haiti in an attempt to overthrow President Francois "Papa Doc" Duvalier.

Those arrested included an American, a Canadian and 10 Haitians.

The number of young in a raccoon litter averages four.

Span Board Asks New Law To Permit Transit Bonds

revenue bonds to be sold by a majority vote to the board.

Voting against Guidotti's plan was Marin Supervisor Michael Wornum, who said the board was "trying to grab too much too soon." No additional revenue power should be granted to the board, he said, until the Napa County suit against the district on board expansion is settled.

The suit challenges a 1968 state law that added city councilmen and county supervisors to the bridge board and added four directors, two from San Francisco, one from Marin and one from Sonoma.

Wornum, noting that legislation already is pending to give the district power to go into all forms of transit, also argued that transit plans should be drawn before power is sought to finance them.

Joining Wornum against Guidotti's motion were San Francisco Supervisor Ronald Pelosi, Stephan C. Leonoudakis of San Francisco and Mill Valley Mayor Dean N. Meyer. Marin's third representative on the board, Joseph E. Sheeks of Belvedere, voted for the motion.

The $520 million figure was reported by Gen. Mgr. Dale W. Luehring. The sum represented 15 per cent of the district's assessed valuation of $3.468 billion. Bonding capacity is limited by state law to 15 per cent of assessed valuation.

The vote came after directors agreed informally that voters probably would not approve general obligation bonds, which would require two-thirds ratification at the polls.

Luehring noted that 63 per cent of the assessed valuation of the district was in San Francisco and 16 per cent in Marin County.

Guidotti, in proposing the revenue bonds, told directors, "You'll be sitting around this table and talking about doing something for another 10 years" without new financing powers.

If the Legieslature balks at giving the board power to vote such bonds, then perhaps a compromise could be worked out to allow the bonds to be approved by the voters, but with less than a two-thirds vote, Guidotti said.

In other business, the board voted to ask the California Public Utilities Commission "to force Greyhound to provide the proper services" between Marin and San Francisco. The proposal was made by Blake, who insisted that the bus company was failing to provide adequate service to reduce the number of cars into San Francisco.

Greyhound long has been on record as wanting to cease all commute operations.

Directors also referred to their finance committee a proposal by director L. E. Castner of Sonoma County to increase bus tolls on the bridge. Bus tolls were cut from $1 to 13 cents by the board in March 1966 to forestall a passenger fare increase sought by Greyhound.

District Auditor Gorden E. Dahlgren told directors that the toll cut has subsidized buses to a total of $580,000.

NOVATO

Fred H. Dierker, last month said the district either will have to improve its treatment of sewage waste or relocate its discharge pipes away from recreational areas and into deeper water.

No one from the district appeared before the board, which met in the Contra Costa County Administration Building.

The Bolinas district has been under a cease and desist order for more than three years to stop dumping raw sewage in the mouth of the Bolinas Lagoon. The order was amended yesterday to give it until July 15, 1970, to complete all construction of a joint treatment system with the Stinson Beach County Water District.

Stinson Beach is on septic tanks.

The Bolinas district last month told the regional board it would start construction within a year, and that its financing would require county participation. If the county refuses to help, the board agreed, the deadline may have to be extended.

The regional board has extended previous deadlines to encourage the two districts to build joint facilities.

Our patience will run out very shortly," chairman William C. Weber cautioned.

In another Marin case, the board set an April 15 deadline for the Marin Debris Company of Maggiora and Ghilotti Inc. to propose a time schedule to dike its dump west of Highway 17 about a mile from the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge. The dike will prevent wastes from seeping into the bay.

Commissioner Sidney S. Lippow of Martinez sharply criticized the City of San Rafael for permitting the dump to open before the regional board could set standards for its operation. "Marin County does things in the strangest way," he said.

The board's area engineer, Daniel F. Murphy, noted that he had asked the city to ensure that dumps "are maintained in a dry condition, but they have not included this condition in any of their permits."

In other matters, the board declared that the San Rafael Sanitation District should take steps to reduce its dumping of raw sewage mixed with stormwater by next year. A detailed progress report from the district was asked by April 20.

The board also gave San Quentin Prison one year to improve treatment of its waste water. The prison is exempt from the board's jurisdiction, but the board's staff said it would recommend other "legal remedies" if the state Department of Corrections did not meet the deadline.

The prison was one of the top 14 violators of the regional board's standards during 1968.

Half the U.S. population under 15 has never been to a dentist, says the U.S. Public Health Service.

FEDERAL

Base's wastes total some 350,000 gallons a day, and at the Mill Valley Air Force Station the figure is 17,000 gallons a day, according to the report. Treatment at both, however, is being improved.

In addition to the cease and desist order, the board also adopted a restlution asking Congress to approve the Navy's request for $3.5 million next fiscal year to start improving its waste disposal system at the air station and shipyard. No money was appropriated during the current fiscal year, a Navy spokesman told the board.

"If it appears that this board is getting tougher, then the appearance is quite correct," said chairman William C. Weber of San Mateo. "We're going to move as rapidly as we can to enforce our standards," he said.

In a related matter, Weber noted that Assemblyman March K. Fong, D-Oakland, yesterday proposed a bill to empower the board to levy huge fines against any governmental agency polluting the bay.

The bill, to be introduced next week, would levy a maximum fine of $100,000 a month for every 100,000 of population. In San Francisco's case, it could reach almost $800,000 a month. San Francisco has a unique system of combining rain and sewage waters, thus often releases raw sewage into the bay.

The board last month suggested the $100,000 figure, with a 10 per cent increase in the fine each month. A study panel of the State Water Quality Control Board is considering recommending a fine of $6,000 a day.

Juvenile Hall Inmate, 17, Dies

A 17-year-old girl inmate of Marin County Juvenile Hall died unexpectedly this morning of unknown cause.

Cynthia Hopps, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Hopps of 120 San Rafael Avenue, Belvedere, was pronounced dead on arrival at Kaiser Foundation Hospital a short distance from the juvenile hall at 7:53 a.m.

The girl fainted about 4 p.m. yesterday after leaving a routine afternoon meeting of inmates and counselors, reported Chief Probation Officer Walter Busher. She was taken to Marin General Hospital and examined by her family doctor there. Finding nothing wrong, he directed she be returned to juvenile hall.

This morning, said Busher, the girl awakened about 6:25 a.m. and went to the common area, where she asked Alicia Moore, a counselor on duty, for permission to stay there until breakfast. She seemed normal at that time, Busher said.

At the breakfast table, she collapsed. She was then rushed to Kaiser Hospital.

Cynthia had been at juvenile hall since Feb. 28, Busher reported, having been made a ward of juvenile court as "beyond parental control" after running away from home.

Dr. Donovan O. Cooke, coroner, said determination of cause of death will await an autopsy and probably toxicology tests.

BELL

on federal charges in San Francisco and again in Marin County in October, but these cases were dismissed.

Bell was indicted by the Marin Grand Jury on several counts of selling marijuana and speed, but after he pleaded guilty to the two counts, the other charges were dismissed.

The guilty pleas came last November after a jury had been chosen for the trial of Bell and his two assistant salesmen, Robert Drolla and Robert Nelson both of San Rafael. At the close of the opening statements of the deputy district attorney, the three pleaded guilty.

Drolla was sentenced to state prison for one to five years, and Nelson received a year in the county jail.

Bell's probation report presented in court yesterday indicated he had been reared on a farm in Missouri, where he lived until he was 16.

Although he only got as far as the seventh grade in school, probation officers found him to be "sophisticated," especially in the ways of the underworld.

Until about two years ago, however, Bell worked in construction activities and was considered a good and reliable worker by the Hodcarriers Union, to which he belonged.

His attorney, Harold Hayes, yesterday tried to convince Judge Gardiner that Bell had "gone straight" since his arrest in February and has a regular job (as a bartender).

In addition, Hayes said, Bell is now married and his wife is pregnant.

Hayes' plea for a county jail sentence for Bell was strongly disputed by Deputy Dist. Atty. Jerry R. Herman, who said that such a sentence would make other drug salesmen feel "the money earned would be worth it."

Judge Gardiner said that there was evidence that the two counts on which he was sentencing Bell were only a small part of the picture but that he had taken Bell's conduct in recent months into account and would not write a letter to the California Adult Authority recommending an especially stiff sentence.

Nixon said he does not believe the Soviets would interpret his move today as escalation of the arms race.

"I think the Soviet Union recognizes very clearly the difference between a defensive posture and an offensive posture," the President explained.

"The Sentinel system approved by the previous administration provided more capabilities for the defense of cities than the program I am recommending," Nixon stated, "but it did not provide protection against some threats to our retaliatory forces which have developed subsequently."

"Protection of our land-based retaliatory forces against a direct attack by the Soviet Union."

"Defense of the American people against the kind of nuclear attack which Communist China is likely to be able to mount within the decade."

Ross Views Shift In Dog Ordinance

And what do you do about it when he's not?

These two questions popped up before the Ross Town Council last night when councilman Natalie G. Lewis said she had been besieged by complaints about dogs in Ross.

"I've changed my mind," Mrs. Lewis said in introducing the nonagenda item. "I've had complaints from six different areas of town. We as the council have a responsibility to our citizens."

"I don't know just what we ought to do, but perhaps we should look at what Mr. (Thomas M.) Campanella has to say," Mrs. Lewis continued.

Campanella, assistant county administrator, has been visiting cities proposing a county-wide animal control ordinance.

"Are you going to let them snatch dogs right off their owner's front yard," he asked, referring to wording of a proposed ordinance which, although it doesn't require a leash on a dog, requires the owner to have the animal under control.

"That ordinance means that if the owner goes to the post office and leaves the dog on his front porch, they could come take him," Jones, a dog owner, added.

Mrs. Lewis said that the various complaints she received ranged from just barking dogs to those running in packs, both day and night.

"We just have to see that dogs are kept under some kind of control," Mrs. Lewis said.

A sparse audience, who had been conspicuously quiet while the council tediously plodded through the agenda same to life.

"We don't want a leash law around here, I'm certain," commented John H. Chase, "but I agree we do need something."

Chase, who lives on Upper Road, said that several times he has broken up packs of dogs in his area. "I've actually taken a club and broken them up," he said, "but they're right back the next night."

'I'm sure none of us want a leash law, but I think what we do need is an ordinance which would allow abatement of specific problems," Chase continued.

The council ended the hairy matter by voting to invite Campanella to the next meeting to discuss an animal control ordinance.

Sewer Plan Is Given Approval

Plans for sanitary sewer lines to serve the 82-acre Quail Hill development at Northgate Shopping Center were approved last night by Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District directors.

Secretary Lelia Sayers said developers will put up an acreage charge of $8,266 plus a deposit to cover the cost of engineering, inspection and the checking of plans on the sewer lines.

The Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District directors also:

INSURANCE — Renewed for another year the insurance policy with St. Paul Fire Insurance Co. at a cost of $2,446 premium.

Ross Ready To Rewrite Home Code

Ross councilmen last night began piecing together an ordinance which they hope will soon stamp out many "undesirable" businesses operating from homes in the city.

At least one councilman has his eye on a particular alleged violator of the city's existing code which prohibits a business in a residentially zoned area.

The council is seeking to enact an ordinance which would get rid of "home occupations" which create traffic, require deliveries or involve any kind of manufacturing.

Councilmen Roy Farrington Jones came to last night's meeting armed with a list of "home occupations" in Ross which are paying sales tax to the state. Many of these, he said, were not paying a town business license fee, however. Jones said he got his list from Sacramento.

Jones noted in particular" . . . there is an antique shop on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard that sells every day, yet they maintain that they aren't a business.

"I've called them on the phone," he said, "and they assure me that they are not running a business from their home."

Jones said, however, that the homeowner advertises in the yellow pages of the telephone directory.

Jones and Councilman Natalie G. Lewis have been working on the draft of an ordinance which would spell out the types of "home occupations" which would be allowed in the city.

They indicated that such things as telephone survey work, an answering service or "small handicraft shops" would be tolerated.

Jones also said that a reduced $10 a year business license fee would be charged.

The Ross Town Council last night also:

TRAFFIC LIGHT — Applied to the county for $18,300 in Urban Thoroughfare funds to erect a traffic signal at the Laurel Grove and Sir Francis Drake Blvd. intersection. The total cost of the light will be $36,600.

STOP SIGNS — Adopted a resolution granting the town council the authority to erect stop signs at intersections where deemed necessary by the police force.

RENTAL UNIT — Denied Gregory K. Solon's request for a variance to allow rental of a second vacant house on his property at 48 Ivy Drive, requested, Solon said, to prevent hippies breaking in and living in it.

Tamalpais Valley Home Burglarized

David John Marriott reported to sheriff's officers that his home at 832 Autumn Lane, Tamalpais Valley, had been ransacked and burglarized Wednesday, officers said today.

Missing were $450 worth of camera equipment, $30 in coins, a stereo set and binoculars.

MARIN CITY UNDERPASS

Auto's Windshield Shattered By Rock

A bottle reportedly thrown by a schoolboy shattered the windshield of a car driving through the Marin City underpass yesterday afternoon, sheriff's deputies reported.

Robert S. Horvath of 384 Ferndale Avenue, Homestead Valley, told deputied he was driving toward Sausalito at 2 p.m. when he passed a group of Negro boys apparently walking home from school. One boy approximately 7 years old, threw the bottle, which smashed the windshield on the driver's side, said Horvath who was not injured. The bottle was flung from the point where the fence ends on the Sausalito side of the underpass.

The incident came on the heels of a Wednesday night meeting in which Sausalito school officials and Marin City residents urged removal of a fence built at the underpass last July to curb rock throwing by juveniles. Opponents called the fence an affront to the Marin City community.

California Highway Patrol records show 45 vehicles were damaged by rock throwing at the underpass between October 1966, and last May. The vandalism was sporadic during most of that time, but last May 13 cars were damaged in incidents on seven different days.

Since the fence went up, only three incidents have been reported, including yesterday's.

The state Division of Highways erected an 8-foot fence between the street and the sidewalk, extended the existing fence on the other side of the sidewalk, and removed some shrubbery in which youngsters hid in ambush for rock throwing.

Highway Patrol Sgt. James Dukes said the fence also served to protect children walking home from school.

Highway patrol records show damage in 1966 to one car in October, and six cars in November; in 1967, one car damaged in January, one each in May, June, July and August, 12 in October and one in December; in 1968 two in January, two in April and 13 last May.

Bank Honors College Pair

Jeff L. Andre of Novato and Leilani E. Torres of Greenbrae, College of Marin students, were honored last night by the Bank of America for being among the best business students in junior colleges in Northern and Central California.

A total of 83 students were honored at a dinner in San Francisco. Each was presented with a $300 check.

The winners were selected by college faculty for scholastic achievement, extracurricular participation, ability to get along well with others and employment potential.

The Living God

Anyone whose life has been touched by the healing power of divine Love, anyone whose prayers have brought a glimpse of what it means to be spirtually alive, knows from his own experience about "the living God" spoken of in the Bible. Awareness of His presence comes in different ways to each individual, but it grows only with deep prayer and study. Christian Science Reading Rooms and church services are there to help. UNEXPECTED ARRIVAL

The garage doors at the home of Lou Sabella on Marin Drive in Peacock Gap yesterday were smashed in at 7 p.m. last night when a car rolled down the hill on San Marino Drive. The car's owner, Ronald Goode of 24 San Marino Drive suggested to San Rafael police that someone may have been trying to steal the car at the time. The police investigation will continue.

Sirhan Smiles Over Tapes

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Sirhan B. Sirhan smiled and giggled as tape recordings were played in court of his conversations toying with police officers in the hours after his arrest for shooting Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

The 24-year-old Arab appeared to be enjoying himself immensely yesterday as he listened to the replay in which detectives tried to get him to give his name and he fended them off with wisecracks.

The defense contends he was intoxicated and "disassociated." The prosecution claims he was a shrewd assassin who knew perfectly well what he was doing and pretended not to know he had shot Kennedy.

The trial was in recess until Monday.

The tapes were made in police headquarters in the early morning hours of June 5, 1968. Sirhan rambled on about the stock market, other murder cases, the high cost of having a family, the administration of justice, the grape pickers strike and foreign travel.

Sirhan would answer questions until they began to hone in on his identity.

Federal Recreation Funds To Be Sought

Federal funds will be sought for recreational development of Marin Municipal Water District lands, Gen. Mgr. William R. Seeger revealed yesterday.

Seeger mentioned the application was being prepared after the district board approved sanitary facilities for the Rock Springs area of Mount Tamalpais.

He said the area had been planned for more extensive development this year, but plans were changed to develop the Lake Lagunitas area because it is more accessible. Plans for development are being prepared and a recreation report is expected in about two months.

Directors did not discuss recreational development or the federal grant.

After the meeting, Seeger said the application will be for about $57,000 on a 50-50 matching fund basis.

In other business, the board authorized Seeger to proceed with phase two of studies to take over four sanitary districts after Seeger recommended additional consideration.

He said he had talked with officials of the four districts, the Stinson Beach County Water Co. and the Homestead Valley, Alto and Almonte sanitary districts, but needs more extensive studies before bringing the matter to the board.

He said the studies would be done by the water district staff for $500 to $1,000.

Robert W. Elliott, the district's attorney, noted the study was probably a preliminary to annexation.

Seeger said residents of each of the districts would have to vote on the question of take-over by the water district. Each of sanitary districts have requested the studies by the water district.

Corte Madera Sanitary District also had asked consideration for absorption, but has since decided to merge with the Town of Corte Madera.

Marin Municipal Water District directors also:

WARM SPRINGS — Approved a resolution asking Congress to appropriate funds for the Warm Springs Dam project in Sonoma County. The dam, on which Marin's future water supply hinges, was approved in 1962, but so far, only funds for a road relocation have been allocated.

KEYPUNCH — Agreed to sell a keypunch which cost $4,000 in 1963 for $100 to the Sonoma Mortgage Co. The keypunch is part of the old data processing system which was recently replaced and Seeger said the equipment is obsolete and difficult to get rid of.

ACCIDENT — Settled with the San Francisco Municipal Railway for $137.25 damages, half of what the district asked following an accident between district equipment and a bus in San Francisco.

ROAD WORK — Approved contributing $500 to paving Fern Canyon Road in Mill Valley because part of the road passes district property. Mill Valley had asked $2,860, Seeger reported.

EQUIPMENT — Approved the low bid of $7,068 by American Pipe and Construction Co., San Leandro, for pipe needed for a Larkspur road project; and the low bids of Groniger Co. and the Crane Co., both of San Francisco, for valves, at a total cost of $2,386.

PHOENIX — Heard a report from Seeger that all of the Phoenix Dam problems have been solved and the lake is now filling.

PIPELINES — Approved a pipeline extension costing $37,596 for the Swig property on Lucas Valley Road, and another for the Romac Pacific Co. on North Industrial Way, Larkspur, for $4,370. All costs will be paid by the applicants.

RESIGNATION — Accepted the resignation of Wesley Baker of the pump department, because of sex education in Marin County Schools. District officials reported Baker was intensely opposed to sex education and had frequently threatened to move if it was adopted. In addition, his children had been threatened after he spoke against sex education, officials said.

Tam Firemen Seat Officers

Allen R. Howe was installed last night as president of the Tamalpais Volunteer Firemen's Association. Former president Wendell M. Joost Jr. was installed as vice president.

Other new officers are Frank Christ III, secretary; Robert Dewalt, treasurer; Tad Alvord, Station 1 trustee, and Clark Jensen, Station 2 trustee.

The firemen donated $100 toward expenses of a citizens' committee to work for a proposed district bond issue for a new fire station and upgraded fire equipment and mains.

The association agreed to hold its annual Easter egg hunt for children in the district on April 5, the time and place to be chosen later.

INCOME TAX FACTS

By PETER JAMES WIKEL, CPA

$100 Deduction Rule Applies To Property Casualty Losses

Wikel

The loss of your property by reason of flood, fire, storm, shipwreck, vandalism and other casualty, or by theft is deductible only to the extent the loss from each casualty or theft exceeds $100. This is like the $100 "deductible" under a casualty insurance policy.

If you have two losses from one casualty, only one $100 deduction is made. Husband and wife filing jointly are treated as one, so separate losses suffered in the same casualty bring only one reduction.

This does not apply to losses of corporations or business losses of individuals. If the property is part personal and part business, the $100 reduction applies only to the personal part.

Any insurance recovery must be deducted from the amount of the loss before you make the deduction on your tax return. Also, the loss can never exceed the cost or other basis of the property regardless of the fair market value at the time of loss.

Uusally the loss is the difference between the fair market value of the property before the loss and the fair market value, if any, of the property after the loss.

The costs of repairing, replacing or cleaning up after the casualty are not allowable deductions. However, if the repairs, replacements or cleaning up do nothing more than restore the property to its condition immediately before the casualty, and do not add to the value, utility or useful life of the property, such costs may be used as a measure of the decrease in value.

To prove a loss, you must show seven points:

What happened and when; that the loss was a direct result of the happening; that you owned the property; the cost or other basis of the property; depreciation allowed or allowable; value before and after the casualty, and the amount of any insurance or other compensation received.

Proving value before and after the casualty is the difficulty. Photographs and appraisals are helpful.

The costs of photographs, appraisals, accounting fees, etc., in connection with deducting your loss or the preparation of your tax return are deductible in the year paid on page 2, part IV, line 16, of form 1040 if it was a personal loss. They are deductible in the same way as any other business expense if it was a business loss.

On your federal return, if the loss is any amount greater than your income for 1968, you would carry the excess back to 1965 and fill a claim for refund of the income tax paid for 1965. If the amount of the loss was such that your 1965 income did not absorb it all, then any unused loss could be carried to 1966 and 1967, then any unused loss could be carried forward for the next five years and applied against the income of those years.

Three Variances Asked In Tiburon

Three applications for variances from side and front yard setback requirements will be heard by the Tiburon Board of Adjustments at 8 p.m. Monday in City Hall.

The variances are requested by Alfred Birich for property at 2244 Vistazo East Street, Joseph E. Redmond for 155 Rock Hill Road and Alice Taybi for 120 Geldert Drive.

coming to be regarded by many students as a badge of youth, like taking a drink or smoking a regular cigarette."

In some colleges, 20 to 30 per cent or more of students may have experimented with pot, according to various estimates.

LSD may make the pupils of the eyes dilate, so that a person who has recently taken a sufficient dose may wear dark sunglasses, even indoors. But, again, this same effect can be brought on by a medication, like an antihistamine that contains atropine. Or young people may wear their sunglasses out of affectation, or plain forgetfulness.

The LSD user, depending on the drug dose and his reaction, is usually not disoriented, one expert says. He can usually straighten up and give an impression nothing is wrong. He may be inclined to sit or lie quietly, in a dream-like state, but also may become highly agitated.

Up to 5 per cent of college students may have tried LSD at the height of its popularity, Dr. Dana L. Farnsworth, Harvard University psychiatrist, estimates. Now, with dangers or potential dangers of the drug better known, probably under one per cent are experimenting with it or using it frequently.

Pep pills or amphetamines can cause a variety of effects. Small doses make a person more alert, and reduce his need to sleep.

These drugs suppress appetite — one reason they are prescribed by physicians sometimes is to aid in weight reduction — and reduce the sense of fatigue. The abuser may be restless and nervous, may become very talkative, or have delusions.

Amphetamines produce a drying effect on mucous membrances of the mouth and nose. Bad breath and frequent licking of the lips may result.

Barbiturates — the goofballs — may make a person appear drunk, but with no odor of alcohol on his breath. With a small amount, he may feel more relaxed, sociable, and good-humored. Larger doses can cause thick speech, clumsy or slowed movements, drowsiness and poor judgment.

The person drugged on heroin and other narcotics usually appears sleepy and lethargic, or even very intoxicated. Pupils of the eye may be constricted, not responding to light.

Finding hypodermic needles and other equipment on his person, or hidden away, is of course a give-away. The regular heroin user likely wears long sleeves even on hot days to hide needle marks on his arms.

Heroin is rarely used on college campuses, says Dr. Kenneth Keniston, Yale psychologist. It and other "hard" narcotics are the least of the drug use problem among students and young people, he says, and are little cause for parents to fear their children are becoming junkies or addicts.

Except in the instance of needle marks on the arms, none of the signs or symptoms described above are sure-fire clues someone is taking drugs.

Experts warn you should not jump to conclusions because you detect or think your detect any of these symptoms.

Moreover, they strongly caution parents and teachers that snooping around, sniffing a child's clothes, inspecting his eyes and breath, and otherwise policing him or accusing him in obvious pursuit of "evidence" can boomerang badly.

This kind of playing policeman by parents, out of their anxiety, could well lead to a deeper gulf between parent and child — or outright war.

Providing one perspective, Dr. Farnsworth declares that "the present generation of young people in our schools and colleges are the best informed, the most intelligent, and the most idealistic of any we have ever had in this country."

Today's young people "are more moral than their elders, 90 per cent of them," he adds. "The fringe is destructive because it becomes fanatic, and can contaminate the rest."

Stereo Is Stolen

Esther B. Bullard of 77 Wolfe Grade, Kentfield, reported to the sheriff's department that while she was visiting her hospitalized son Wednesday someone stole a stereo and portable television set from her home, officers said today.

Drug Booking Made On An Old Warrant

David Roger Harris, 21, former Lagunitas resident now living in San Francisco, sought for over a year by officials after being indicted on drug sales charges, yesterday was picked up on an old traffic warrant.

Harris, who was turned over to Marin officials by Sonoma County authorities, was booked into Marin County Jail with bail set at $5,000 on the drug charges and $161 on the traffic charges.

Harris, who was among persons indicted by the Marin County Grand Jury last February after a countywide narcitocs roundup, was to be arraigned today by Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Superior Court.

The outstanding warrant for marijuana sales came to light yesterday when a woman came into the county clerk's office to ask which court Harris was to appear in. A clerk, checking the name, found that Harris was also wanted by Superior Court.

Word was sent to Municipal Court, where Harris was being araigned on a year-old charge of driving at night without lights and giving a false name and identification to officers.

He is charged with selling marijuana to agents of the Marin Drug Abuse Bureau at his Lagunitas home on Dec. 1 and Dec. 8, 1967.

Harris is the son of Ross Police Chief John F. Harris, who said he has not seen the youth for some time.

Dredge Pact Of $23,368 Is Signed

A supplementary contract for $23,368 for additional dredging was signed last night by the Bel Marin Keys Community Services District board and Hydraulic Dredge of Oakland, according to secretary Betty Zoeller.

Of this, the distict will pay $3,000 and the lending firms the balance, she said.

The district will also pay Jack D. Kinney $500 for use of the new spoils site plus engineering costs estimated at between $300 and $400, she said.

The origninal contract of $53,775 for dedging was awarded last Nov. 14, but the dredging company found much more silt than originally anticipated, so negotiations for removal of the additional silt have been going on since, she said.

The dredging should be completed in approximately three weeks, according to Mrs. Zoeller.

The board will investigate a possible dog leash law for the district to keep dogs from chasing people on bicycles, she said. This will mean going to both the county counsel and the Marin County Humane Society for advise, she said.

Spaghetti House To Reopen Under Original Ownership

Look for a reopening of the former Bellucci's Spaghetti House, across the highway from Hamilton Air Force Base, Ignacio, on March 27.

David Bellucci, who owns the Skylark Motel where the restaurant is located, has been running Adobe Creek Lodge and its extensive 100-acre operation in Los Altos since 1961 and has had the Ignacio restaurant leased out all these years.

You may recall that Chris and Lavonne Baseheart, now at the Plaza Restaurant and Cocktail Lounge at Pacheco Shopping Center, operated the Skylark Cocktail Lounge previously.

Dave has redecorated the place from top to bottom and carpeted it from wall to wall, including even the restrooms. He has formed a partnership with Charles and Dina West of Sausalito and they will manage it. For a time anyway, Dave expects to spend two or three days a week at the restaurant himself.

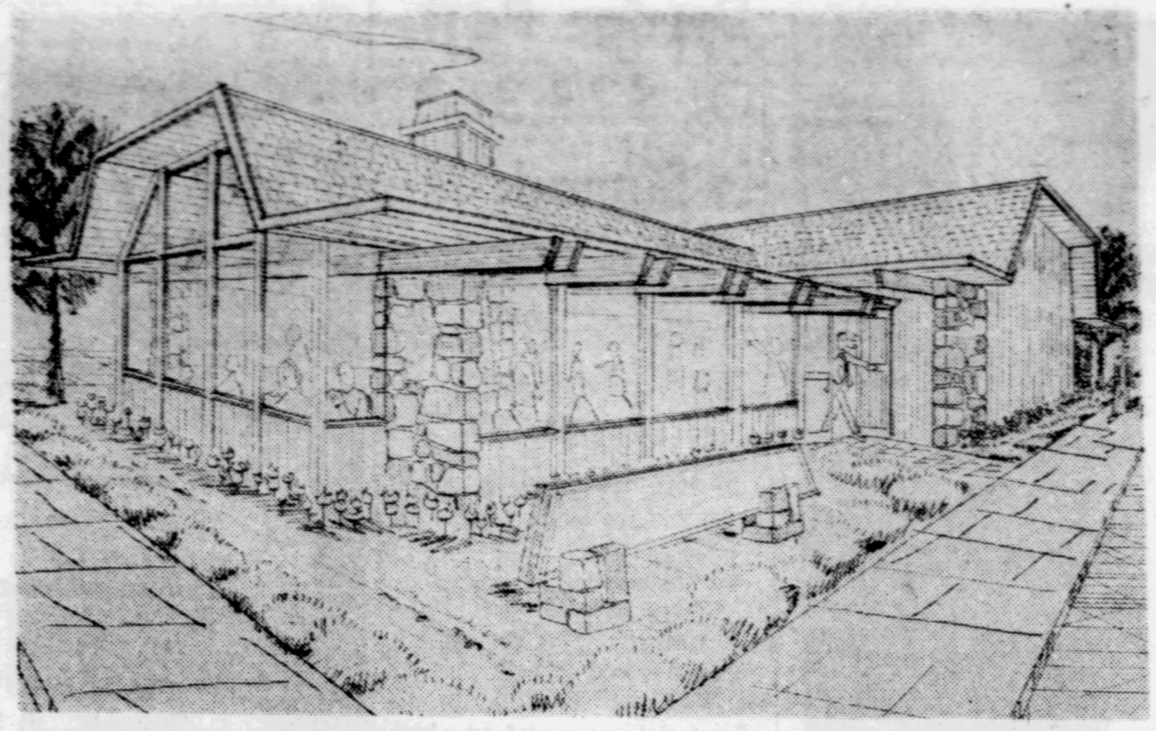
Planned is the type of menu he used to serve: Italian spaghetti dinners at a low price. I'm told the complete dinner will be $1.95 for adults and $1 for children. And there will be a good list of imported and California wines and beers. There is also a banquet room which will seat up to 80 persons.

Lunches will be served Mondays through Fridays. Dinners will be served nightly except Wednesdays to about 9 p.m. Sunday hours will be from noon.

A NEW DRIVE-IN RESTAURANT will open in San Rafael in June at 462 Third Street. It will be called Mr. T's.

This will be located on the former Marin County Humane Society property, where ground has been broken for a 2,000-square-foot building by contractor Charles Jones, according to plans drawn up by Sausalito architect Donald Keith Olsen.

Mr. T's will be operated by Frank and Peter Tarantino and Caesar Taverna, who already have The T's in Northgate Shopping Center. There will be self-service inside, where there is seating for about 65 persons, much of it around a large fireplace. Outside there will be car-hop service and off-street parking for about 25 cars.



NEW DRIVE-IN FOR SAN RAFAEL — Ground has been broken at the former Marin County Humane Society property on Third Street for Mr. T's, scheduled to open in June. This drawing was prepared by architect Donald Keith Olsen.

THE KING AND I, 42 Red Hill Avenue, San Anselmo (on the Miracle Mile), which has been closed recently due to the death of the former owner, has been reopened under new proprietors.

Kimmo Durand of Novato and Arthur Pla of San Rafael are the new principals. They are continuing the former type of operation, hamburgers and ice cream. Kimmo was with Trader Vic for more than seven years. Art has been a restaurant manager in San Francisco.

Hours are from 10 am.. to 10 p.m. seven days a week. During the summer an additional hour will be added at each end of this schedule.

IN SAUSALITO, Tom Siddle has added prime rib of beef to the menu at the Vicarage, 291 Bridgeway. This is the much redecorated sequel to the Cat 'n' Fiddle, done over like an elaborate English pub.

MONDAY will be St. Patrick's Day and Jim McKee, being the loyal Irishman he is, will observe the occasion properly at his Lincoln Avenue hofbrau with plates of corned beef and cabbage. There will be music and good listening to the old songs o' Erin. Tab is $1.25 for all you can eat at both lunch and dinner.

PIER 15, San Rafael, will observe St. Patrick's Day tomorrow night so far as its menu is concerned. Featured, naturally, will be corned beef and cabbage among other things.

AND THE SAME MENU SPECIALTIES will be served both at lunch and dinner Monday by Franchini's Chateau. True, this place has no Irish name to go with it, but its corned beef is lean and flavorsome.

There are some who do not realize Franchini's is open seven days a week — from Mondays, when many restaurants are closed, to Sundays, when a morning brunch is served in addition to the regular Sunday dinner.

RYSTTAFEL is a new Dutch-Indonesian dish now being offered at L'Europe on the San Rafael Miracle Mile Wednesday and Thursday nights only. But it will have to be ordered by phone in advance. Frits Verburg says the recipe is too involved to prepare on short notice.

Basically it's rice surrounded by about 10 different other dishes — fish, vegetables, stuffed peppers, shrimp, brochette of beef and some other items, all highly seasoned. Tab is $9.50 for two. It's a rare spread and should interest those looking for something new.

CORRECTION: Pierre Bitterer of Santa Venetia is not chef at the Mark Hopkins Hotel in San Francisco, as related here last week. He is manager and maitre d' of the Nob Hill Restaurant at the Mark Hopkins. Versatile chap, isn't he?

HAVING OPENED one Jack-in-the-Box drive-in restaurant in San Anselmo, Foodmaker, Inc. (a subsidiary of Ralston Purina Co.) is now planning on another franchised establishment in Novato.

FRED CHERRY has sold out more than half his space for his first California Night on Thursday, March 27. First vintner guest is Louis Martini. Robert Mondavi, Steve Mirassou and Mike Elwood are some of the winemakers scheduled for later weeks at the Cafe Bon Vin, San Anselmo.

THERE ARE ABOUT as many theories on the origin of the martini as there are favorite ways of mixing this popular cocktail. Probably each section of the country has its own story.

In the east, for example, it was said to be invented by one Alejandro Martinez at the old Astor House in Manhatton, though some researchers have traced this one for other theories.

One of the most-repeated legends on the West Coast is that it was created by a San Francisco bartender, Jerry Thomas, back in the 1860s.

According to Robert O'Brien, author of "This Is San Francisco," Thomas also gave the world the Tom and Jerry and the Blue Blazer, probably concocted at the old Occidental Hotel.

O'Brien speculated that the original drink started out with gin and bitters, a touch of maraschino for color and an inspirational jigger of dry vermouth. And it was probably called the Martinez, after its first imbiber who very likely had stood at the bar and called for "something different."

And he speculated further that the maraschino was later abandoned as superfluous. Also that after three or four of these drinks the final "Z" in Martinez would get very much in the way — so the name was corrupted to Martini.

If you take it for granted that the Russians invented vodka, there are several other eastern European nations to dispute that claim vociferously.

And the "sour," that old reliable, apparently was a popular tipple as a rum sour in Puerto Rico long before it was "invented" either in London or Kentucky.

Headlands Road Job Bids All Rejected

Bids for construction of a road and parking area at Marin Headlands State Park, north of the Golden Gate Bridge, have been rejected and the project is being revised, state park officials reported.

Low bidder on the project to pave a dirt road from Conselman Road to Kirby Cove and provide a parking lot above the beach was by W. K. McLellan Co. of San Anselmo for $19,981.10, about $3,000 under the estimate.

African Living Bill Introduced

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Negro congressman has proposed that the United States offer black Americans the chance to settle permanently in Africa through government financing —if they are willing to give up their citizenship.

Rep. Robert Nix, a Philadelphia Democrat, introduced the bill yesterday on behalf of constituents," according to an aide who added, "The congressman personally disagrees with the purpose of it."

Nix's bill would have the United States buy land for each immigrant, provide free transportation, a house, health benefits and $7,000 a year until permanently settled.

Marin City Sets 'Soul Session'

The Marin City Council last night called a town meeting — "soul session" — for April 10 to air community concerns.

The "soul session" tag was placed by Councilman Ronald Foster and the members enthusiastically endorsed it.

Emphasis at the town meeting, which will begin at 8 p.m. in the Manzanita Community Center, will be on Marin City establishing its own police force and on a greater voice in education.

"We have to encourage parents to go up and find out what's happening," Councilman Collie Gaines said. "We have to take a more active part in education."

Councilman Margaret Beauchamp suggested the start of community newspaper in Marin City.

The council decided representatives of all community groups should be invited to the meeting as a means of determining whether they are being effective.

A representative of Plan of Action for Challenging Times, the San Francisco group which is advising the council on community planning, was unable to attend last night's council meeting as scheduled, but will be present at the town meeting.

In other business, the council urged Marin City residents to appear before the Marin County Board of Supervisors Tuesday when the board hears the council's request for $25,000 in funds to accompany a $50,000 planning grant sought from the federal government.

The council, with six of its nine members present, also endorsed a number of improvements proposed in the public housing in Marin City.

Three Hurt In Auto Collision

Three women received minor injuries yesterday when two cars collided avoiding a stalled car on Waldo Grade, the California Highway Patrol said.

Shari L. Sage, 22, of St. Helena, was treated at Marin General Hospital for multiple bruises. Pamela J. Smith, 22, of Calle del Occidente, Stinson Beach, was treated for multiple bruises and her passenger, Christine Nelson, 21, of Stinson Beach was treated for multiple scrapes and bruises.

The highway patrol said the accident occurred at 10 p.m. when a car driven by Gerald W. Conner, 30, of 201 Bagby Hall, Golden Gate Baptist Seminary, Strawberry, ran out of gas approaching the Waldo tunnel. When Miss Smith swerved to avoid Conner's car, her car was hit by Miss Sage's car and overturned.

'Oakland 7' Defense Calls Witness Halt

OAKLAND (UPI)—The jury in the case of the Oakland Seven has been excused until Monday, when it is expected to begin deliberations.

The defense surprisingly rested its case yesterday without calling any of the defendants to the witness stand.

Charles R. Garry, chief defense counsel, said the defendants, charged with conspiring to have others commit misdemeanors during the 1967 antiwar demonstration at the Oakland Induction Center, wanted to testify but were overruled by their lawyers.

The defense rested its case in the ninth week of the trial after testimony from a Palo Alto High School girl, 18-year-old Susan Garrett.

Miss Garrett said she and her group at the demonstration came on their own and received no instructions from the defendants.

Superior Court Judge George W. Phillips is considering motions by prosecutor Lowell Jensen, who is seeking to have certain testimony by defense witnesses stricken because the defendants could not be questioned about it.

Where the bluefin tuna fish spawn is a mystery. In mid-May they move in schools along the Atlantic Coast to Nova Scotia, where they stay until October. From that time on they seem to disappear until the next May when they reappear off the Bahamas.

Bay Transport Fiscal Proposals Under Fire

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

BERKELEY — The Bay Area Transportation Study Commission's draft report on how to finance transportation came under strong fire yesterday by advocates of public transit.

The report, drafted last month by the commission's study group on finance, "doesn't even recognize the problem" of financing public transit, charged Commissioner John C. Beckett of Palo Alto.

Citing his county's need for transportation systems other than the freeways provided by the "inflexibility of the state highway program," he said "Santa Clara County's message apparently hasn't gotten through."

The report firmly rejected any diversion of highway funds to public transit.

The report, which instead proposed a new property tax to finance public transit, thus only glossed over the problem, said Beckett, a former resident of Kent Woodlands.

Bay Area citizens should have a chance to use highway funds for public transit, argued Commissioner William J. Bettencourt, a director of the Alameda-Contra Costa Transit District. Public transit is "essential," he insisted, "and must be made a viable alternative to the automobile."

Mill Valley Mayor Dean N. Meyer, representing the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District on BATSC, noted that the bridge board was on record favoring an excise tax on gasoline to finance public transit. The commission's report, he said, should include this sort of proposal.

Also urging amendment of the report to include new sources of revenue for transit were Seymour Kashin, manager of the Marin County Transit District, and John Lilly, general manager of the West Bay Rapid Transit District.

The commissioners, meeting in the Hotel Claremont, agreed the report needed more study, and set a special meeting to adopt it on March 26. The meeting, at 9:45 a.m., also will be at the hotel.

Chairman Nils Eklund, who argued unsuccessfully for a vote yesterday on the report, said the delay will make it "extremely difficult" to file the commission's final report with the Legislature by the first week of April, as required by the law that set up the commission.

The only substantial changes yesterday in the report, detailed by the Independent-Journal on March 6, were to delete its statement that a second deck on the Golden Gate Bridge was "desperately needed" and to add a statement that the state has failed to increase highway taxes to meet increasing demands for highways.

The chairman of the study group, James A. Folger of San Francisco, said the reference to a second deck was cut "because some felt it was not appropriate in a financial report."

The report also recommended special gas and vehicle taxes in the Bay Area to improve highways.

Cheerful sprigs of holly attracted man long before the first Christmas, the National Geographic Society says. The ancient Greeks distributed the shrub to bring luck. Superstitious Romans planted holly to protect their property from lightning.

Core Renewal Issue Balks Petaluma Bonds Decision

The relocation of Petaluma Boulevard North proved to be the stumbling block yesterday afternoon as the Petaluma City Council considered projects to be included on a bond issue that may be put before the voters June 10.

Vice Mayor Kenneth J. Colin and Councilman Phillip L. Joerger disagreed with the five other council members who wanted $1.5 million included for the project to widen or relocate Petaluma Boulevard from D Street to Washington Street.

Speaking of the project as part of the core area plan to revitalize the business district, Colin said, "$1.5 million is not nearly enough to do the job right —we'll need something more like $3 or $4 million."

Joerger agreed that the proposed funds would only serve to purchase and demolish buildings to make way for future street work. "Under this plan we'd only have a flat block," he said. "That would be detrimental to the business district. It might be another five to 10 years before we'd have enough money to go any further — plus we'd be lowering our assessed valuation by demolishing the buildings."

Both Mayor Helen Putnam and Councilman Robert S. Lipman argued that the downtown redevelopment project should start somewhere. "The council must provide the leadership in getting the project going," Lipam said. "Investors are looking to see how Petaluma Boulevard will go before they put any money into the city."

"We don't need to finance a complete project," he said. "The area will just get worse in the meantime."

The council did agree, however, on several other street projects. They included $600,000 for a Highway 101 overpass on Caulfield Lane and the widening of the lane through to Hopper Street. Councilmen David W. Brainerd and Albert L. Battaglia recommended continuing the project through D Street to Petaluma Boulevard.

Also agreed on was the reconstruction of South McDowell Boulevard from McNeil Avenue to Sarkesian Drive for $300,000 and a pedestrian crossing at the Washington Street overpass for $60,000.

Drawing general approval was a $230,000 plan for the fire and police departments: $120,000 for a new fire station on South McDowell Boulevard, a $60,000 addition to headquarters station; and a $50,000 addition to the police station. Councilman John W. Cavanagh Jr. also suggested that $50,000 might be included for property acquisition for the future development of a larger civic center.

A request for $100,000 for parks drew support from all except Vice Mayor Colin. The plan would allot $50,000 for the development of Lucchesi Park and another $50,000 for acquisition of new park sites.

Several possible resolutions for the bond issue will be presented at the council meeting at 7:30 p.m. Monday. The measures must be approved by a 5 to 2 council vote to be included on the ballot.

Bay Pilot Will Face Charges

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Coast Guard said it would file charges today against bay pilot F. T. Hawkesworth in connection with the ramming of a San Francisco pier by an ammunition ship March 5.

Coast Guard Cmdr. Edward hearing on the accident yesterday and said Hawkesworth, 64, will be charged with improperly navigating his vessel. If the accusation is upheld at a hearing Tuesday, he could have his license suspended or revoked.

The testimony indicated the loaded ammunition ship, American Producer, swerved into Pier 27 to avoid striking the freighter M. M. Dant, piloted by Hawkesworth. The ammunition ship was bound for Vietnam.

Bond Vote Fails; Teachers Absent

SALINAS (AP) — Half the 112 teachers in the North Monterey Elementary School District reported themselves sick yesterday — two days after a tax override was voted down.

In addition, the California Teachers Association chapter voted to ask for the imposition of sanctions, meaning other teachers would be discouraged from accepting jobs in the district. The CTA says it represents 98 of the teachers.

Voters turned down a proposal for a 79-cent override on the present tax—$2.17 per $100 assessed valuation on property.

FEATURED THIS SATURDAY

After a soggy winter that kept them indoors, Marin gardeners are looking forward to spring with a special anticipation. To help them get off on the right foot, tomorrow's Independent-Journal Marin Magazine is the annual special spring gardening issue. You will find its pages—all 42 of them—crammed with information on plantings and with helpful landscaping suggestions. It's a must for every "green thumber."

Read any bad books lately? In these busy times, reading is at best limited. It is more than ever important, then, that the reader exercise judgment in the selection of his books. One good way to go about doing this is to read the book review pages of the Marin Magazine carefully. The I-J reviewers once again tomorrow will report to you concisely and cogently on some of the more important books of the new spring season.

ALMANAC

Today is Friday, March 14, the 73rd day of 1969 with 292 to follow.

The moon is between its last quarter and new phase. The morning stars are Mercury, Mars and Jupiter. The evening stars are Venus and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1743 the first town meeting in America was held in Boston.

In 1812 the U.S. government authorized the issue of the first war bonds, floated to buy military equipment for use against the British in the War of 1812.

In 1947 military and naval bases in the Philippines were leased by the United States for 99 years.

In 1964 a Dallas jury found Jack Ruby guilt of killing presidential assassin Lee Harvey Oswald. Ruby was sentenced to death but the conviction was overturned. He was awaiting a second trial when he died in January, 1967.

A thought for the day: President Harry Truman said, "The responsibility of the great state is to serve and not to dominate the world."

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

A Redouble Is Foolish Action If The Opponent As Easy Out

It doesn't always pay to tell an opponent he has made a mistake. If he believes you, he may still have time to correct his error. Then all you will have for your trouble is a reputation for philanthropy; and this will not get you very far at the bridge table.

GOOD DOUBLE

West has a reasonable double of four spades. He expected to take two spades and a heart in his own hand, together with whatever East had for his jump to four hearts. North thought he had an even more reasonable redouble since he knew something that West didn't know: that South would lose no heart tricks.

As it happens, knowing that the doubler has made a mistake is only one of two conditions you need for a redouble The second condition is that you must be in a position to punish the opponents severely if they try to rescue themselves.

East believed the redouble and knew that he had woefully overstated his high-card strength when he jumped to four hearts. Since no terrible disaster could befall him at five hearts East ran to that contract, grateful to North for the warning.

POOR CHOICE

Now North had a poor choice. If he doubled five hearts he could not expect to collect much. (Only 200 points in fact.) If North went on to five spades, his partner might be too high.

North did actually go on, and South was indeed too high. South lost two trumps and a club for a penalty of 100 points.

GREED ACT

North's redouble was greedy. If he passed the double, there was a fair chance that East likewise would pass. South would score 790 points instead of losing 100 points. Even a philanthropist can't afford to throw away 890 points too often.

♣ Q J 10.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid one heart.

The only alternative is to bid one no-trump, but this is unattractive because the diamonds are too weak and the hearts are too strong.

Home Science Is A Popular Class

NEW DELHI (AP) — Many Indian girls study home science in colleges as a passport to early marriage, Education Minister Triguna Sen complained to a gathering of women students.

FUN AND ELEGANCE OF TABLE SETTING

Start Planning Hats For The Primrose Tea

By MOLLY MARIN

Point Reyes Community Center will be transformed into an indoor garden March 27 for the annual Primrose Tea, sponsored by the Inverness Garden Club.

The building in which the tea will be held was once the round house for the now defunct railroad. The tea is also "steeped" in tradition, having been held in various West Marin locations for more than 30 years.

From 1 to 4:30 p.m. the public is invited to the indoor garden, far removed from the soot, the huffing and puffing of steam engines and the grime of a railroad yard.

Members of the garden club traditionally wear hats decorated with flowers from their gardens. Primrose plants and homemade breads will be offered for sale.

Mrs. William H. Thomson is president of the Inverness Garden Club. Chairman of the tea is Mrs. Shirley Morgan, and Mrs. Albert Kurtz is decorations chairmen.

SEVERAL PARTIES will be given by Sausalito Women's Club members in connection with Thursday's annual founders' day luncheon and High Jinks.

Mrs. Carl Spring will be hostess at a party at her home in Sausalito, and Mrs. Leslie Cowen will have a sherry party for 30 friends at her apartment in Sausalito preceding the luncheon.

Following the Jinks Mrs. Leonard Blakely will have a party at her home in Sausalito.

Treated Fairly, Says Nurse About Capture By Viet Cong

By COLIN LAWSON
London Express

FRANKFURT, West Germany — West German Red Cross nurse Renate Kuhnen Wednesday came down the steps of the jet airliner which brought her to Frankfurt after more than a year as a prisoner of the Viet Cong.

She stood in the pouring rain and exclaimed: "It's wonderful to be home again."

Miss Kuhnen was taken prisoner while working in a South Vietnam hospital as a volunteer Red Cross nurse. She tended all types of patients including wounded soldiers and civilians.

She was freed by the Viet Cong at exactly the same place where she was dragged into the jungle by the Viet Cong — the village of Kontum.

She described her treatment as "absolutely fair and decent after the Viet Cong established that I was not working for the Americans. This conclusion they reached within a few hours."

She also told of how she spent her time in captivity.

"At no time did I work for the Viet Cong medical people. I spent my time knitting articles of clothing which I assumed were destined for the Viet Cong, and also in working in the rice fields.

"Never was I allowed to function as a hospital nurse.

"I told the Viet Cong that I was neither a doctor nor an American. This changed their attitude toward me and thereafter I was well looked after. I ate just what the others did in the small hamlet where I was kept — bowls of rice and occasionally fruit and sometimes a chicken.

"The Viet Cong told me last August I was soon to be freed. But something went wrong and my release was held up. Every month I was told I would be freed but not until the end of February did this become really apparent."

On her way back to freedom she marched for several days accompanied by Viet Cong fighters.

"We covered more than 14 miles a day through the jungle for several days before reaching Kontum," she said. "I was told I could be picked up in the jungle by an American helicopter if I wished. This would have been arranged in agreement with the Viet Cong. But I refused and preferred to plod back the same way I had been forced to march into captivity."

On the march back the party went through several villages where the inhabitants would kill a chicken and also provide eggs.

She refused to discuss the village where she was held, but agreed it appeared to be a base for Viet Cong jungle fighters.

"All I want to do now is rest. I am in good health but still a bit nervous," she said.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Childrens' Lives May Be Ruined By Raging Battle Of Parents

DEAR HELEN:

Yes, it works both ways. That "Frustrated Husband" whose wife "loves for pay," may be the type who has never outgrown bachelor days when he had to pay for love.

Consider my husband. He gives me a weekly allowance for food only. Any additional requests for clothing, cosmetics, education, recreation, etc. when granted, must be repaid with additional bedroom usage or other assaults or insults. The consistency of his reaction is unmistakable — this for that. If I won't play along, he gets his money's worth by belittling me, making me feel like a frigid worm.

The battle rages at our house, and I hang on because we have two children to raise. Little does my husband realize, as he beats me down, that the minute our daughters are grown and gone, I'll be gone on the next bus out of town. (I can save bus fare out of my food allowance!)

Wish me luck! — WIFE, NEE WORM

DEAR WIFE:

I wish you better sense, worm.

A woman who hangs on to a miserable marriage "for the sake of her children" may mess up their lives as well as her own.

If marriage counseling can't unwarp your husband and de-ice you, then you'd better buy that bus ticket now.

But insist on professional help first! — HELEN.

DEAR HELEN:

This is to "Doubtful Thomas" who said fathers didn't tan their daughters' bottoms in his day. He should speak for himself, but not for the rest of us!

My father as did most fathers of his day, used a hazel switch on my bare skin — for the same transgressions he let the boys get away with. You see, he wanted us to be "ladies," but felt "boys would be boys."

There wasn't a day between the time I learned to walk and the day I reached eighth grade that I didn't get at least one whipping. One-tenth of them would have gotten the message through, but this was the rule of the times. Our parents thought they were doing right.

However, spankings stopped before I was 12. My mother used to say, "If you haven't taught your children respect for you and your judgment by age 13, you'd better give up for you won't do anything but build resentment after that."

Some of today's teen-agers need a good whacking, but most of their actions can be traced to lack of wise discipline in their early years. — MRS. B. N.

DEAR MRS. N:

The emphasis is on "wise." Even in this permissive age, too many parents substitute heavy-handed discipline for real understanding because it's easier to boss than listen. — HELEN.

DEAR HELEN:

How dare you champion sex education in schools? It's all part of a giant Communist conspiracy! Now they're showing films on drugs and liquor. This only incites kids to try them. Why, they're even giving out information on venereal diseases! How deprived can a nation get? — B. J.

DEAR B:

You can't solve problems by pretending they don't exist .Wise sex education — and I'm convinced most school programs are as well-planned as they are unsensational — is long overdue. When young people know the facts, they are much more able to make mature decisions, and this goes for drugs, liquor, tobacco, as well as sex. It's the secret "unknown" which fascinates. — HELEN.

Mrs. Donald Gregory Heads Terra Linda Guild 3 Of Sunny Hills

Chosen to head Terra Linda Guild 3 of Sunny Hills is Mrs. Donald Gregory of San Rafael. During her three years as a member of the guild, Ann Gregory has held offices of Bargain Box chairman and secretary.

The guild members aid the Sunny Hills home by assisting at the Bargain Box. Plans for this coming year include a membership drive and sale of guild products at the annual Grape Festival in October. Items sold include pinatas and party props.

As to who may join the group, Mrs. Gregory stated any woman in the area interested in helping carry out the work of the guild is welcome.

The new president is the wife of a communications engineer and is active in the Terra Linda Cooperative Nursery School where she is also president. She has lived in Marin the past five and one-half years and is the mother of two children, Linda, who is six, and Mitchell, four.

MRS. DONALD GREGORY

Ann Gregory lists her interests as stamp collecting, gardening, sewing and reading. Her pastimes would be the same if time would allow.

"Maybe someday when Sunny Hills and Nursery School obligations do not take so much of my time," she said. Her largest measure of enjoyment comes from working with people and accomplishing a worthwhile goal, she added.

Assisting the president will be Mmes. Wes Bidgood, vice president; Duncan Davidson, treasurer; John Kostecki, secretary; Raymond Waterbury, publicity; and William S. Miles, hospitality.

Girls Are Mostly Fat

TORONTO (AP) — A Minnesota doctor says girls are not made of sugar and spice—they're made mostly of fat.

Dr. W. N. Tauxe, associate professor of pathology at the University of Minnesota graduate school, told a seminar on nuclear medicine Wednesday that even girls like Twiggy are composed largely of fat.

He said he conducted tests at the Mayo Clinic that showed up to age 12, boys and girls have almost identical amounts of fat. But two years later boys increased their muscle mass and reduced the amount of fat, while girls did the opposite.

But, he added, some of that female fat is called "curves."

Astronauts Fly Home In Slower Vehicles

ABOARD THE USS GUADALACANAL (AP) — The Apollo 9 astronauts, flying in three separate helicopters, took off from the deck of this carrier today on the first leg of a trip which ends with family reunions at Ellington Air Force Base near Houston.

The crewmen, Air Force Cols. James A. McDivitt and David R. Scott and civilian Russel L. Schweickart, are flying first to Eleuthera Auxiliary Air Force Base in the Bahamas.

The spacemen will transfer to a space agency airplane for a 60-minute flight to a refueling stop at Cape Kennedy. They'll leave there half an hour later and are expected at Ellington about 4 p.m. PST.

The space trio rode their Apollo command module to a pinpoint landing yesterday, splashing into a calm Atlantic 300 miles north of Puerto Rico within view of television cameras aboard this ship.

After more than six hours of medical tests a flight surgeon said they were in very good condition with no significant medical problems.

He said none of the three suffered sea sickness after the splashdown.

They walked to their heat-scarred spacecraft on the carrier deck and McDivitt said affectionately, "Good old Gumdrop," referring to the code name used for the module during the flight.

McDivitt, Scott and Schweickart then visited through a window with three men locked away in a test mobile quarantine facility (MQF), a trailer-like shelter that will be used to isolate astronauts returning from the moon.

The astronauts were honored guests at a dinner of steak and baker potatoes in the ship's officers mess.

Air Force Lt. Gen. Samuel C. Phillips said the success of Apollo 9 left open the slight possibility that the Apollo 10 flight will land on the moon.

Gen. Phillips said a decision on that would be announced March 24.

Present plans call for Apollo 10, carrying a lunar module, to fly to an orbit around the moon, spend 63 hours circling the lunar surface and then return to earth.

The flight will include separation of the lunar module from the command module, flight to within 10 miles of the moon's surface and a lunar orbit rendezvous.

The first possible launch date for Apollo 10 is May 17.

The actual lunar landing is scheduled to be made by Apollo 11, now set for a July launch.

New Tomales High Soon To Be Ready

Construction on the new Tomales high school is nearing the final stages, Supt. Anthony Matulich last night reported to the Tomales Union High School District board of trustees.

The board authorized moving the chain link fence around the treatment ponds from the top to the bottom of the bank, adding another 107 feet of fence, Matulich said. The vote was 4-0 with Trustee N. Louise Passalacqua absent.

The board authorized Matulich to get estimated on the cost of landscaping around the ponds, he said.

Matulich was also authorized to start purchasing lockers, desks, laboratory equipment and other items for the new school which take the longest time for delivery, he said.

The school is expected to be completed in May but will not be occupied until September, he said.

The Tomales High School District board also:

APPLICATION — Approved a $7,100 application for matching funds to the federal government under the National Defense Education Act for audiovisual equipment for the new high school.

TRANSFER — Authorized the transfer of $3,794 from the undistributed reserves to the instruction and maintenance budgets.

SHOP — Heard a report from shop instructor Christopher Bratt that the shop department was developing plans for two-bedroom houses which the shop students could construct. The board authorized going ahead with the construction of the houses after the shop gets cost estimates from contractors.

RESIGNATION — Accepted the resignation for the end of the school year from Mrs. Diane Alexander, reading teacher.

Roads' Signs To Be Modified

The state Division of Highways said today it will modify roadway striping and signs and restrict parking along Routes 37 and 121 near the Sears Point International Raceway in Sonoma County to relieve congestion at the two highways' intersections during racing events.

The work will be done before the next event scheduled at the new track March 29-30, the district said.

The district also said it has approved an application from Sears Point Properties, Inc., to construct a third lane on Route 121 to handle traffic into the raceway.

The division currently has a plan under design to bring both highways in the Sears Point vicinity to full freeway standards.

Trial Opens In Kidnap, Theft Case

A jury trial opened yesterday in Marin Superior Court for Jerry Stanley Borst, 22, of Novato, accused of kidnaping, raping and robbing a Novato housewife, with the victim tearfully recounting her experience.

The 28-year-old woman told a jury of seven women and five men how she was abducted at knife point with her two small sons from a Novato shopping center parking lot about 5 in the afternoon on July 9, 1968.

The victim was scheduled to continue her testimony today.

Borst, who earlier had said he wanted to be his own attorney, is now reporesented by Albert Rizzo of Sonoma County.

The jury had been seated in the case Jan. 16, but Borst said he no longer wanted the public defender to handle his case. Continuances were granted for him to hire a lawyer, then he wanted to be his own attorney and finally he has hired Rizzo.

Five-Year-Old Hurt By Auto

Five-year-old Sam Lewis of 341 Bay View Avenue, San Rafael, was treated yesterday at Marin General Hospital for a broken collar bone and released after a traffic accident at the corner of Bay View Avenue and D Street.

San Rafael police reported that Peggy P. Hodel of Winding Way, Ross, told them that the boy ran into the side of her car when she was making a left turn on D Street. Mrs. Hodel stopped the car and took the child and witnesses to a doctor, police said.

Youth is Referred To Juvenile Court

Jon W. Mariarty, 18, of Tiburon, charged with petty theft was referred yesterday to Marin Juvenile Court by Judge Peter Allen Smith of Marin Municipal Court.

Moriarty was arrested by Larkspur police Monday night when he and a 17-year-old companion were allegedly found in a car parked at Redwood High School by the owner who said his stereo had been partially dismantled from the car.

Mother, Son Found In Grave

AUBURN (UPI) — The decomposed bodies of a San Mateo woman and her son, who vanished last October, were found yesterday in a four-foot-deep grave near their remote summer cabin.

Placer County Sheriff's deputies said they recovered the remains of Mrs. Betty Nelson, 47, and her son, David, 9, from the grave covered with a piece of plywood piled with rocks and debris.

They refused to say whether criminal charges would be filed against the husband and father of the victims, William E. Nelson, 56, who was found hiding in the attic of the cabin Dec. 3. Since then he has been held at Dewitt State Hospital near here for psychiatric observation.

The discovery came two days after authorities talked to Nelson, an importer-exporter. However, deputies declined to say whether Nelson told them where the bodies were.

Polar Journey Slow, Frigid

LONDON (AP) — Wally Herbert, leader of a four-man British team trying to cross the North Pole from Alaska to Norway, says they are making progress but it's mighty cold.

Herbert radioed yesterday that the expedition, traveling over jagged ice in temperatures down to 50 below, hoped to reach the pole by the end of March. The trip began at Point Barrow, Alaska, a year ago.

Herbert said one member of hte team, Alan Gill, had slipped a disc in a fall and was being carried along strapped to a dog sled.

Warsaw Pact Parley Likely

MOSCOW (AP) — East European informants in Moscow confirmed today that a Warsaw Pact summit meeting is to be held in Budapest next week.

The sources said the meeting would open Monday or Tuesday with Communist party chiefs, premiers and defense ministers of the seven Warsaw Pact countries attending.

There has been no official announcement here or elsewhere of such a meeting.

The Moscow sources said they were unable to confirm reports that a meeting of the East European Economic organization, Comecon, would follow the pact summit.

Jean Murphy To Perform At Dominican

Soprano Jean Murphy will sing Franz Schubert's cycle, "Sie Schone Mullerin," in the second recital of the Young Artists Series presented by Dominican College Music Associates. It will take place at 8 p.m. Thursday in Caleruega Hall on the San Rafael campus.

Miss Murphy will be accompanied by Sister Mary Dominic, O. P., pianist.

She is a graduate of Dominican College, where she also earned her secondary teaching credential in music. She has been a student of Winifred Baker and studies voice with Gertrude Gruenberg at the college and piano with Georg Gruenberg in San Francsico.

She was a student teacher in San Rafael schools and taught one year at St. Hilary's School in Tiburon before returning to Dominican, where she teaches piano and voice to young students in the preparatory division of the music department.

Miss Murphy has been a member of the Dominican College Opera Theater since its inception two years ago and starred as Gretel in last year's production of "Hansel and Gretel."

The final concert in spring series will be presented by the Chamber Music Ensemble directed by Adolph Baller at 8 p.m. in Caleruega Hall on May 6.

Sukarno Seen At A Wedding

JAKARTA (AP) — Former President Sukarno, looking shaky, pale and older, made his first public appearance in six months today to attend the wedding of his daughter. He appeared quite ill.

Sukarno chatted with many of the 75 guests and smiled at old acquaintances. He spent some time with his old associate in the independence struggle, former Vice President Mohammed Hatta, who broke with him years ago. His eyes still flash, but his hands were cold and his grip weak. He is suffering from chronic kidney trouble.

ART REVIEW

Real Understanding In Use Of Pastels

By LAURA DEVENDORF

Pastels have been so ignored that discovering a group of them is always a pleasure, especially if they are as well done as Jean Halpert-Ryden's, being shown through March 26 at Gallery III in Corte Madera's Co-op Center.

Miss Ryden handles the medium with real understanding. Her technique is confident and free, full of quick, slanting lines and smears of high keyed pigment, often worked like glazes over washes of other color.

She respects the medium's soft surfaces and clear colors, applying them to strongly composed open landscapes that can be the essence of more general things such as winter, autumn, high noon or sunset. The most sensuously colored of these combines a darkened figure group and hot, red, rolling hills.

Uusally she only peoples her cityscapes with figures that grow out of abstract layers of color, jumbled and emerging from their backgrounds. Often they are faceless and always they are an integral part of their environment. Two very effective examples are "Waiting Souls," a huddle of figures before bits of buildings and "Kids Against the City," a grayed and gripping knot of soft shapes against grimey layers of color.

Miss Ryden also shows some competent, though less exciting oils and a collage. And further media variety is added by Winifred Madison's batiks and Al Garvey's serigraphs and paintings.

Miss Madison adapts the broken surfaces of batiks to East Indian and Oriental themes. They are especially attractive in an Indian city scene and the very restrained "Trio of Flute Players," with its faceless figures and undyed sections of cloth.

Garvey is showing new additions to his series of elaborate, colorful serigraphs. But his figurative paintings are the real surprise, their anatomical forms spelled out in brash, thick streaks of vivid, wet acrylics.

St. Patrick's Day Parade Is Slated Sunday

There will be a St. Patrick's Day parade Sunday, with prizes for the best entries in the Los Ranchitos and Northgate area Shaun Wiltshire, parade chairman, announced today.

The parade will assemble at 2 p.m. at the Wiltshire Towers, 3725 Redwood Highway and end in the Northgate area.

The route will be from the Wiltshire Towers south on Merrydale Road to North San Pedro Road, then to Ranchitos Road north to Northgate Drive, west on Las Gallinas to Northgate Shopping Center.

Then, through the shopping center to Northgate Drive, south along the drive to Las Gallinas Avenue, and along Las Gallinas past the reviewing stand at the Wells Fargo Bank to the parking area, where the parade will end.

MOTION PICTURE GUIDE

The council's findings are from the California and National Parent-Teacher Association magazines and the Film Report of the Film Estimate Board. More complete reviews may be obtained by calling the San Rafael Library.

FAMILY

"Bible" — Strikingly filmed stories from Genesis. Picture will be interpreted according to involvement, belief and knowledge of viewer.

ADULTS AND TEENS

"Buona Sera, Mrs. Campbell" — For their 20th reunion, three fliers and their families return to an Italian village. Each flier has been paying generous child support to an Italian woman for her illegitimate daughter. Risque comedy.

"Charly" — Poignant dramatization of a fictional case history of first human subject of a new type of brain surgery on a mentally retarded young man. Thought provoking, sensitive performances from the cast.

"Heart is a Lonely Hunter" — A rather sad story about a deaf-mute who in his loneliness touches the lives of many. Compassionate tale is tenderly told and played with rare perception.

"Impossible Years" — College girl is arrested in a student demonstration. Both parents and teenage daughter deserve a better image than this film projects.

"Lady in Cement" — Private eye Tony Rome again copes with murder. Crime is treated as comedy, language is gutter foul, action is brutal with lots of violence.

"Seventh Seal" — A Swedish knight in the time of the Crusades searches sadly for the meaning of life. Unusual thoughtful allegory.

BORDERLINE

ADULTS ONLY

"Boston Strangler" — Action centers around frustrating efforts of police to catch a sexual psycopath. Thirteen are strangled before he is caught.

"Candy" — A 17-year-old girl wanders through a series of sexual adventures with the strangest assortment of characters ever presented on the screen. Massively dull, ugly pornography.

"Guide for a Married Man" — Crude sex farce holds marriage up to ridicule. Philandering married men and women who cheat on their spouses.

"I Love You, Alice B. Toklas" — This satire makes free love and drugs seem the life of happiness.

"Joanna" — An amoral girl goes from one affair to another with any man that comes along until she falls in love with a black man. Emphasis on nudity and frank love scenes. Impressive acting.

"Monika" — A sexually experienced girl and a young boy spend an idyllic summer living and loving joyously until she finds herself pregnant, bored and afraid.

Drake Freshman Class Seeking Fund Projects

Members of Sir Francis Drake High School's freshman class are offering their services for yard and housework to raise money for the class treasury.

The students haven't set a firm price for their services. "We will be paid according to the nature of the job, how long it takes to do it, and how hard it is to do," said class president Dennis Gallagher, chairman of the project.

"We prefer to work in groups of four or more," Gallagher added, "and we guarantee a good job."

Persons interested in acquiring the services of the freshman class may call Thomas E. McEntee, dean of student activities, at Drake High or Dennis Gallagher of 57 Karl Avenue, San Anselmo, son of Dr. Donald M. Gallagher, after 6 p.m.

Brazil's Political Struggle Still On

Three federal lawmakers and 91 members of state legislatures were on the new purge list issued after a meeting of the military-dominated government's national security council. The legislators were accused of subversion.

Costa e Silva assumed extraordinary powers after Congress refused to lift the immunity of a congressman the military wanted to put on trial. The president has closed down congress, suspended constitutional rights, recessed five state legislatures, ousted three supreme court justices, and stripped scores of persons of their political rights.

BLASTING FOR NEW TURNOFF

A layer of smoke rises from hill off Highway 101 as workmen blast big rocks impeding progress of construction of new Civic Center turnoff. Traffic was halted (left) at 3 p.m. yesterday in both lanes of the freeway during the blasting. Workmen expect to move 80,000 cubic yards of dirt for this interchange project, expected to be completed late this year. (Independent-Journal photo by Bob Hax)

'FINAL PHASE FOR 12 YEARS'

Sausalitans Ask Waterfront Action

By FRANK FARRARA

Impatient Sausalito residents last night urged city officials to get on with adoption of a central waterfront plan and bring the long studied matter to a conclusion.

They called for action at a town meeting sponsored by the Sausalito Citizens Council at Campbell Hall which attracted more than 100 persons.

One resident asked: "Why has it been necessary to continually make plans and hire people to make plans . . . qithout reaching a conclusion in a reasonable length of time?"

Robert L. Nissen, planning commission chairman, said the planning consultants, William Spangle and Associates, are expected to have the final plan ready soon.

Asked if there were a deadline on completion of the plan, Nissen said the contract with the consultants simply runs until the job is finished.

"As far as the central waterfront plan, we've been in the final phase for 12 years," said William W. Remak of 2 Crecienta Drive.

Residents also called for cleaning up the mess along the waterfront and curtailing development there.

Nissen explained that the central waterfront area is mostly privately owned land "and the city can only go so far in regulating and limiting certain types of uses."

Residents proposed condemnation to preserve the open water area, but City Mgr. George M. Patterson said the cost could run into millions of dollars and the city didn't have the money.

"There is a tremendous undeveloped area in the central waterfront, more than people realize," Patterson said. The idea of the central waterfront plan is to provide as much open water as possible, he said.

During the discussion on planning, Remak said that Marinship has been a mess since 1945. "Half of Europe has been rebuilt and all of Japan and we haven't been able to do a damn thing about Marinship."

There was a brief discussion on parks and recreation with Ruth Sisson of 160 Curry Avenue contending that neighborhood parks aren't being used.

One resident replied that at least the park areas supply open space and trees, even if not used.

There were calls for a bicycle path through the city, one which will enable students to cycle to Tamalpais High School, and Patterson noted that plans are in the making.

One resident asked if there were any plans to construct a swimming pool and Recreation Commissioner Elmo V. Maggiora said no.

While police matters were being discussed residents wanted to know what could be done about lettering and planhandling.

Police Chief James D. Wright explained that there are officers on foot patrol in the downtown area and the city is preparing on ordinance whereby citations will be issued to persons who litter streets and sidewalks.

Panhandlers can't be cited unless they commit the offense in the presence of an officer or the citizen makes a citizens arrest, the chief explained.

Other topics covered during the three-hour meeting were:

LIBRARY — The Northwestern Pacific Railroad Co. Property at Caledonia and B streets is still under consideration for the site of a new library, but because of the high cost of the site would have to be shared with other city buildings, possibly city hall. Librarian Kathleen Worsley asked residents who had any books or newspaper clippings about Sausalito to notify the library because it needs information about the city.

FINANCES — Patterson said that 13 per cent of a Sausalito property owner's total tax bill goes to city government, 22 per cent to Marin County, 19 per cent to the Sausalito School District, 33.1 per cent to the Tamalpais High School District, 8.2 per cent to the Marin Junior College District, 1 per cent to the Marin County Schools Office, and 3.3 per cent to special districts.

BRIDGEWAY WIDENING — Norman Wohlschlaeger, public works director, explained that the project includes a center lane for travel by emergency vehicles, and will include a walk way along the waterfront below street level, with completion scheduled for June 10.

There was brief comment on downtown parking and dog controls but no comment on two other topics listed for discussion, the backyard burning ban to become effective next Jan. 1 and residential lighting.

Arie Slikkerveer, citizens council president, announced early that the meeting was limited to city business, and that school district matters wouldn't be discussed.

The council will sponsor a candidates' night for school board candidates March 31 at Central School, Slikkerveer said.

Woman's Plunge Off Span Seen

A San Diego woman jumped to her death from Golden Gate Bridge last night, the California Highway Patrol reported.

A witness, James E. Berger of Santa Rosa, told the highway patrol he saw a woman stop her southbound car at 7:25 p.m., run to the rail and dive over.

The highway patrol found a car stopped in midspan, lights on and motor running. A purse in the car had identity papers of Cleo Cora Nelson, 35, of San Diego.

A drift marker was thrown from the spot but a Coast Guard search failed to find the body.

County Aide Wins Appeal On Suspension

A Marin County probation officer, who was suppended Feb. 19 because of a felony assult charge stemming from a domestic quarrel, will be reinstated if a medical examination finds him suitable for continued employment.

The Marin County Personnel Commission made that decision on group counselor Byron Conrad Walters, 31, after a hearing last night at the civic center.

On Wednesday, Walters pleaded innocent to a charge of assault with a deadly weapon and faces a preliminary hearing in Berkeley-Albany Municipal Court in Berkeley April 15. He is free on $3,000 bail.

The personnel commissioners, headed by Bella Aaron, said Busher had acted in good faith. However, they noted that Walters "has competently performed his job" and should be reinstated if a medical examination finds him suitable to continue as group counselor.

Walters was hired as group counselor in October 1967. In addition to his work in the probation department, he also attends University of California at Berkeley part-time.

Larkspur Teachers' Pay Plan Attacked

The Larkspur School District board, pledging it will not raise taxes, last night unanimously rejected a "ridiculous" request by the district's teachers for an 18.6 per cent pay raise.

Board president John W. Boyd said today the request by the Larkspur Teachers Association, if granted, would "drive the district bankrupt within two years."

He said such a raise and other benefits asked by the teachers would cost the district nearly $250,000 while projected increases in income for the district next year amounted to only $7,000.

He said the board will not consider raising the present $3.58 tax rate and any teachers pay increases would have to be worked out "within the bounds of the present budget." This year's budget is $1,627,000.

"The entire response of the board was that the whole thing was ridiculous," Boyd said, adding that taxpayers in the audience were "violently opposed" to such an increase. Board member Leon Persson opposed even discussing the proposal, Boyd said.

The board acted before a packed house of about 80 people, including about 35 teachers. Boyd said the teachers refused to discuss where the money would come from for the big increase and also refused to say how they came up with a 18.6 per cent figure when cost of living increases were projected at only 4.7 per cent.

"It looked very much like they wanted to take the money first and let the schools and educational program go by the board," Boyd said. "The education program simply wasn't first in their thinking."

He said if such a raise was granted, it would force "drastic" cutbacks in educational programs and personnel and would eliminate the district's money reserves.

Board members will meet with the teachers' negotiators "within the next two or three weeks," Boyd said. "We intend to do the best we can within our budget."

The board also rejected as ridiculous a negotiating council policy statement submitted by the teachers association. The 9-page document "told the board what we should do, which we considered ridiculous," Boyd said. The board will make its own policy statement on negotiating procedures, he said.

The teachers, besides asking for the 18.6 per cent hike in salary, also asked for a continuation of a medical-dental plan, paid sabbatical leaves and longevity benefits.

The Larkspur School District Board also:

KINDERGARTEN — Received a report from Supt. Milton Cohen recommending continuation of the district's 180-minute kindergarten program.

MONEY — Heard a report from Cohen that monies to the district under Title One of the federal government's aid to education act have been cut by approximately 20 per cent.

Driver Injured

Pvt. David R. Houston, 18, of Fort Barry, was treated for face cuts, a bruised shoulder and bruised right knee yesterday at Marin General Hospital after his car hit a center guard rail at 2:10 p.m. on Highway 101 on Greenbrae, the California Highway Patrol said.

Civic Fathers, Collegian Not On Same Wavelength

The Sonoma State College student body president last night called for better communication among men, but found little success in addressing the Sonoma County Mayors' and Councilmens' Association.

As Terry Brennan spoke about new goals for college students, the civic leaders chattered among themselves, making comments about the youth's shoulder length hair and such remarks as "I'll bet he's never worked a day in his life."

The lack of attention and disturbing comments once prompted Chairman Helen Putnam, Mayor of Petaluma, to tap a water glass to restore quiet. Brennan, 22, stood out in the crowd with his long sideburns, and casual appearance wearing dungarees and sports shirt, minus the conventional tie.

As the student president spoke of "relating to other men," he was aware that he wasn't succeeding and charged that students feel alienated from society and its institutions.

"The current unrest stems from differences in values and differences in the criteria of judging educational quality," Brennan said, pointing out the obvious in effect.

College president Ambrose R. Nichols Jr., received far more courteous attention, appearing conventionally dressed, including the intellectual seeming pipe that laymen often expect of college presidents.

Dr. Nichols reported that the state has already invested $20 million in the 220-acre campus and plans another $30 million in construction in the next five years.

He said plans call for an art building, speech and drama center, a swimming pool, water plant, administration center and several general classroom buildings.

The college presently enrolls 3,250 students and may reach 9,000 by 1975 and 12,000 by 1981.

New Hours For Backyard Burns

Backyard fires must now be extinguished by noon unless a special permit is obtained from the Novato Fire Department, Lt. Raymond E. Dougherty, fire prevention officer of the district, reminded homeowners today.

In the past, residents of the Novato district could burn from daylight until 4 p.m., but the new regulation calls for fires to be out by noon, he said.

Dougherty urged residents to get rid of their debris by burning in small fires before the dry season starts. Regulations also call for one garden hose with water to be nearby and permit burning only on one's own property, he said.

Talent Contest Set Tomorrow

Marin County Masonic youth groups, including Job's Daughters, Rainbow Girls and DeMolay, will compete in a talent contest sponsored by the Marin and Mill Valley Royal Arch chapters at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the San Rafael Masonic Temple.

Winners of the area contest will go to semifinals in San Francisco on March 25. The state finals will be in Oakland April 29.

In addition to the talent contest, which is open to the public, the Sing-Out Marin Group will perform Saturday.

Color TV Set, Liquor Stolen

A color television set, two cameras and two bottles of liquor were stolen yesterday from the home of William A. Hennings of 155 Via Lerida, Greenbrae, Larkspur police said.

Officers found that the thief had entered the house by forcing the sliding glass door to a bedroom. The missing items were valued at about $550.

SACRAMENTO ROUNDUP

COMBINED AP & UPI

SACRAMENTO — The state Senate's sole Negro member was optimistic today he would gain a new hearing to revive a resolution honoring slain civil rights leader Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Democratic Sen. Mervyn M. Dymally, who represents Los Angeles' Watts area, said Senate leader Hugh M. Burns pledged in a conversation yesterday that the Senate Rules Committee would reconsider the resolution next week.

Burns, D-Fresno, told a newsman that the final decision rests with the Rules Committee which voted Wednesday to take the measure under submission, an action that often spells doom for legislation.

The vote was 3-2, with Sen. John J. McCarthy, R-San Rafael, among those who, in effect, pigeon-holed the resolution.

However, the rules committee usually abides by the wishes by its chairman—Burns — when conducting its business.

The committee's action Wednesday came after a manila folder containing statements linking King to Communists was submitted by Republican Sen. H. L. Richardson of Arcadia.

Richardson, a former coordinator for the John Birch Society, did not testify at the hearing, but told newsmen the folder was submitted as opposition to the resolution.

The measure asked Gov. Ronald Reagan to declare April 4 Martin Luther King Jr. day as a memorial to "the nation's leading advocate of loving, nonviolent action."

The resolution was approved in the Assembly Feb. 12, with Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, voting in favor.

King was slain April 4, 1968. James Earl Ray Monday pleaded guilty to the murder and was sentenced to 99 years in prison for the killing.

Ehrlich Blasts Politicians In Pleading For Policeman

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Attorney J. W. (Jake) Ehrlich ended a six-day marathon closing argument yesterday in his defense of a policeman charged with manslaughter.

"This man is not a killer—not a hater," said the volatile Ehrlich of his client, Patrolman Michael O'Brien, 28, who is accused of shooting Negro truck driver George Baskett while off duty.

During his lengthy closing argument, the attorney said the O'Brien case was in part motivated by political considerations.

"Don't sacrifice this boy on the alter of chicanery to get a few lousy, dirty votes," Ehrlich said. "If you don't find O'Brien not guilty there is only one answer—the Golden Gate Bridge."

Prosecutor Walter Giubbini was to deliver his closing argument to the jury today and the case should reach the jury Monday.

Outside of court, the San Francisco Conference on Religion, Race and Social Concern accused Ehrlich of engaging in a "public display of inflammatory language with clear racist implications."

CAMPUS

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan's proposal on campus disorder need some rewriting although the concept behind them as good, the chairman of the Assembly's new select committee on educational conflict said today.

"I agree 100 per cent with the concepts," said Assemblyman Victor Veysey, R-Brawley, who heads the Committee on Campus Disturbnces.

But Veysey in an interview, questioned some of the wording used by Reagan in presenting four proposals designed to punish lawbreakers and bring peace to university and state college campuses hit by student and faculty strikes.

In particular, Veysey questioned proposals calling for dismissal or firing of students or employees convicted of a criminal offense "arising out of a campus disturbance."

Veysey said it would take months to convict the offenders, and months more to prove the conviction was "arising out of a campus disturbance" — thus blunting the effect of the law.

He said he expects Reagan to allow the Legislature to put in its own language in the measure, just so it sticks to the broad favors increasing penalties for second offenders convicted of offenses in disorders. But he indicated that sweeping new punitive legislation might not be the answer.

MEETINGS

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The fate of a proposal requiring open legislative meetings was uncertain today after only three out of 12 members of an Assembly committee showed up to hear testimony.

After witnesses were heard yesterday, the lower house Govtee's chairman, Republican Carl A. Britschgi of Rewood City, said a vote will be taken at a later date. Only three members appeared to listen to witnesses.

The bill would require that meetings of the Legislature be open except when personnel, national security or party matters are being discussed. A constitutional amendment would also have to be approved by two-thirds of each house and the voters for the idea to become law.

Local government now is covered by such a law.

However, extending it to the Legislature has met a hostile reception from the lawmakers, and Britschgi was decidedly cool.

TRANSIT

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—A bill levying a one-half per cent sales tax in the three counties of the Bay Area Rapid Transit District to pay off its $146 million debt has passed its first crucial committee test in the Assembly.

On a voice vote, the Assembly Transportation Committee yesterday approved the measure by Sen. Lewis F. Sherman, R-Berkeley, and sent it to the Ways and Means Committee where it faces another battle.

The tax would remain in effect in San Francisco, Contra Costa and Alameda counties for up to six years or until the governor declared that enough revenue had been collected to solve the financial problem.

"Every delay is crucial," Sherman told the committee. The bill cleared the Senate by a 29-8 vote March 5.

Flag Assembly

Representatives from the Presidio of San Francisco presented an assembly on respect for the flag today at Bernard Hoffman School, Terra Linda. The program included a film and a flag ceremony.

Marin Driver Reports Attack

A Mill Valley man told sheriff's deputies that while he was driving home from Sausalito on Bridgeway early yesterday three men forced his car off the road, threatened and beat him and stole several credit cards and $6 from him.

Ronald Lee Phillips apparently blacked out from the beating, deputies said, and came to after the men drove him to the Shoreline Market on Shoreline Highway, running from his car there.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Surgeons Have A Bag Of Tricks To Correct Hernias Of Groin

VAN DELLEN

A soft protrusion in the groin usually represents an inguinal hernia. The abnormality will increase in size unless corrected, and should be repaired shortly after it is detected.

No one in good health is too young or too old to have the lesion mended.

The type of anesthesia used also plays a role. The patient may not have been sufficiently relaxed during the operation. As a result, the tissues are sewn together under considerable tension. In these cases, the stitches give way with the slightest muscular strain or distention of the abdomen.

IN OTHER INSTANCES, surgery is successful but the tissues are weakened or fragile and not strong enough to hold together. They tear like a piece of rotten cloth.

Now and then the victim is at fault because he has a cigarette cough. Constant hacking prevents healing. The same can be said of those who return to work and lift heavy weights too soon.

Recurrences can be prevented. Stop smoking several days before entering the hospital, and lose weight to reduce the fat content of the tissues. Add extra vitamins and minerals to the diet to improve the healing process.

SURGEONS HAVE a bag of tricks to counteract the effects of overstretched fibers. Some use suture material made from strips of fibrous tissue that remains alive and grows in place.

Others reinforce the hernial opening with tantalum gauze. This mesh is strong, malleable, and resistant to infection. After it is inserted, fibrous tissue grown through the openings in the mesh enhancing its strength. The metallic mesh may deteriorate in years but the mended area usually remains strong and supple.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

DENTURES, SLEEP

Mrs. B. writes: Is it better to keep the dentures in or out when sleeping?

REPLY

This is a moot question. My friends have tried both methods and been pleased. Full dentures can be kept in the mouth but partial devices, hooked to natural teeth, are better removed to reduce the possibility of decay and the chance that they will come loose during sleep.

HOW SOON PREGNANT?

G. B. writes: If no contraceptives are used, how soon after the wedding will the bride become pregnant?

REPLY

Two of three brides will find themselves pregnant within three months.

Today's Health Hint — Blankets and quilts should be washed regularly.

Dope Death Figure Put On Probation

PALO ALTO (AP) — One of two young men under sentence for voluntary manslaughter in the narcotics death of a 16-year-old girl plans to become a minister, his attorney says.

Andrew Bradley, 20, Palo Alto was given an eight-month sentence in the Santa Clara County jail yesterday and put on three years probation after attorney John Griffiths told the court is client is rehabilitated.

Judge George H. Barnett ruled Bradley could remain free until March 21 so he could take final examinations at Foothill College.

The other defendant, David Solario, 19, also of Palo Alto, was committed to the California Youth Authority.

Both had pleaded guilty to voluntary manslaughter in the July, 1968, death of Nancy Christiansen from an overdose of cocaine.

Bradley was accused of giving the girl $20 to buy the fatal dose of drugs from Solario at a party. Solario also had pleaded guilty to burglarizing a quantity of drugs from a Menlo Park pharmacy the night before her death.

The party host, David Brinton, 19, Palo Alto, was sentenced to the Youth Authority last September after pleading guilty to the possession of dangerous drugs.

Suyderhoud Spending Birthday In The Air

The world champeen water skier, Master Mike is on a junket of the globe to compete in various tournaments and exhibitions. Just the other day, as you read on page one of the I-J, Mike won the Australian Moomba Masters championship at Melbourne before a crowd of 100,000 spectators who lined the banks of the Yerra River. The Moomba, by the way, is a big celebration Down Under similar to the Mardi Gras.

Next Stop: Johannesburg

Next stop on Suyderhoud's itinerary Sunday is Johannesburg where he will compete in the South African Games. He'll also ski in England before returning home around April 8.

JUST GOT word from Tempe, Ariz. that former Novato High star John Dolinsek is off to a roaring start with the Arizona State University Sun Devils baseball team. An all-league baseballer and basketballer as a prep, Dolinsek has stroked the old apple at a .364 clip through ASU's first seven games, leads the team in homers with three and runs batted in with eight, and has thrown out three baserunners from his left field post. Tomorrow Dolinsek will taste major league competition when the Devils battle the American League expansion team Seattle Pilots at Tempe.

Now, For The Little Squirts

IT'S FUN to give little sporty squirts a plug now and then, thus kudos to fourth grade basketball team at Blessed Sacrament School at Santa Venetia coached by John Coleman and Willie Mazzina. They're unbeaten going into tomorrow's San Rafael Recreation League playoffs at SRHS.

IF YOU'VE been wondering what became of former Drake High and College of Marin all-star Bill Hickerson, he's attending the University of Montana on a football scholarship and majoring in forestry.

KITSIE MORRIS, 16, of San Rafael, is one of seven girls along with eleven boys who will represent the Far West in the National Junior Ski Championships in Alaska next week.

SPEAKING OF she-ing, lovely RosAnna Thompson of Terra Linda has entered a reptile in Monday's St. Patrick's Day Snake Race at San Francisco's Crown-Zellerbach Plaza. Her speedy serpent is named Boa Boa Olsen, former middlesnake champ of the jungle.

Walter Tells Of Kids Days

WALTER "THE GREAT" MAILS of the S. F. Giants was an office visitor the other day to announce 15 dates for Kids Days at Candlestick Park. Any organization that would like to take groups of kids aged 9-14 free to games should contact Mails at Candlestick. "They can bring as many kids as they want and we also admit free one adult chaperone for each five kids," said Mails.

The dates and Giant opponents: June 16-18-19, Cincinnati; July 3, Atlanta; July 7-8-9, Houston; July 15-16, San Diego; July 17, Los Angeles; Aug. 12-13, Pittsburg; Aug. 26-27-18, Philadelphia.

Since the program was started in 1961 the Giants have hosted an average of 130,000 youngsters a year, said Mails.

Six Boats Race To Tokyo

Six boats will be leaving San Francisco tomorrow at noon for a race to Tokyo, the 4,500-mile trip expected to take six weeks.

San Francisco Yacht Club of Belvedere is helping host the event, which starts across from St. Francis Yacht Club at the Marina in San Francisco.

Two of the six boats will be representing the United States, one from Seattle and the other from Los Angeles. Two boats are from France and one each are from Germany and Belgium.

It will be a solo trip for the six skippers of the boats, which are in the 30 to 35-foot class.

Hamilton Boxers Triumph

Hamilton Air Force Base boxing team, led by the quick knockout artistry of light welterweight John Kennedy, won four titles last night in the finals of the All-Air Force Boxing Championships at Hamilton.

OTHERS

Other winners for the Hamilton team coached by Major Bill Barros were flyweight Pat Neely who defended his title with a decision over James Darius of the Air Training Command; Lightweight Juan Ruiz who decisioned Bob Kemp of the Tactical Air Command; and Gerald Ivory who won the light middleweight crown with a decision over Mike Fisher of the Aerospace Defense Command.

Kennedy won two of his three fights in the tournament by first round knockouts to share honors with welterweight Jesse Valdez of Beale AFB near Marysville who scored two of his three victories by technical knockouts.

SIX WINNERS

Aerospace Defense Command, of which Hamilton is a part, won six of the eleven championships. The winners will compete in the Inter-Service Championships against Army, Navy and Marin Corps titlists March 25-27 at Hamilton.

Results of other bouts last night:

Light flyweight — Larry Arterburn (Air Training Command) dec. Randy Dubose, (Tactical A. C.)

JUAN HOLDS OUT

McCovey Signs 2-Year Contract

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — The San Francisco Giants, with Willie McCovey safely under contract for two more years, now must come to terms with their last holdout, pitching star Juan Marichal.

Marichal, who made $100,000 last year and is asking for a considerable raise from that figure, is not expected to be as hard to land as McCovey was. No one can argue the value of a 26-game winner.

McCovey, on the other hand, had some interesting ideas about contracts and it took considerable negotiation before Chub Feeney, the Giants' vice president, got the big first baseman to sign his pact calling for an estimated $85,000 per year yesterday.

McCovey, who led the National League with 36 home runs and 105 runs batted in last year, wanted a three-year contract or, barring that, a hefty raise, too hefty for the Giants to swallow.

"I wish he was only asking for $80,000," Feeney had said recently in response to a story that that is what McCovey was asking for.

McCovey had just finished a two-year contract at $60,000 and it was obvious a big raise was in order. But not, according to the club, a three-year contract and not as much as McCovey was asking for.

In the meantime, Feeney had another meeting set up with Marichal and an announcement that the Giants had signed their last recalcitrant was expected at any time.

Bruins, Broncos To Clash; Lew's Injury Not Serious

Gunning for a history-making third-straight national collegiate title, the Bruins have the day off before meeting Santa Clara's Broncos in the finals of the Western Regionals tomorrow afternoon in Pauley Pavilion. Weber State and New Mexico State meet in a consolation game.

Santa Clara gave up an 18-point lead, battled back for a 55-55 tie at the end of regulation time and then beat determined Weber State 63-59 in the opening round last night.

Then New Mexico State tried to use ball control to upset the Bruins but failed as Alcindor played one of his best games with help from a trio of sharpshooters, Kenny Heitz, Lynn Shackelford and John Vallely.

At halftime the amazingly low score stood UCLA 21, New Mexico State 17.

"It will be at least this afternoon before we have any definite word as to his exact shape," said Coach John Wooden.

Early reports were that Alcindor had twisted the ankle and the injury was not serious.

So even though Wooden doesn't like the new system of having a day between the opening round and finals of the tournament, it could be a help this time.

Santa Clara Coach Dick Garibaldi indicated his Broncos will also try a ball control strategy in an attempt to upst the Bruins.

"We haven't made up our minds about that," he commented. "It's not easy to run with UCLA because if they're running the way they want to, it's hard to stop them. I don't think anyone can run with UCLA."

The Broncos led Weber 27 9

HERB MICHELSON

Hockey Scorers 'Fans With Some Experience'

OAKLAND — Phil Esposito, professional hockey's hero of the year, should have been overjoyed. Here in the Oakland Colesium Arena he had just tied a record (he was to break it two nights later back home in the Boston Gardens).

So one would expect him to be sitting there in the tiny little dressing room all smiles, wouldn't one?

But no.

Espo, who did to a one-season Bobby Hull-Stan Mikita scoring record what brother Maris once did to Mr. Ruth, was enraged about the fellow who awards goals and assists in hockey games at the Arena.

"THEY DON'T know what they're doing here," the Bruin fellow said. "Instead of watching the puck, they're too busy watching the game." Which isn't, of course, the same thing.

Esposito was most upset because he'd been awarded an assist on a play in which he had played no part. After the announcement was made, Phil skated over to the scorer and demanded morality, or something. Thus the assist was given to a teammate.

ONE OF the Oakland Seals suggested later that Espo never would have thrown the point back if the record wasn't looming. At any other time, Phil would have smiled and welcomed the assist.

Hockey people can earn bonuses and such for scoring — every goal and assist represents bucks to them. And this was Espo's major argument in knocking the scorer.

ANY MERIT to his gripes? A couple of Seals officials suggested there might well be.

The hockey official scorer (given the title "minor official") is hired by the home club with approval from the league. "Essentially, the scorer is a fan with some experience," is the explanation I was given.

HE'S PAID about as much as a baseball official scorer (a covering newspaperman) but has the additional duty of being in charge of other minor officials — timekeepers and the two fellows who turn on the red lights when the puck enters the nets.

Interestingly, hockey executives are not reluctant to knock their very own scorekeepers.

"SCORERS ARE almost very bad in every city," I was informed. "They're interested only in home team scoring. And unfortunately there are too many scorekeepers who will change assists when they're confronted by a player just after the goal." A la the Esposito incident.

There were so many scoring changes being made in the dressing rooms of the NHL that a couple of years ago a new rule was made, to wit: Unless an assist is changed before the game ends, it stands.

A BASEBALL official scorer, though, can make a change after a game if he desires consultation with players or eyewitnesses to certain plays.)

Surely the NHL begwigs can instill some expertise into this business. Only women, after all, are entitled to change their minds with frequency.

Punchless Seals Fall To Leafs

OAKLAND (UPI) — The Oakland Seals learned the value of close fore-checking last night. Unfortunately, in learninv, they absorbed a 3-1 defeat at the hands of the suddenly surging Toronto Maple Leafs.

The hard-checking Leafs kept the pressure on Oakland, which has now lost five of seven games, throughout the National Hockey League contest and the end result was the Seals getting off a meager 18 shots for the entire game.

That included an astonishingly low two shots in the second period. The Leafs, losers of only one game in their last nine starts, meanwhile, ripped off 32 shots at Oakland goalie Gary Smith.

Ron Ellis, Norm Ullman and George Armstrong scored in each of three periods before Joe Szura slapped a 30-footer past Toronto goalie Bruce Gamble at 14:27 of the final stanza to put the Seals in the scoring column.

Despite the loss, Oakland maintained its runner-up position in the Western Division, nine points ahead of pursuing Los Angeles and Philadelphia.

Howard Is Taken Off Trade Block

POMPANO BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Owner Bob Short of the Washington Senators again failed to sign holdout slugger Frank Howard last night and said "I positively will not trade him. He will play for us or be retired."

Short had said Howard was available a few days ago, but he has since taken him off the market.

Howard, who originally asked for a three-year contract, reduced it to two and now is asking for $125,000 for one year. Short is believed to be offering about $85,000.

Psychiatrist Looks Into Pro Football

NEW YORK (AP) — A prominent psychiatrist says he is astonished that there aren't more injuries in professional football. "The name of the game, in psychological terms, is to kill your opponent," Dr. Chester M. Pierce, professor of psychiatry at the University of Oklahoma, told a symposium in St. Louis.

"When expert football players with maximum experience as performers and magnificent all-around physical equipment use their keen minds to dedicate themselves intensively to contest, the wonder is that on each play there is not serious injury."

Pierce's comments at a workshop on football injuries held by the Division of Medical Sciences of the National Research Council in cooperation with the National Football League, were carried today in the latest issue of the Medical Tribune.

Dr. Pierce said he believes many professional football injuries result from fatigue caused by emotional stress. This fatigue may be caused from lack of sleep.

If a football player starts worrying about whether his job is in jeopardy, the psychiatrist said, "the emotional anguish interferes with his sleep.

"Soon both the quantity and quality of his sleep is very different from what it should be and his biological rhythm is put out of kilter."

Dr. Pierce said a player may miss assignments because his thinking speed is reduced as the result of loss of slow-wave sleep.

"The altered sleep cycle could be the reason this man crumples under a relatively innocuous blow," he said.

"It is not beyond the realm of possibility that some day coaches will take brain wave scans to help calculate potential injury."

Oaks Vs. Pipers In San Jose

SAN JOSE (UPI) — With the American Basketball Association division championship safely tucked away, the Oakland Oaks take their high-powered offense to San Jose Civic Auditorium tonight to host the Minnesota Pipers.

The Oaks, in moving from the league basement to the division title in one season, officially won the pennant Wednesday night—and did it without taking the court.

with five minutes left in the first half. Then the Wildcats switched to a zone defense, closed the gap to 10 points at intermission and went ahead midway in the second half—building a margin of 51-45 with 5½ minutes left.

Dennis Autrey, the 6-9 center, and Bud Ogden sparked a comeback which almost failed. Autry fouled out with the score tied 55-55 but Dave Sackolwitz missed the two free throw attempts.

In the overtime, Weber didn't connect on a field goal while Bud Ogden hit two. Each club connected on four free throws.

"Alcindor played better than he has in recent weeks," said Wooden after the UCLA victory. "He had to in order for us to win."

By RALPH CHATOIAN

To say Ray Haugen of Corte Madera was on a hot streak during the Marin County Men's Bowling Association championship tournament would be putting things a bit too mildly.

Haugen, a truck driver for Safeway Stores, has a 157 blue book average from last bowling season, but currently is carrying a 169 mark in the Woodcutters League at Greenbrae Lanes, the only league in which he bowls.

In nine games of bowling in the tournament the past two weeks, the 37-year-old Haugen averaged 194. The whole thing earned him a trophy for all-events champ, since he was given 258 pins because of his 157 average. That came out to a 2,008 total.

HIS SCORES

In singles, Haugen rolled games of 162-224-211 for 597; in doubles he rolled 236-226-190 for 652, and in team event he rolled 178-182-141—501.

Haugen, who also works in a San Rafael service station, and wife Leila have four children, three boys and a girl.

Elmer Tynes, Marin County Masters champ in 1967 and '68, was the winner of the singles and scratch all events titles at the tourney, which ended last Sunday. Tynes, 196 blue book average, won the singles title by rolling a 742 three-game series.

He won both scratch and handicap (750) honors in singles.

A maintenance worker at Bergman Manufacturing Co. in San Rafael, the 36-year-old Novatan had high scratch all-events score of 1,968. That comes out to an average of 218 in nine games. Tynes is married and father of two daughters.

Doubles winners were Frank Bernardi and Dan Burke. Burke rolled a 697 and Bernardi a 634 in the doubles which were bowled at Greenbrae Lanes, as were singles. Team event was held at Country Club Bowl in San Rafael.

Bernardi is owner of the Marin County franchise for Roto Rooter sewer service. The 48-year-old kegler has a 188 blue book average and current 196, bowling in two leagues. He and wife Inez have two boys.

SALES MANAGER

Burke, the younger half of the duo at 29, is sales manager at Marin Bay Lincoln-Mercury in San Rafael. He has a 194 "book" average and 200 current. Married and the father of a 5-year-old girl, Burke lives in Novato.

Team event winner was Brandon Tire, composed of Ron Chesterton, Joe Cardoza, Don Fredette, Fred Schwab and Jim Folsom.

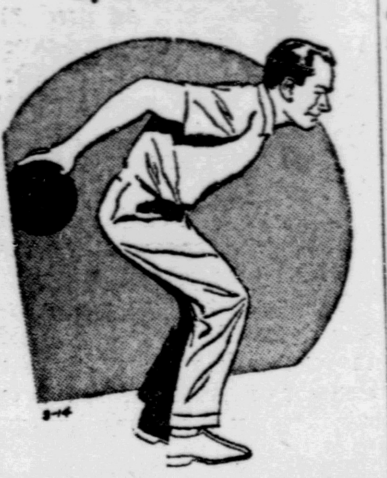
BOWLING TIPS

By DON CARTER



You may have a very good idea of how your hand should be at the moment of release, but unless you keep your wrist firm during the delivery, all your good intentions will be worthless. If your wrist twists on the way back, it will be almost impossible for you to make the proper correction as you walk to the foul line.

San Jose Kegler Leads Pro Field In Qualifying

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Jim St. John of San Jose came on strong yesterday to take the 24-game lead in the Professional Bowlers Association's $50,000 Buckeye Open.

St. John, a six-time PBA champion, shot six-game blocks of 1448 and 1356 for a 5505 total in pacing 15 other semifinalists into today's match-game play.

Following 16 games today, the top five will move into tomorrow's national televised finals with $6,000 going to the winner.

For Australia's Crampton, it's his young son Jay—and the chance of winning his first regular PGA tournament since the 1965 Indianapolis 500 Festival.

The four players, as different as sun and rain, all fired 67s yesterday over the wind-swept par 71 Pensacola Country Club course to lead the field of 150 seeking the $20,000 first prize at this third stop on the rich Florida circuit.

The swarthy, 29-year-old quipster from El Paso, Tex., said the course is playing a stroke and a half harder since it was lengthened for the long-hitting touring pros.

"It's in 100 per cent better shape," Trevino said, "but I'd play on a gravel road if someone put up a $100,000 tournament."

"Happiness is money," said the former shoe shine boy who won more than $132,000 on the tour last year and added $20,000 more last month when he won at Tucson.

But for Hinson, a quiet 24-year-old blond from Douglas, Ga., success is making the 36-hole cut so he doesn't have to play in a qualifying round for the next tournament.

"My attitude is changing though," said Hinson, who completes his rookie year next month. "Now I think of being first."

The former NCAA college division champion from East Tennessee State fired six birdies and eagled the 526-yard, par 5 12th for his 33-34.

Aaron skipped the customary news conferences for leaders yesterday, but his comments already are well recorded.

"I've heard it's nice to win a tournament," he says. "I'd like to know how it feels."

Aaron, 32, thinks about winnings all the way to the bank, where he's checked in more than $280,000 in nine years on the tour.

Crampton bounced his 18-months-old son on his knee as he described the bizarre round which included one eagle, six birdies and four pars.

Mays Smacks Key Blow For Giants

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Willie Mays' bat may change Clyde King's mind about using the San Francisco Giants' veteran center fielder as a leadoff batter.

The 38-year-old Mays, tried by the manager as a leadoff man periodically this spring, brought in three runs yesterday with a bases-loaded double in the fifth inning as the Giants downed the San Diego Padres 4-1 in a Cactus League baseball game.

With two outs Mays blasted a 425-foot drive over the center fielder's head, clearing the bases. The Say Hey kid then was caught off third in a run-down, for the third out.

Bobby Bonds singled in Don Mason with another San Francisco run in the sixth.

The Padres got an unearned run in the seventh as Giants pitcher Ron Herbel fielded Ivan Murrell's hopper and threw over the first baseman's head, with Murrell going to third and scoring on Jesse Gonder's sacrifice fly.

Giants' southpaw Ray Sadecki hurled five innings—the longest distance for a Giants pitcher this spring — and gave up no runs and four hits, striking out three and walking one.

The victory brought the Giants' Cactus League mark to 4-2.

Juan Marichal, if he signs in time, will hurl Sunday against the Chicago Cubs. The Giants play the Angels again Saturday.

Ross Vs. Kent In Cage Finals

Ross and Kent Schools clash tonight in the championship finals of the Redwood Elementary School District's eighth annual basketball tournament at Redwood High School gymnasium in Larkspur.

Ross gained the final round by nipping Del Mar School 31-29 last night behind Jay Weaver's 13 points.

In the consolation round last night Neil Cummins School trimmed Henry Hall School, 29-19, led by Bill Caito and John Frey with eight points apiece.

Talented Tackle

DENVER (AP) — Bill Cox is almost totally deaf but he was an outstanding defensive tackle last season for Thomas Jefferson High, runnerup for the Colorado Class AAA football title. Coach Don Day said Cox is "probably the best we've had in the middle on defense because of his quickness and his pursuit."

GIRL WATCHERS' DELIGHT

Bikini Olympics Tomorrow

NEW YORK (UPI)—When Devon Blaine and Kristina Nelson bare down to mini-bikinis this weekend, it will be merely to attract maximum exposure.

"Any girl with a halfway decent body likes to be looked at," said beautiful, blonde, 21-year-old Devon of Los Angeles. "It gives you self-confidence if men admire your body."

"I like for men to look at me," said beautiful, blonde, 17-year-old Kristina of Canogo Park. "Whistling is cute, it keeps up a girl's morale. I would think something was wrong with me if men didn't look."

Devon, Kristina and 58 other lovelies from nine countries will have their eye-catching outfits where they'll do the most good when they take part in the International Bikini Sports Competition at Rosarito Beach, Mexico.

Tomorrow, the girls will compete in sporting events, selecting any three from a list of choices including swimming, diving, archery, basketball, gymnastics, trampoline, motorcycle riding, horseback riding and dune buggy driving. The following day, they will participate in a bikini beauty pageant.

The sight of these bikini-clad girls engaged in fierce competition will be shown to an eager public on the American Broadcasting Company's "Wide World of Sports" on Saturday, March 22.

Ex-Mate Aker Comes Back To Haunt A's

MESA, Ariz. (AP) — It seldom fails. Trade a guy and he comes back to beat you.

Aker, who led the A's pitchers in game appearances with 54 last year, started and hurled four innings yesterday for the Seattle B team.

He retired the first nine men and gave up two hits as Seattle clipped the A's 3-2.

The San Diego Padres moved into Mesa today to battle the A's, who nominated Jim Nash for pitching duty. San Diego lost 4-1 to San Francisco yesterday.

Lou Piniella, former Cleveland Indians farmhand, blasted a two-out, two-run double to start the Pilots winning yesterday in the first inning against John Odom, the loser.

The Pilots' winning run came in the sixth on singles by Mike Hegan and Piniella, and a double steal. Gus Gill forced Piniella, with Hegan going to third. Gill stole second and Hegan stole home.

The A's picked up another run in the eighth when 40-year-old Seattle hurler Bill Henry, a former San Francisco Giant, fielded Allan Lewis' grounder and threw wild to first, gave up a walk to Ted Kubiak and surrendered a run-scoring single to Mike Hershberger.

Rick Monday went 0-for-4 as a pinch hitter and was expected to see his first action in center field today for the A's.

A Record Crowd

DENVER (AP) — A record for a sports crowd in Colorado was set when 50,002 turned out for the Oakland-Denver American Football League game last fall. But it was a sad day for the Denver faithful — they watched their Broncos take a 43-7 shellacking.

Warriors To Go Against Pistons

OAKLAND (UPI) — The San Francisco Warriors have a couple of things going for them.

For one thing, they've wrapped up a berth in the National Basketball Association's Western Division playoffs. For another, they've got a four-game winning streak at home.

They won't have to worry about the playoff berth but they'll have to worry about the winning streak tonight against the Detroit Pistons, 8 o'clock in Oakland Arena.

George Lee's San Francisco crew gained entry to the championship round Wednesday with a bruising 97-85 victory over the Los Angeles Lakers, who've just about sewed up the Western championship.

The win lifted the Warriors to the .500 mark for the first time this year. They are 39-39 with four games—all at home—remaining on the regular schedule.

Minus Tides For Opening Of Abalone Season Sunday

Abalone season opens Sunday and will remain open until Jan. 14. On opening day there is a minus 0.5 tide at 4:25 p.m., book time.

If not too windy or rough, it is possibble to locate some of these tasty mollusks at one of the abalone beds of Marin County. Best bet could be at the Palamarin Ranch in the National Seashore area near Bolinas.

It is also possible to walk, ride a horse, or a bike and get to other beds in the Point Reyes National Seashore area. Check with the rangers at the Seashore headquarters.

In Marin, we have the red abalones, with a legal minimum shell size measured along the longest dimension of seven inches. An occasional black abalone is also taken here. The size limit on blacks is five inches. The limit is five abalone in any combination of species.

Persons taking abalone are required to have a measuring device in their possession, and undersize abalone must be replaced immediately on the surface of the rock from which they were taken.

It is against the law to transport or possess abalone which have been removed from the shell unless they are being prepared for immediate consumption.

Scuba diving for abalones is illegal in Marin County, but scuba gear may be used in waters south of Yankee Point in Monterey County.

STRIPED BASS, sturgeon and salmon anglers should all do well if there is no wind over this weekend.

With the bay waters warming up, the bass should begin to hit. Joe Mello and his wife, Molly, took six bass Monday from San Pablo Bay near the Pumphouse. I tried the same spot and got nothing. Sam Knowles, who was with me, got a 60-inch sturgeon.

Sturgeon fishing has been good all through San Pablo Bay, but you can't be expected to land one of these prizes every time out. The average is probably about one for every 10 boats.

Salmon fishing boats out of Sausalito have just about limited for all hands aboard, when winds permit boats out. It looks like we have the start of a great year! The fish haven't been large, but these salmon will put on about 10 pounds in the next six months.

FRANK SUE of Corte Madera and a friend went to Lake Berryessa this week for black bass. I asked Frank to give me a detailed report. Frank's story:

"We left at 4:15 a.m. taking about two hours to get to the lake. We went to Rancho Montecello, one of the boat rental resorts along the lake shore. We rented a skiff for $5, and using our own motor, we fished on the east side of the lake. We used casting rods and Bomber lures of mixed colors. We took nine black bass, all largemouths, all about two pounds.

"We quit fishing at 1:30 p.m. and felt that we might have done better if the lake hadn't been so calm. One fisherman came in when we did. He had fished with minnows bought at the resort, and had a limit of five smallmouth bass."

Now that sounded real easy, didn't it?

Raider Rookie Top Return Man

St. Pete's In NIT Stunner

Held to six points for the first 30 minutes and playing with four fouls, Webster came off the bench and poured in 16 points in the final 10 minutes to pace St. Peter's to a stunning 75-71 upset triumph over Tulsa after Temple turned back Florida 82-66 in the first game.

It was a dramatic win for St. Peter's, the Jersey City, N.J., school almost unknown outside of the East.

St. Peter's will now play Temple, in one of the quarter-final games on Monday night.

Temple displayed the savvy typical of a club from Philadelphia's Big Five and was able to neutralize Florida's 6-10 Neal Walk even though the Owls don't have a player over 6-5. Temple threw a press at Florida and the losers couldn't handle it.

Eddie Mast scored 20 for Temple and John Baum added 19.

In tonight's doubleheader, Ohio University plays West Texas State at 7 p.m. and Rutgers meets Tennessee at 9 p.m.

Duquesne Upset Bid Falls Short

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Duquesne almost pulled off a stunner against North Carolina before losing 79-78 to the fourth-ranked Tar Heels in the East Regionals of the NCAA basketball tournament last night at College Park, Md.

North Carolina, which at one time led by 14 points at 67-53, won on two field goals by soph Lee Demon on passes from Charlie Scott in the final 28 seconds.

"Time just ran out on us," said a dejected Red Manning, the Duquesne coach.

Marquette and Colorado State U. did register upsets. Marquette whipped seventh-ranked Kentucky 81-74 in the Mideast Regional at Madison, Wis., and Colorado State knocked off favored Colorado 64-56 in the Midwest Regional at Manhattan, Kan., despite 32 points by Colorado's soph, Cliff Meely.

"The boys were sky high for this one," said a happy Al McGuire, the Marquette coach, after Kentucky's defeat.

Mike Maloy's 35 points paced fifth-ranked Davidson over the eighth-ranked St. John's Redmen 79-69, Rick Mount's 32 points led sixth-ranked Purdue in a 91-71 rout of Miami of Ohio and Willie McCarter's 24 points sparked Drake over Texas A&M 81-63 in the other NCAA regional games.

At College Park, Md., 2:15 p.m., North Carolina, 26-3, vs. Davidson, 27-2.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Volatility Of Costlier Stocks Shocks A Novice

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. Last August I bought four shares of International Business Machines at 351. It has since fallen sharply. What's happened? Should I take this big loss? I'm disgusted with stocks. — L. G.

A. Two of the company's competitors — Control Data and Data Processing Financial & General Corp. — have brought suit to prove that IBM is restricting competition, and the federal government has added a suit of its own charging monopolistic practices in violation of the antitrust law. The complaints stem from certain pricing and sales policies that the company was planning to change before the lawsuits were set in motion.

If you're not used to following stocks, sudden price changes on the downside can be extremely disturbing. High-priced stocks are likely to appear more volatile. On a percentage basis, however, the change does not appear as sharp. Despite the uncertain outcome of pending litigation — which could be settled by some changes in price structure — I recommend holding your shares.

Q. Which of these three utility companies holds the greatest possibilities: Delmarva Power & Light, Pacific Lighting, Potomac Electric? I already own Commonwealth Edison, Consolidated Edison and Boston Edison. Do you advise any changes? — M. W.

A. I would buy Potomac Electric because it offers you a 5 per cent yield from dividends that are partially tax-exempt — 42 per cent in 1968 — and promising growth in its service area, both residential and commercial.Switching to Delmarva from Consolidated Edison will move that part of your capital into territory where industrial growth is accelerating, making possible an unbroken uptrend in earnings and dividends for Delmarva since 1959.

Q. You have in the past recommended retention of International Rectifier. Do you still feel there will be a better market for the shares in fiscal 1969. — F.A.

A. I cannot predict the market's response to IRF's earnings improvement but I believe the stock worth retaining as a turnaround situation. The December quarterly report of 2 cents a share, though a repeat of December, 1967, shows the company out of the red for two successive quarters. Sales for fiscal 1969, ending next June, should exceed the $30 million of fiscal 1968. Semiconductor and pharmaceutical sales are higher.

THE WEEK IN BUSINESS

Savings, Loan Firm Continues To Grow; New Mergers Granted

The merger of General Savings and Loan Association of Sacramento and Peninsula Savings and Loan Association of San Mateo into Fidelity Savings and Loan Association of Berkeley has been approved by the California savings and loan commissioner.

The merger is subject to approval by the Federal Home Loan Bank. With the acquisition, assets of Fidelity Savings will exceed $400 million. Fidelity earnings for the first two months of 1969 were $729,000, compared with $169,000 a year ago.

An open house was held last evening by the San Rafael office of Fidelity Savings which has undergone remodeling and redecorating since its recent merger as the former Northwestern Savings and Loan Association in to the Berkeley-headquartered association.

INTERNATIONAL TELEPHONE AND TELEGRAPH CORP. and Hartford Fire Insurance Co. directors have agreed in principle on term for affiliation of the two firms. The agreement is subject to the negotiation and execution of a definite agreement and to the approval of stockholders of both companies. In 1968, International Telephone consolidated net income climbed to a record level of $180 million, an increase of 17 per cent over 1967. The dividend was raised to 95 cents per share annually.

RESERVE OIL AND GAS has reported net income of $2,308,256 for 1968, compared to $2,604,309 in 1967. Earnings per share were 29 cents, compared to 34 cents for the preceding year, a result of interest on $14 million of convertible subordinated debentures issued in December to finance the purchase of Fargo Oils, Ltd. stock.

UTAH CONSTRUCTION AND MINING CO. has reported a record $6.2 million in net earnings for its fiscal quarter ended Jan. 31. Net earnings for the same period a year ago were $4,876,000. The Pro Sports Way: It's Brutal But Honest

This is somewhat of a between-seasons hiatus on the sports pages. Of course, the high schoolers are busy with track and baseball, but in pro sports, it's ho-hum time.

Hockey and basketball have about played themselves out. Pro football, though its seasons get longer and longer, has gone on vacation for awhile. And the baseball players are just starting to sweat off the winter's fat in spring training.

IN ONE RESPECT, however, there is never a lull on the sports pages. That's in the hiring and firing of coaches and managers.

It's too early yet for any baseball managers to get their walking papers. But the basketball and hockey bosses who have survived thus far may be given the bum's rush any time now.

Even successful seasons don't mean much in the turnover of managerial personnel in the professional sports world. Remember last year when Athletics owner Charles Oscar Finley bounced manager Bobby Kennedy the day after the baseball season closed, despite the fact Kennedy had turned a last-place team into a sixth-place one without any talent purchases?

THERE'S A DEVASTATING directness about the way these things are done. A front office spokesman calls in the reporters and tells them, "Bill Smith is being released as manager. Ed Jones will take over tomorrow." Just like that.

Often the reporters find out about it as soon as Bill Smith does — and maybe before Ed Jones.

Once in awhile, the president or owner of the club embroiders the announcement with an explanation that Bill didn't get along with the players, or softens it by saying he will be given a position in the front office organization. Ordinarily, though, even such amenities as these are lacking.

The reporters call Bill for his comments. And being long experienced in the way things are in the world of sports, he just shrugs his shoulders and says, "Well, he owns the club."

It's brutal. But it's a refreshing change from the way things are done in public employment.

IF A CITY COUNCIL wants to fire its administrator, or a county board of supervisors wants to get rid of its planning director, or a school board wants to dump the superintendent, such a blunt approach is never taken.

The council or board will go into a series of closed meetings with the official it's out to get. These will be camouflaged as held to discuss some other employee. Then, after a painful period of waiting, the administrator or director or superintendent will submit his resignation to take a job somewhere else or because of unspecified personal reasons.

The board or council will then express great regret at losing such a sterling servant, and go through tortures recruiting, screening and hiring a replacement — at a higher salary.

Nobody is fooled by this stage play, but it is supposed to avoid hurt feelings.

IT'S PRETTY MEAN when some big shot in the front office of a football or baseball club lowers the boom on the coach or manager without even bothering to give him advance warning. But there's a brutal honesty about it: "Produce — or else!"

Maybe that's one of the fascinations about the professional sports world. It's sort of the last enclave of rugged individualism.

Ultimate In Smog

We in the Bay Area think we have a smog problem and there is no question it is getting worse year by year. But we can take some comfort in the fact that bad as our smog is, it is much worse in Japan.

Tokyo, with its thriving industry and busy, congested traffic, is producer of the ultimate in smog. It is probably the only city in the world where traffic police have to return to their station every half hour to breathe pure oxygen from a tank. About 154 smog alerts are issued each year, as the smog approaches dangerous levels.

We suppose this comparsion makes Marin seem like an under-developed country, but have faith — we may yet overtake the Japanese.

Battle To Keep Purse-String Control Of Schools Not Won

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The battle over elimination of the right of the people to control school districts taxes above statutory limitations rages on in the state Legislature.

The people have won the first round of the battle, with passage by the state Senate of SB 35, by Sen. John G. Schmitz, R-Tustin. But there are more hurdles to be encountered. The measure must get out of the Assembly Education Committee, pass the Assembly, and be signed by the governor.

UNDER PRESENT law, the people of a school district have the right to approve through the ballot any general purpose tax increase proposed by the governing boards of the school districts. This right extends until July 1, 1971. After that date, the governing boards may arbitrarily set a higher rate and the taxpayer would be forced to pay it without having any say as to whether it should be imposed.

SB 35 removes the cut-off date in 1971 from the Education Code, thereby extending indefinitely controls the electorate have of this particular form of additional property taxes.

It was only last year in a special session of the Legislature that the Assembly Education Committee killed a similar bill by Schmitz. And it is expected that the powerful education lobby will do everything in its power to scuttle the bill this time.

REMOVAL of the public control as of 1971 was obtained through trickery on the part of supporters of the measure, Senator Schmitz claims.

When the clause calling for taking away the control of the public was inserted in the Unruh Education Bill at the last minute of the 1967 session, most legislators didn't realize its implications.

Supporters of the clause, says Schmitz, "frankly admitted that they never could have obtained legislative approval of a bill to do that and nothing else. Only trickery made their success possible."

Further, he said, "more and more people throughout the state are becoming aware that if the 1967 law remains on the books and the lid goes off school taxes in 1971, we have every reason to believe an enormous increase in local property taxes which could drive thousands of people out of their homes, and hundreds of businesses out of the state, will result."

Throughout California, more and more school tax increases have been defeated at the polls, which reflects voter dissatisfaction both with the high cost of education and with what the people are getting for their money.

Road Connection Proposal 'Amateur'

A local radio commentator has revived the question of an isolated Sleepy Hollow-Terra Linda connection. At best, this amateur attempt at road design is irresponsible. Anyone knowledgeable of Fawn Drive and Butterfield Road through San Anselmo recognizes that these roads would be unsuitable for the ensuing traffic load. The Gonzales plan contemplated the expenditure of about $1,000,000 in the interests of safety and was judged unsatisfactory.

Modern Schools To House Slobs

Forgive my ignorance, dear public, but what in heaven's name is going on in this county?

I strenuously object to any of my tax money being used for modern, attractive schools when they end up being inhabited by the slobs I have seen coming out of them.

I thank God for my parents who taught me the simple values of a bar of soap, an iron and a comb. . . .

Most of the public moans and groans about what's happening on our college campuses. "There's just no respect, no respect" — I hear it every day. Respect and moral strength are often made manifest by outward appearance. Marin County parents, your kids are impudent little slobs. . . .

It's funny. A prayer, which shows the belief in the beauty of life, is outlawed in our public schools. But filth is welcomed, supported, paid for.

I am 23 years old, a recent college grad. I must sound like an old lady, but I thank God.

District Attorney Ignores Complaint

As a resident of Marin County, I feel it my duty to share my recent experience with your readers.

It is indeed a sad situation when our own public service, the Humane Society, should fall victim to our legal system. In January a petition was filed in my neighborhood against the owners of certain animals declared public nuisances by the Humane Society. The latter served the required 48-hour abatement notice, but to no avail. Soon after and as a result of the animal owners' disregard of notices, phone calls, etc., the case was handed over to the district attorney's office. Since then, there has been no action taken by the D.A.'s office.

The Humane Society did all it could do and trusted that the law would bring the case to a close. As of now, nothing has been done; the animals still run loose, destroying property, and the larger animal still goes about terrifying passers-by and small children. As a reasult, the many households who signed the petition two months ago in hopes of immediate action, now know that despite the efforts of the Humane Society, this service is in reallity, helpless in the face of the law.

Army Endangers Tamalpais Creek

We need help in amplifying the voice of the people. We in Kent Woodlands have sought in vain to express our grave concern for the overkill methods used in the imminent flood control project. No serious effort has been made by the corps to find an alternate plan. Our Tamalpais Creek is about to be mutilated. The larger Corte Madera Creek will be killed next year.

Every inch of soil and nature has a value so infinite it is beyond monetary considerations. Yet, like a broken record, we hear over and over that the formula in the manual makes this concrete correction of a relatively small, flood problem necessary. The Army Engineers define "beautification in a unique way: green - vinyl - cyclone fencing, camouflaged by planting.

When my grandfather fought to preserve Muir Woods (now taken for granted) a friend asked him why he insisted on sticking his neck out for so much abuse (he was accused of all manner of ulterior motives). He replied that it was insignificant because "the people who will enjoy these woods are not even born yet." And we all will have to realize (and act on the realization) that each one of us must help to preserve Marin County's unique beauty for those not yet born!

The average individual citizen feels helpless against the system. The power of an agency like the Corps of Engineers, with its professional staff and tax money at its disposal, makes our efforts seem almost ridiculous in comparison. But I beseech Marinites everywhere to act now: write to our congressmen, invite them to see our natural stream. In the I-J of Jan. 2 on page 27, there was an article which will tell you that even the headquarters of the Corps of Engineers is questioning the need for such strong methods.

Long Hours, Little Pay For Jurors

Your articles on the workings of the Marin County Grand Jury have been most interesting and enlightening.

As the wife of a member of the 1967 grand jury and of the current grand jury, I also feel it might be of interest to the general public to know that each member is paid the magnificent sum of $5 per meeting. So far this year, six meetings a month have been scheduled, one of which commenced at 7:30 p.m. and continued until past 1 a.m. — all for $5. . . .

My reason for pointing out the small payments is in order for people to realize how much free time is devoted by the grand jury, especially as compared to our board of supervisors!

Washington Siphons Off Money While State, Local Costs Grow

By ROSCOE and GEOFFREY DRUMMOND

WASHINGTON — Frustrated with government? No wonder. State and local government today is breaking down so badly, the question now is will it survive.

There's a reason. The federal government is taking so much money from the states that they simply are unable to meet the mounting public needs, where the needs are greatest.

Washington takes two-thirds of all taxes. New York state, for one, gives up $22 billion a year and gets back 6 cents on the dollar.

Support for doing something about this is growing. That's good. But so far it is mostly talk. That's not good enough.

NEW YORK Gov. Nelson Rockefeller got a sympathetic hearing from President Nixon's Urban Affairs Council for his plan to return more federal revenue to the states. Without this, Rockefeller believes that "state and local governments, as we now know them, simply cannot survive."

Mr. Nixon recently asked the nation's governors for their views. He got them. All 50 of them, Republican and Democrat, urged the President and Congress to establish national standards for welfare, to take over a greater share of welfare costs which the state can't bear, and to establish substantial bloc grants to help state and local government do what is most needed.

There is a beginning at agreement on what needs to be done among the nation's governors and mayors and an increasing number in the Nixon Administration and in Congress. But the time for talk has passed. The need now is for action.

THE TEST will come early in this session of Congress. HEW Sec. Robert Finch, an innovative, do-something man, encouraged Rockefeller to put his proposals in legislative form. They will be ready shortly, and a number of the governors from both parties are urging their congressional delegations to help them get maximum bi-partisan support.

There's no dispute about the facts. State and local spending rose from $23 billion in 1950 to $83 billion in 1966 and will go to $162 billion in the next six years.

From 1950 to 1966, state spending rose 247 per cent and local spending 245 per cent, while federal domestic spending went up only 142 per cent.

The National League of Cities has just warned that many cities face bankruptcy unless national action is taken to relieve the urban financial crisis.

AND IT ISN'T that the state and local governments are refusing to tax. In the past 10 years the states increased taxes in 309 instances and added 26 new taxes. During this period, 43 have either increased or added new state sales and income taxes, many of them more than once.

The states aren't refusing to tax themselves; they have simply exhausted revenue sources because the federal government takes so much and returns so little to most of the states.

Some of the most acute problems of the states today are not primarily local, but national. Because there is a tremendous disparity in welfare payments between the states, ranging from $6 to $60 a month, there is a large migration of welfare recipients to other states. This creates welfare and education burdens the more compassionate states can't handle. This is why the governors are asking Congress to establish national benefit standards and greatly increase the federal share of the cost.

Is the money available? One answer is that everything contained in the Rockefeller proposals can be financed by devoting to them 25 per cent of the projected growth in federal revenue in the next four years, even with repeal of the tax surcharge.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

Peking's Ultimate Insult: 'Russ Deal With Chiang'

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — Charges inside Communist China that Russia is in collusion with Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalists elevate Sino-Soviet hostilities to a new propaganda peak.

The charges, aired by the Chekiang province radio after the recent Ussuri River border clash, have a special bite. Nothing is so offensive to mainland Chinese as Chiang's government and its hold on Taiwan (Formosa).

Experienced China watchers say the status of Formosa is the major irritant for Communist China's intense brand of nationalism, a nationalism which has helped Mao Tse-tung's regime survive the upheavals of recent years. Formosa is, of course, a cause of China's hostility to the United States too.

CHARGES of Russian collaboration with the United States are old hat on the mainland. Charges of collusion with the hated Chiang are something else again, something of an escalation in the already bitter war of words.

The border fighting, and the publicity given it by Moscow and Peking, lend support to the view that the two Communist giants are farther apart than ever.

There was a time when much of the hostility was credited to Mao Tse-tung and his personal ambitions. There was a feeling that the passing of the 75-year-old party leader might pave the way for a material easing of Sino-Soviet tensions.

Now, however, it is believed here that — even with Mao out of the picture — relations between Russia and Red China could be no more than "correct" on the surface and no better, in substance, than the present relations between Russia and Yugoslavia or Czechoslovakia.

CHINA EXPERTS here believe Peking's on again, off again attitude toward talks with the U. S. last month offer new evidence of basic differences in the upper echelons of the Chinese Communist party.

The very existence of such differences would not have been believed in the early 1960s, when it appeared that Mao and his politburo were leading China into the future in an ideological lock-step. That facade of monolithic unity was shattered by the events of Mao's cultural revolution.

Experts now report that the politburo, as such, has ceased to play a major governmental role. They believe Mao, with 13 other top party leaders, now wields the party's power and rules the China mainland.

In addition to Mao (and his ex-starlet wife, Chiang Ching), the top leaders appear to be heir apparent Lin Piao, Premier Chou En-lai, the nominal head of the cultural revolution, Chen Po-ta, and police boss Kang Sheng.

The experts identify no "soft liners," but see a changing group of pragmatists who sometimes resist Mao's view that China's future and that of a Mao-led world revolution are inseparable.

Experts here believe that pragmatic opposition to Mao's policies and alternatives designed to advance China's interests in the world come most frequently from the leaders associated with Chou En-lai in the state council.

News From Credibility Gap: Ananias Tree In Early Bloom

Life in Southern Marin this past week has somewhat resembled the Mad Hatter's tea party, what with city managers saying they aren't resigning when they are and in other ways playing games.

Mill Valley City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer's straight-faced denial Tuesday of his resignation, while it was already on its way the city fathers ("Why, no, of course I'm not resigning") was matched only by Mill Valley Mayor Dean N. Meryer's performance.

Balmer loves to play games, especially with the press, and so, although reporters always hope for a straight-forward answer, they are not surprised when they get a little less than the whole truth and nothing but.

However, Meyer has been pushing the straight and honest image during his three years in city politics — and successfully enough to win himself appointment to the Golden Gate Bridge District Board.

That's why it was more surprising to see His Honor merrily going along with Balmer's game this week. While Balmer was sincerely issuing sincere denials, Meyer was sitting at the same table chortling into his coffee cup. In fact, the mayor's mirth was so overwhelming he had to leave the table before he spoiled the game.

With all the double-talk around town lately, it appears that instead of the mayor changing the bridge district board, the bridge board is changing the mayor.

MEANWHILE, over in Tiburon, wild things are also happening. Last Saturday the long-awaited interviews were held with planning director candidates and the town's still reeling.

All started off jolly enough when the five city councilmen, three planning commissioners and one parks and recreation commissioner gathered Saturday morning to take a look at City Mgr. Lawrence D. Rose's final candidates.

Suddenly the harmony was shattered when one of the four finalists, Gary Saunders, assistant to planning consultant George Gatter (who as far as anyone knew was still on the city's payroll) started making a pitch for the council to drop the idea of a fulltime director and hire him as consultant for nine months or so. The point of his pitch was pretty much that Tiburon's problems could be wrapped up by then and any planner worth his salt would thereafter be quite bored with the whole scene.

The speech came as quite a shock to the council, already deeply divided over the planning director issue, and faces were still red from anger several hours later.

But even more surprising to the council was the news that Saunders had quit the city's employ several weeks before and Rose had not told the council of it. At the closed meeting Rose said the resignation had come in January. Three days later he told the press it was handed in two weeks ago.

CREDIBILITY GAPS seem to be contagious.

That issue is now taking a back seat to the now-burning question of why Rose is sitting on the director's appointment.

The two final candidates have outstanding recommendations (one is a Marin County man, the other is from Southern California.) The council and commissioners have made it very clear whom they prefer. And they want him now.

Unless the right appointment is made soon, the rumors are that this spring may see a new council a new city manager, or both.

Boyd Cleared In Railroad Grant

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A preliminary investigation has failed to uncover any wrongdoing by former Transportation Secretary Alan S. Boyd in accepting a $95,000-a-year-job from a railroad that profited from a $25 million federal grant made while Boyd was in office.

Boyd's successor John A. Volpe, who held up the grant and ordered the investigation, said:

"I received a report, a preliminary report which indicated no wrongdoing at all, but it was a sketchy report and I have asked for a full-scale report detailing every step of the way what happened."

Board Of Education Postpones Meetings

The Marin County Board of Education has postponed its committee meetings scheduled for Monday because several board members will be attending a joint conference of the California School Boards Association and county schools officers at Asilomar, Monterey County, reported Deputy Supt. The committees will meet March 24 at the county schools office, 201 Tamal Vista Boulevard, Corte Madera. The administrative services and special education committee will meet at 7:30 p.m., and the educational services committee at 8:30 p.m.

You Must File 2 Forms To Get Refund To Pay Tax Increase

Fusselman

Wat Takeshita, in his "Reporter's Notebook" last Monday, wrote a darn good explanation of the new state homeowners' tax relief (1A). It was the best I've seen.

He emphasized that you must sign and return to the Marin County assessor's office two forms by April 15.

The pink one is for the $70 refund on your 1968-69 taxes, which will be mailed to you by the state. The yellow one is to claim a $750 exemption on your home for the 1969-70 roll. This will be reimbursed to the county by the state.

As he warned, be sure to get both into the assessor's office by April 15. Incidentally, to process all this has put an extra work load on the assessor's office this year.

HOWEVER, on Jan. 23 from Sacramento, Henry C. MacArthur's column in the I-J: "How 'Property Tax Relief' Proves Hoax On Taxpayers," in part had this: "So, actually the property owner gets little or no relief. He is merely an intermediary in the process of getting back a few paltry dollars, paying state and federal income tax on the refund, provided he deducted the tax payment, paying postage to send in his claim, and eventually winding up with no relief at all, or at least no more than coffee and doughnuts."

He goes on: "Here is how is works, at least in the case of this writer (MacArthur): Last week we received a notice from the Sacramento County assessor to file a claim for the $70 tax refund. Only a day passed before another notice was received from the bank advising that the FHA payment is being increased $5 per month or $60 a year to pay local taxes. All of which makes this 'tax relief' amount to $10 per year, which will dwindle to virtually nothing when income tax is paid on $70, and costs of collecting this $10 are figured."

Looks like maybe we all voted wrong. No?

IT'S A SHAME that County Counsel Maloney (Douglas J.) got mixed up in this negotiating team on employee salary schedule. Doug is one fine fellow, liked and admired by those who have had the opportunity of working with him, and a good lawyer too. I have always been glad that I urged his appointment as chief deputy and then later voted for his advancement to chief, when E. Warren McGuire (now superior court judge) resigned as county counsel to go into private practice. Doug runs a good ship.

That whole salary mess out at Brasilia was brought about by the administrator and his personnel office as well as the board, who toadied to them. (Abdication of duties must be rewarded you know, old chap.)

Anyone not blinded by the grand manner of operating should have been aware of the widespread resentment among the employees over the inequitable way that the sacrosanct clique was receiving such special salary treatment — 'way out of proportion to their ability.

You may recall that on the 28th of last month I said the editorial on "Hornswoggling" brought back 12-year-old memories. Well, it seems folks back in Madison, Wis., who 12 years ago also had the same kind of problem as our, are now up against about the same thing we are here now; the mounting costs out at the Civic Center (which looks like at least over $30 million).

They have forwarded some figures and circumstances that I think will interest you.

Coming up. Watch for them.

Coffee House Assured To Terra Linda Teens

Terra Linda Recreation and Park District directors have assured teen-agers that the district has taken no action to close the weekend youth coffee house program at the recreation center.

Rumors that the coffee house might close brought a delegation of youths to the directors meeting Wednesday night. The youths said they want to continue using the center for coffee house gatherings on Friday and Saturday nights.

Clyde Vaughn, minister of the Faith Lutheran Church, said the coffee house program will be "re-evaluated" this month, but no decision has been made on closing the program.

Eleanor Langendorf, general manager-secretary of the district, reported that the district has no information on coffee house schedules because the program is run by youths.

Terra Linda Recreation and Park District directors also:

Old debt paid — agreed to pay $312 in 1965 vacation pay to William A. Gordon, who resigned that year and went to Marinwood. The vote authorizing the payment was 3 to 1, with Chairman John A. Colistra dissenting. Director Robert A. Smith was absent.

POOL PASSES — Announced that swimming pool passes are now on sale at the Terra Linda recreation office. Tentative opening date of the pool is May 17.

RESIGNATION — Took no action on Mrs. Langendorf's letter of resignation, submitted last month, which means she continues as general manager-secretary. "I can see how busy things are, and I didn't have the heart to press the matter and just quit in the middle of everything," said Mrs. Langendorf.

MUNSON PARK — Torben Strandgaard, professor at University of California, presented plans for a creative play area at Munson Park, bounded by Las Pavadas, Las Gallinas, Freitas Parkway, and Hickory Lane. The first stage development includes a fence around the park and a storage shed. The $1,300 in the Munson Memorial Fund will cover that cost. Bathrooms, tricycle paths, and play equipment would be added in later stages.

Kite Warning

With trees and power lines already displaying remnants of kites, Lt. Raymond E. Severe burns and even electrocution have resulted when kites hit overhead power lines, he said.

Record Snows Poise Major Flood Threats

FRESNO (UPI)—Few weather buffs in the San Joaquin Valley have ever seen anything to match it.

Snow in the Sierras is so deep it is crushing cabins. Rainfall in parts of the valley, such as Fresno with more than 20 inches, has broken all records.

And even if it rains no more this spring—an unlikely turn of events—runoff from the Sierra snowpack may swell valley rivers to the flood stage through July.

The new threat comes on the heels of severe floods which ravaged the valley in January and February causing millions of dollars damage, especially to agriculture, the valley's most important industry.

And as officials at reservoirs controlling major rivers fight to lower their storage capacity for the expected onslaught from the snowpack, excess water continues to take its toll.

FARMERS HURT

Hardest hit is a usually dry basin in Kings County which used to hold the waters of Tulare Lake.

A century ago some 750 square miles were covered by the shallow lake, which was then one of the largest in the state.

Later, the land was drained and the lake's fertile bed was turned into farmland.

But today nature is once more in command. An estimated 85 square miles at the pit of the basin are under water and the lake is growing at the rate of 11,000 acre-feet per day.

There doesn't appear to be much anybody can do about it.

The basin is the natural drainage point for the Kern, Kaweah, Tule and Kings rivers. While all the rivers are blocked by dams in the foothills, the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, which regulates the reservoirs, has ordered near maximum releases to allow space for the expected snow runoff.

GROWTH EXPECTED

With the exception of the Kings River, which is being diverted into the San Joaquin River to the north, and the Kern River, the other rivers and their tributaries are pouring water into the lake at a rate which may swell it to five times its present size by summer.

In the community of Corcoran, dependent on farming in the basin, a quarter of the work force may be unemployed this spring and summer because of the flooding.

The California Department of Water Resources reports the snowpack in the Sierras is fast approaching or exceeding records set in 1938, 1952 and 1967.

Amalio Gomez, chief of the Army's Engineering Division in Sacramento, said the situation is rapidly approaching the "classical snowpack of 1906" which is regarded by engineers as the heaviest in history.

Snowfall amounts are so heavy cabin owners in the Shaver Lake area east of Fresno and others near Sequoia National Park report some structures have been crushed by the heavy snow.

Water content in the snowpack is rated as one of the highest in history.

Gomez said the potential runoff is estimated at 245 per cent of normal on the Kings River watershed; 287 per cent of normal on the Kaweah watershed; 355 per cent of normal on the Tule watershed and 394 per cent of average on the Kern River watersed.

"By the end of July Tulare Lake will have more water than Pine Flat Dam on the Kings River," Gomez said.

However, he said other areas should not be too severely affected.

"We are confident we have the competence and experience to come through with a minimum of damage," he said.

The U.S. Bureau of Reclamation, which regulates Friant Dam on the San Joaquin River near Fresno, also is expecting a tight squeeze when the snow melts.

Geoffrey Nielsen, chief of the operations branch of the bureau's Fresno field division, said barring unusual weather conditions such as warm spring rains or an unseasonal hot spell, the dam should handle the runoff.

Further north the situation appears to be somewhat less critical. The Merced Irrigation District foresees no flooding on the Merced River below New Exchequer Dam and officials regulating reservoirs on the Stanislaus and Tuolumne rivers also said it appeared the runoff could be handled without serious flooding.

Nixon Trims Sentinel, Cuts Out Marin Base

Modified Plan For 10 Years

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon approved today a compromise anti-missile system to safeguard "against any attack by the Chinese Communist that we can foresee over the next 10 years," and to protect the U.S. missile-bomber force from knockout.

He told a nationally broadcast news conference he believes his decision for a modified ABM system "is vital for the security and defense of the United States and also in the interest of peace throughout the world."

Nixon denied his plan, which he said will cost between $6 billion and $7 billion, will escalate the arms race. This has been a major point of attack by senators and scientists opposing deployment.

He said the Soviets, a traditionally defense-minded people, understand the Sentinel is a defensive weapon.

AWAY FROM CITIES

The net effect of Nixon's actions, coming after a five-week Pentagon and White House review, will be to shift the emphasis of the antimissile from protecting cities to insuring that this country's deterrent power is better shielded from knockout in a surprise attack.

"I believe this system is the best we can provide for our nation's security," he added.

He said a massive city defense system would have to be near-perfect to be credible—that is, effective in cutting civilian losses significantly.

'EVERY INSTINCT'

"Although every instinct motivates me to provide the American people with complete protection against a major nuclear attack," Nixon said, "it is not now within our power to do so."

But he added: The safety of our country requires that we should proceed now with the development and construction of the new system in a carefully phased program."

In this connection, he indicated that safeguarding this country's 1,054 long-range, land-based missiles and its 600 bombers would pay off to a greater

HOW ABM WORKS — Drawing indicates working of Sentinel antiballistic missile system as earlier explained to a Senate subcommittee, with radar spotting an enemy missile re-entering the atmosphere and triggering a Spartan missile to destroy it with a nuclear warhead. Reportedly, the system originally was also to include shorter-range Sprint missiles as backup, not shown, to pick off any warheads getting past the Spartan. (AP Wirephoto drawing)

Sausalito Proposal Dropped

The controversial Sentinel antiballistic missile system will not be located on Wolfback Ridge in Sausalito, nor any other place in the Bay Area, the Department of Defense said today.

Lt. Col. Harold L. Alabaster, Sentinel information officer at the Pentagon, said two Sentinel bases will be constructed to protect Minuteman intercontinental ballistics missile systems at Malmstrom Air Force Base at Great Falls, Mont., and Grand Forks Air Force Base in North Dakota.

PLAN CUT BACK

The Sentinel bases, announced this morning by President Richard M. Nixon, eliminates the threat that any part of the Sentinel system will be located in the San Francisco Bay Area or on the West Coast.

The Department of the Army last year announced that a Sentinel base, designed to protect the United States against Communist Chinese attack, would be located in Bay Area on Angel Island or Wolfback Ridge in Marin County or the San Pablo Ridge in Contra Costa County.

In December, the Army indicated Wolfback Ridge was the preferred site, partly as a result of the furor of Marin residents over the possibility of Angel Island State Park being converted into a missile base.

TESTS BEGUN

No final decision has been made on Wolfback Ridge pending the outcome of geological tests to determine the suitability of the site for the huge underground missile complex.

Final announcement of a site for the Bay Area was due at the end of this month, amidst a storm of protest from Marin civic and conservation groups joined by various city councils.

THE DRUG SCENE

An Addict Can Fool A Layman

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Writer

(Fifth in a series of 10)

How do you know that someone is taking mind-affecting drugs?

Often there are telltale signs. But authorities warn that anyone making himself a self-appointed, suspicious detective faces pitfalls in interpreting such signs as sure indications of drug use or abuse.

One reason is that other drugs, prescribed for medical conditions, can produce the same signs or effects. The suspected "drug taker" may actually be ill, or injured.

Another reason is that a person's behavior — if he seems depressed or lethargic, or gay and outgoing — may be only a purely emotional reaction to some experience or news that made him feel moody or excited.

One general sign of drug abuse or dependence can be a break in the usual pattern of a person's life. But such a switch in interests and behavior can also stem from other causes, particularly during adolescent years with their customary and rather natural roller-coaster swings from enthusiasm to depression.

Use of marijuana is difficult to detect.

The person using it frequently may have reddened eyes and dilated pupils. But the redness of the eyes can also be caused by conjunctivitis or "pink eye" infection.

In early stages of using marijuana, the person may be stimulated and very animated, or behave in a silly fashion. Later on, he may seem sleepy or stuporous.

Marijuana has a characteristic acrid odor, like burned alfalfa or rope, that may cling to clothing for a few hours.

There are no blood or urine tests to detect marijuana, or LSD.

Drug authorities estimate that pot smoking is going up among high school students, but they have no reliable figures. In some schools, marijuana is becoming quite popular, says Dr. Henry Brill, former vice-chairman of the Narcotics Addiction Control Commission of New York State.

"But, like sex, there may be a lot of boasting talk about marijuana rather than actual indulgence in it," he says. "On the other hand, marijuana is

Czech Youths Applaud Tito

PRAGUE (AP) — More than 5,000 chanting Czechoslovaks marched through Prague to the Yugoslav Embasssy today in a demonstration of support for President Tito and the Yugoslav Communist party congress, boycotted by the Soviet Union and other Eastern European nations.

The young Czechs stood before the embassy for half an hour chanting: "Long live Tito." "Tito yes, Brezhnev no."

Leonid I. Brezhnev is the chief of the Soviet Communist party which is believed to have ordered Czechoslovakia's Communist party not to attend the Yugoslav congress under way in Belgrade. Only Romania of the Eastern European nations sent a delegation.

Fifth Dead Whale Found Near Bolinas

A dead gray whale was decomposing today on RCA Beach north of Bolinas, bringing to five the total number of whales washed ashore on Northern California beaches in recent weeks, and the second on Marin coasts.

Marine biologists are investigating the possibility they died after swimming through the oil slick in Santa Barbara Channel, which is on the whales' annual migration route.

A whale washed up Jan. 10 in an inaccessible area south of Stinson Beach, another was found Feb. 27 at Half Moon Bay, a third Tuesday on Ocean Beach in San Francisco and a fourth yesterday at Pacifica.

Aldridge was working outside the walls under the prison's rehabilitation plan when he made his escape.

Marin Agencies, Military Slapped For Polluting Bay

Novato Given May Deadline

I-J Special Report

MARTINEZ — The Novato Sanitary District yesterday was issued a cease and desist order by the San Francisco Regional Water Quality Control Board to stop polluting the Petaluma River and Novato Creek, and the Bolinas Community Public Utility District was given 16 months to complete a sewage system.

The order requires the Novato district to submit "a firm and detailed time schedule for all major steps necessary to comply with this board's requirements" before May 15. The scheduled steps must include completion of financing and plans and specifications, award of construction contracts and completion of construction.

If the district fails to meet the May 15 deadline, the district will turn the case over to the district attorney's office for prosecution, according to the order.

The board noted, however, that the district may be dissolved in a special election on April 15. Dissolution was proposed by the North Marin County Water District.

The deadline would be reviewed if the district were dissolved, the board agreed.

The board's executive officer,

Bell Given Prison Term

A 35-year-old San Rafael man who left construction work two years ago to go into a full-scale drug-selling business yesterday was sentenced to state prison by Judge Samuel W. Gardiner of Marin Superior Court. Two Marin confederates drew lighter sentences.

James Dewey Bell, said to be one of the biggest drug dealers in the Bay Area as well as the largest dealer to go before Marin courts, was given concurrent sentences on counts of selling marijuana and selling methedrine.

The marijuana sale conviction carries a five-year-to-life sentence and the speed sale, a one-to-five-year sentence.

Bell, known as the "Missouri Walker" to narcotics agents for his birthplace and his habit of parking his car a block or so from his supply of narcotics, was arrested last February in the largest drug roundup in Marin's history.

He was subsequently arrested

Federal Bases Next Target

I-J Special Report

MARTINEZ — A cease and desist order against the number one polluter of the bay — the federal government — was ordered yesterday by the San Francisco Bay Regional Water Quality Control Board.

The board, which has campaigned for years to have federal installations clean up the wastes they dump in the bay, rejected its attorney's advice that it had no jurisdiction over the federal government.

"At least we have tried, and have done our duty," declared director Sidney S. Lippow of Martinez. Citing the government as "the real culprit" in bay pollution, he said federal installations are the "worst offenders" in many parts of the bay.

"I see no reason why they shouldn't comply" with the district standards, said William A. Alexander, vice chairman of the State Water Resources Control Board.

The cease and desist order, to be adopted formally at the board's April meeting, specifically cited the Alameda Naval Air Station and the Mare Island Naval Shipyard. Both dump untreated toxic wastes such as cyanide and phenol into the bay, reported the board's executive officer, Fred H. Dierker.

The air station dumps 525,000 gallons of waste a day, and the shipyard dumps 1,750,000 gallons a day, according to a report last July by the board's staff.

Span Board Asks New Law To Permit Transit Bonds

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District directors voted 11-4 today to seek legislation that would enable them to sell about $520 million in revenue bonds to build a rail rapid transit tube between Marin and San Francisco.

The motion, by director E. J. Guidotti of Sonoma County, did not mention how the money would be used but the action clearly was tied to a proposal made last month that a feasibility study of a tube be made by the board.

The tube study was proposed by director William C. Blake of San Francisco, who said the plan that the district enter the bus business would be a waste of money.

Guidotti suggested that the board be empowered to sell the revenue bonds — to be paid off with bridge tolls — with a two-thirds vote of its 18 members. Similar legislation sought unsucessfully by the board last year would have allowed the

Air Piracy Denied

MIAMI (AP) — Alben William Barkley Truitt, whose grandfather was the late Vice President Alben W. Barkley, has pleaded innocent at a preliminary hearing on charges of air piracy.

Truitt, a 35-year-old photographer, is accused of forcing the pilot of a light plane to fly him from Key West to Havana last Oct. 23. He later went by boat to Canada, which deported him to the United States.

At the hearing yesterday no date was set for the trial.

Circus Party

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Richard M. Nixon saw her first circus in five years, a special matinee for 6,300 poor and physically-handicapped children, and called it "really a great show."

"I've always loved the circus," said the President's wife, who was flanked at the performance yesterday by two 4-year-olds from an infant home.

Peace Corps Change

WASHINGTON (AP) — Jack Vaughn, who was appointed director of the Peace Corps by President Lyndon B. Johnson in 1966, says he will soon bow out of the job.

There had been reports that the Nixon administration had asked Vaughn to stay on, but he told newsmen yesterday he had received no such commitment.

Peking Raps Russ

TOKYP (AP) — Red China has charged the Soviet Union with six more intrusions on a disputed island on the Manchurian border where 31 Soviet soldiers and an undisclosed number of Chinese were killed in a clash March 2.

Hsinhua, the official New China News Agency, did not say whether any of the new alleged intrusions resulted in shooting.

The charge was contained in one of three protest notes delivered to the Soviet Embassy in Peking yesterday, the agency said. The other two criticized treatment of Chinese diplomats in Moscow and damage to the Chinese embassy during demonstrations last weekend.

Portugal Flooding

LISBON (AP) — Forty-eight hours of heavy rain have caused severe damage throughout Portugal. The Tagus River overflowed its banks in many places, flooding farms, roads and villages.

At Banatica, across the Tagus from Lisbon, 107 persons had to be evacuated from their shacks when the hill behind them started to slide.

Weather officials said the rainfall in Lisbon was the heaviest since 1876 — 3.7 inches in 24 hours.

Hickel Directs Alligator Drive

EVERGLADES NATIONAL PARK, Fla. (AP) — Interior Secretary Walter Hickel, opening his battle to save the alligator, assumed the role of a poacher in a nighttime training exercise—and escaped detection.

"I wanted to find out how a poacher operates. And now I know," the secretary said after he and the park's assistant chief ranger, Dick Stokes, came out of hiding.

"This has showed me how easy it is for the poacher to get away," said Hickel, who was told earlier that the park's 20,000 alligators face extinction unless their slaughter is stopped.

Expo '70 to be held at Osaka, Japan, will be the first major world's fair ever held in Asia. More than 70 foreign governments are expected to participate.

Antipoverty Probe Seeks Power Shift

WASHINGTON (AP) — An unpublished report by congressional investigators recommends that the Office of Economic Opportunity be stripped of its authority to coordinate antipoverty programs and that the responsibility be assumed directly by the White House.

The General Accounting Office, auditing arm of Congress, concluded after a two-year study that only a firm White House effort can bring order to the multitude of antipoverty and social welfare programs on which the federal government spends $25 billion annually.

LONG REPORT

The 200-page report, tentatively scheduled by GAO for release next week, is being kept under tight security. But several Capitol Hill and federal agency officials who have been briefed on GAO's findings told The Associated Press yesterday that the document:

Levels its sharpest criticism at shortcomings in the administration of OEO programs and the lack of coordination between those projects and the scores of similar programs now run by more than a dozen different agencies;

Recommends wholesale changes in the apparatus of antipoverty operations, leaving the Community Action Programs to OEO but transferring responsibility for all other programs to the White House.

Recommends that OEO remain responsible for innovation, a sort of research and development role;

Recommends sweeping changes for the much-criticized Job Corps;

TRAINING PLAN

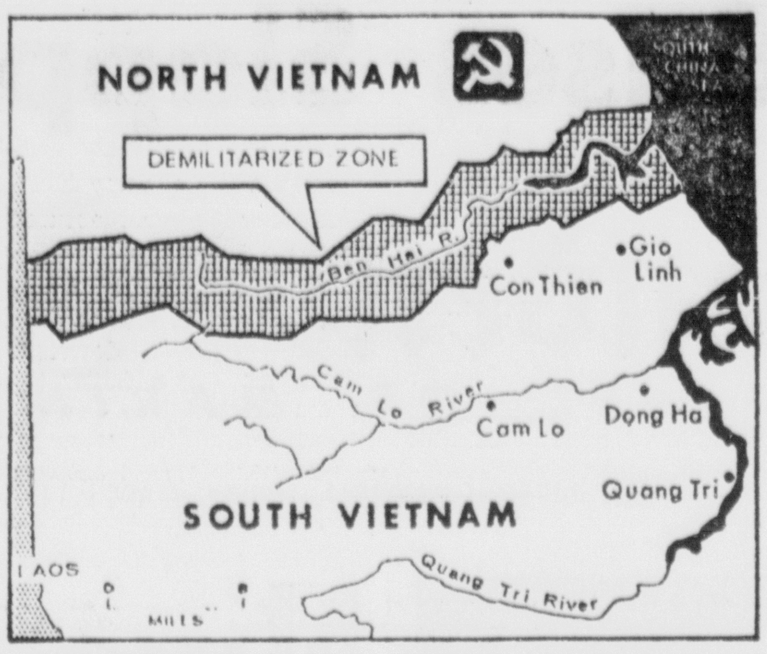
Recommends consolidation of manpower training programs;

Calls for congressional review of apparent conflicts between community action groups and neighborhood boards in the Model Cities program.

Several of the recommendations correspond with President Nixon's action last month in transferring the Job Corps from OEO to the Labor Department and the Head Start program from the antipoverty agency to the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Nixon, like GAO, recommended retention of OEO as an agency.

The report says that OEO, with a $2 billion annual budget, was given the impossible assignment of coordinating the entire federal antipoverty effort, which includes programs ranging from welfare and unemployment benefits to educational supplements and Social Security payments.



SAFE FOR REDS—Newsmap details the demilitarized zone between South and North Vietnam. U.S. troops have been ordered not to shoot into the northern half of the DMZ unless fired on first. (UPI Telephoto)

DMZ No-Shoot Policy Irks U.S. Commanders

SAIGON (UPI)—The United States has ordered its soldiers not to fire into the North Vietnam half of the border Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) unless guerrillas there first shoot at them, U.S. military sources said today.

The policy, in effect since President Johnson stopped the bombing of North Vietnam Nov. 1 but revealed by official sources for the first time today, has rankled U.S. commanders along South Vietnam's northern tier.

These commanders say the policy lets the Communists set up camps and guns that threaten U.S. Marine positions along the zone. Yet the U.S. soldiers can fire only when fired on from the northern sector, and that has happened just eight times since Nov. 1, U.S. figures show.

The disclosure came as the number of North Vietnamese intrusions into the so-called neutral zone passed the 3,000 mark since the Nov. 1 halt in U.S. bombing of North Vietnam.

In ordering a halt of the bombing, former President Johnson set forth among several implied conditions that the neutrality of the DMZ could not be violated by Communist troops.

This policy, which likely would be changed if an invasion were threatened, has given North Vietnamese troops virtually free access to the upper half of the DMZ.

Israeli Planes Once Again Hit Jordan Valley Targets

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli warplanes roared over Jordan today and hammered a suspected guerrilla pocket a few miles beyond the Jordan River and just south of the Sea of Galilee.

Witnesses reported smoke and flames rising from the Jordan Valley, and military sources said the targets were bases of the Arab commando organization Al Fatah.

The army would give no information, and no further details were available.

The Suez Canal, scene of five artillery battles in the past six days, was reported quiet.

Israeli and Egyptian gunners exchanged fire up and down the 103-mile waterway twice yesterday. Fires could be seen blazing at the Port Suez refinery complex and at Ismailia, but Cairo Radio said they were under control. Egypt also said six Egyptians had been wounded.

For the first time since the 1967 war, the shooting came within a dozen miles of Port Said, Egypt's sprawling Mediterranean port at the northern end of the canal.

Egypt claimed its guns downed three Israeli helicopters, but an Israeli spokesman denied the report. Israel reported no casualties or material losses.

An Egyptian communique said three Israeli missile positions were destroyed, as well as two artillery batteries.

Nuclear Pact Now Before The Russians

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate ratification of the nuclear nonproliferation treaty has passed the next move in damping down the arms race to the United States' would be partner in disarmament talks—the Soviet Union.

U.S. diplomats generally expected that Moscow would soon follow suit. The Kremlin does not have to tussle with a sometimes balky Legislature in its ratification routine.

But some figured the Soviets might foot-drag a while, using the delay for such political purposes as pressuring the West Germans to join the treaty.

It takes ratification by all three original nuclear co-sponsors of the pact—the United States, the Soviet Union and Britain—to bring the treaty into force. Britain ratified last November.

Also, at least 40 other nonnuclear nations must ratify. Since the treaty was presented to the world last July 1, a total of 87 countries have signed and 10 have ratified.

A lopsided Senate vote of 83 to 15 in favor of the treaty yesterday climaxed an eight-month U.S. delay caused by international tensions and domestic politics.

The treaty carries two basic provisions: (1) nuclear nations pledge not to supply atomic arms to those who do not have them, and (2) the have-not countries agree not to acquire them.

Reappointed As Board Member

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Robert McCarthy Sr., father of state Sen. John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael, yesterday was reappointed by Gov. Ronald Reagan to the board of directors of the 1-A District Agricultural Association.

The senior McCarthy, who first was appointed to the board by Gov. Edmund G. Brown in 1957, is a Democrat. The association operates the annual Grand National Livestock Exposition, Horse Show and Rodeo at the Cow Palace, and board members are not paid for their four-year terms.

Tank System Under Attack

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of a House subcommittee has charged the Army with "wasteful mismanagement," contending the service developed a new tank weapons system without suitable ammunition.

The three-member House Armed Services investigating subcommittee, headed by Rep. Samuel S. Stratton, D-N.Y., opened an investigation yesterday into part of the Army's tank program.

The first day's testimony centered on two new systems: the Sheridan and a modification of the M60, now the mainstay of the Army's heavy field armor.

Both are designed to fire, from the same tube, 152mm ammunition or the heat-seeking Shillelagh missile, and in both engineers encountered difficulties in developing the sophisticated new turret mechanism.

Sundays Liked By Would-be Killers

NEW DELHI (AP) — Sunday is the favorite day for would-be killers, according to an official of the central bureau of investigation.

He said a study of murders in New Delhi also showed that January and February are for some reason preferred by murders. The largest number of murders are committed between midnight and daybreak and the fewest in the forenoon, he said.

CAMPUS UNREST

Alioto Roughed Up By Angry Students

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The tempo of violence has increased in several student protests as gunfire was exchanged on one campus, the mayor of San Francisco was roughed up at another and classes were canceled after new clashes at a third.

At North Carolina A&T State University in Greensboro, police and students exchanged gunfire near the campus last night. Police said two students were slightly wounded and 10 persons arrested.

The gunfire came after police used tear gas to try and break up a crowd of students they said were disrupting traffic and stoning cars. Off-duty policemen were summoned to quell the disturbance.

The disorder began after a campus rally in support of striking university dining room workers employed by a private corporation.

Earlier in the day the students had decided to boycott the Washington, San Francisco dining halls although their meals there have been paid for in advance. The workers are seeking a 40-cent-an-hour pay increase to a minimum $1.80 per hour plus other demands.

At Georgetown University in Washington, San Francisco Mayor Joseph Alioto was roughed up by demonstrators who rushed the stage. He was forced to move to another building for a planned speech on "Law and the Campus."

Alioto said he was struck on the side of the face and on the shoulder. He did not require treatment and no severe injuries were reported.

College officials said many of the demonstrators were known members of the Students for a Democratic Society and some were from other schools.

Leaflets titled "Racist Strikebreaker Plans to Speak at GU" were circulated in advance of his appearance. The reference was to the strike at San Francisco State College.

Officials at Rutgers University canceled classes at the Newark, N.J. campus today because of "threats of violence and physical injury." Black students had vowed to shut the campus down.

Their pledge came last night after a day in which black students set bonfires, invaded an administration office and twice clashed with firemen.

University president Mason Gross said he canceled classes "at the request of representatives of the student council as well as senior faculty members."

The black students are protesting a faculty vote to repudiate agreements between themselves and the administration to admit more Negroes.

Elsewhere:

Negro students at Beloit College in Wisconsin reached a tentative agreement with administrators on demands including hiring Negro instructors who will not necessarily have to meet the usual qualifications.

The leader of a Negro student boycott at the 15 schools in Plainfield, N.J., said the strike would continue indefinitely. The schools reopened Thursday after being shut down for a week following a racial brawl in the high school.

"We won't enter the building until there is a better school and we are assured we'll all come out in one piece," said Debbie Low. School authorities have agreed to reforms including expansion of Negro history but the students say they reneged on a promise to have security officers but "not policemen" in the schools.

In Patterson, N.J., three days of sit-ins at Eastside High School were followed by a walkout and a "liberation" school for the boycotting students. The walkout by 500 Negroes and whites was to protest the presence of police and cancellation of a school board meeting.

Marijuana Raiders Find Marinite Bound To Post

SAN FRANCISCO (AP — Police staging a marijuana raid arresed two men on a kidnaping charge yesterday after finding a Larkspur man tied hand and foot in a Sunset District basement.

Arrested in the basement on kidnaping and narcotics charges were Robert Loveless, 20, of San Francisco, and Harry Felten, 20, of Burlingae.

Loveless was quoted as saying Doko "owes me a lot of bread and hasn't paid me." Doko was tied, he added, to teach him a lesson.

Doko was charged with pssessing marijuana and being under the influence of drugs.

Inspectors also arrested outside the house Raymond E. Pesce, Richard C. Thomas and Stanley Kolar, all 21 and all of San Francisco, on narcotics charges.

Police said they found 13 kilogras of marijuana—about 29 pounds. They also said they found two color television sets, cameras, radios, musical instruments, a sawed-off shotgun and a pistol—all believed stolen.

Vandals Open Gasoline Valves

NAPA (AP) — Vandals opened valves at Shell Oil Co. storage tanks yesterday and released 30,000 gallons of gasoline, 1,500 gallons of solvent and 1,300 gallons of weed killer.

The Coast Guard and game warden Don Hall at Napa said they found no trace of the petroleum products in the nearby Napa River and no loss of wildlife.

Officials couldn't immediately determine a motive for the vandalism, which cost the firm $6,500.

Death Reveals Guerrilla Base

MIAMI (AP) — Deputy sheriffs combed the swampy Everglades today for a man accused of killing a fellow soldier of fortune during a combat drill at a secret Haitian guerrilla base.

The missing man, described by companions as a Haitian Negro who claimed to be a deserter from the U.S. Marines, disappeared after the fatal shooting Tuesday of Gerald D. Baker at the base in the Everglades.

Sheriff Robert Brown of Monroe county jailed 12 men found at the base on charges of being accessories to murder. He said the group at the hidden camp had planned to invade Haiti in an attempt to overthrow President Francois "Papa Doc" Duvalier.

Those arrested included an American, a Canadian and 10 Haitians.

Span Board Asks New Law To Permit Transit Bonds

revenue bonds to be sold by a majority vote to the board.

Voting against Guidotti's plan was Marin Supervisor Michael Wornum, who said the board was "trying to grab too much too soon." No additional revenue power should be granted to the board, he said, until the Napa County suit against the district on board expansion is settled.

The suit challenges a 1968 state law that added city councilmen and county supervisors to the bridge board and added four directors, two from San Francisco, one from Marin and one from Sonoma.

Wornum, noting that legislation already is pending to give the district power to go into all forms of transit, also argued that transit plans should be drawn before power is sought to finance them.

Joining Wornum against Guidotti's motion were San Francisco Supervisor Ronald Pelosi, Stephan C. Leonoudakis of San Francisco and Mill Valley Mayor Dean N. Meyer. Marin's third representative on the board, Joseph E. Sheeks of Belvedere, voted for the motion.

The $520 million figure was reported by Gen. Mgr. Dale W. Luehring. The sum represented 15 per cent of the district's assessed valuation of $3.468 billion. Bonding capacity is limited by state law to 15 per cent of assessed valuation.

The vote came after directors agreed informally that voters probably would not approve general obligation bonds, which would require two-thirds ratification at the polls.

Luehring noted that 63 per cent of the assessed valuation of the district was in San Francisco and 16 per cent in Marin County.

Guidotti, in proposing the revenue bonds, told directors, "You'll be sitting around this table and talking about doing something for another 10 years" without new financing powers.

If the Legieslature balks at giving the board power to vote such bonds, then perhaps a compromise could be worked out to allow the bonds to be approved by the voters, but with less than a two-thirds vote, Guidotti said.

In other business, the board voted to ask the California Public Utilities Commission "to force Greyhound to provide the proper services" between Marin and San Francisco. The proposal was made by Blake, who insisted that the bus company was failing to provide adequate service to reduce the number of cars into San Francisco.

Greyhound long has been on record as wanting to cease all commute operations.

Directors also referred to their finance committee a proposal by director L. E. Castner of Sonoma County to increase bus tolls on the bridge. Bus tolls were cut from $1 to 13 cents by the board in March 1966 to forestall a passenger fare increase sought by Greyhound.

District Auditor Gorden E. Dahlgren told directors that the toll cut has subsidized buses to a total of $580,000.

Fred H. Dierker, last month said the district either will have to improve its treatment of sewage waste or relocate its discharge pipes away from recreational areas and into deeper water.

No one from the district appeared before the board, which met in the Contra Costa County Administration Building.

The Bolinas district has been under a cease and desist order for more than three years to stop dumping raw sewage in the mouth of the Bolinas Lagoon. The order was amended yesterday to give it until July 15, 1970, to complete all construction of a joint treatment system with the Stinson Beach County Water District.

Stinson Beach is on septic tanks.

The Bolinas district last month told the regional board it would start construction within a year, and that its financing would require county participation. If the county refuses to help, the board agreed, the deadline may have to be extended.

The regional board has extended previous deadlines to encourage the two districts to build joint facilities.

Our patience will run out very shortly," chairman William C. Weber cautioned.

In another Marin case, the board set an April 15 deadline for the Marin Debris Company of Maggiora and Ghilotti Inc. to propose a time schedule to dike its dump west of Highway 17 about a mile from the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge. The dike will prevent wastes from seeping into the bay.

Commissioner Sidney S. Lippow of Martinez sharply criticized the City of San Rafael for permitting the dump to open before the regional board could set standards for its operation. "Marin County does things in the strangest way," he said.

The board's area engineer, Daniel F. Murphy, noted that he had asked the city to ensure that dumps "are maintained in a dry condition, but they have not included this condition in any of their permits."

In other matters, the board declared that the San Rafael Sanitation District should take steps to reduce its dumping of raw sewage mixed with stormwater by next year. A detailed progress report from the district was asked by April 20.

The board also gave San Quentin Prison one year to improve treatment of its waste water. The prison is exempt from the board's jurisdiction, but the board's staff said it would recommend other "legal remedies" if the state Department of Corrections did not meet the deadline.

The prison was one of the top 14 violators of the regional board's standards during 1968.

Half the U.S. population under 15 has never been to a dentist, says the U.S. Public Health Service.

Base's wastes total some 350,000 gallons a day, and at the Mill Valley Air Force Station the figure is 17,000 gallons a day, according to the report. Treatment at both, however, is being improved.

In addition to the cease and desist order, the board also adopted a restlution asking Congress to approve the Navy's request for $3.5 million next fiscal year to start improving its waste disposal system at the air station and shipyard. No money was appropriated during the current fiscal year, a Navy spokesman told the board.

"If it appears that this board is getting tougher, then the appearance is quite correct," said chairman William C. Weber of San Mateo. "We're going to move as rapidly as we can to enforce our standards," he said.

In a related matter, Weber noted that Assemblyman March K. Fong, D-Oakland, yesterday proposed a bill to empower the board to levy huge fines against any governmental agency polluting the bay.

The bill, to be introduced next week, would levy a maximum fine of $100,000 a month for every 100,000 of population. In San Francisco's case, it could reach almost $800,000 a month. San Francisco has a unique system of combining rain and sewage waters, thus often releases raw sewage into the bay.

The board last month suggested the $100,000 figure, with a 10 per cent increase in the fine each month. A study panel of the State Water Quality Control Board is considering recommending a fine of $6,000 a day.

Juvenile Hall Inmate, 17, Dies

A 17-year-old girl inmate of Marin County Juvenile Hall died unexpectedly this morning of unknown cause.

Cynthia Hopps, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Hopps of 120 San Rafael Avenue, Belvedere, was pronounced dead on arrival at Kaiser Foundation Hospital a short distance from the juvenile hall at 7:53 a.m.

The girl fainted about 4 p.m. yesterday after leaving a routine afternon meeting of inmates and counselors, reported Chief Probation Officer Walter Busher. She was taken to Marin General Hospital and examined by her family doctor there. Finding nothing wrong, he directed she be returned to juvenile hall.

This morning, said Busher, the girl awakened about 6:25 a.m. and went to the common area, where she asked Alicia Moore, a counselor on duty, for permission to stay there until breakfast. She seemed normal at that time, Busher said.

At the breakfást table, she collapsed. She was then rushed to Kaiser Hospital.

Cynthia had been at juvenile hall since Feb. 28, Busher reported, having been made a ward of juvenile court as "beyond parental control" after running away from home.

Dr. Donovan O. Cooke, coroner, said determination of cause of death will await an autopsy and probably toxicology tests.

on federal charges in San Francisco and again in Marin County in October, but these cases were dismissed.

Bell was indicted by the Marin Grand Jury on several counts of selling marijuana and speed, but after he pleaded guilty to the two counts, the other charges were dismissed.

The guilty pleas came last November after a jury had been chosen for the trial of Bell and his two assistant salesmen, Robert Drolla and Robert Nelson both of San Rafael. At the close of the opening statements of the deputy district attorney, the three pleaded guilty.

Drolla was sentenced to state prison for one to five years, and Nelson received a year in the county jail.

Bell's probation report presented in court yesterday indicated he had been reared on a farm in Missouri, where he lived until he was 16.

Although he only got as far as the seventh grade in school, probation officers found him to be "sophisticated," especially in the ways of the underworld.

Until about two years ago, however, Bell worked in construction activities and was considered a good and reliable worker by the Hodcarriers Union, to which he belonged.

His attorney, Harold Hayes, yesterday tried to convince Judge Gardiner that Bell had "gone straight" since his arrest in February and has a regular job (as a bartender).

In addition, Hayes said, Bell is now married and his wife is pregnant.

Hayes' plea for a county jail sentence for Bell was strongly disputed by Deputy Dist. Atty. Jerry R. Herman, who said that such a sentence would make other drug salesmen feel "the money earned would be worth it."

Judge Gardiner said that there was evidence that the two counts on which he was sentencing Bell were only a small part of the picture but that he had taken Bell's conduct in recent months into account and would not write a letter to the California Adult Authority recommending an especially stiff sentence.

Nixon said he does not believe the Soviets would interpret his move today as escalation of the arms race.

"I think the Soviet Union recognizes very clearly the difference between a defensive posture and an offensive posture," the President explained.

"The Sentinel system approved by the previous administration provided more capabilities for the defense of cities than the program I am recommending," Nixon stated, "but it did not provide protection against some threats to our retaliatory forces which have developed subsequently."

"Protection of our land-based retaliatory forces against a direct attack by the Soviet Union."

"Defense of the American people against the kind of nuclear attack which Communist China is likely to be able to mount within the decade."

Ross Views Shift In Dog Ordinance

And what do you do about it when he's not?

These two questions popped up before the Ross Town Council last night when councilman Natalie G. Lewis said she had been besieged by complaints about dogs in Ross.

"I've changed my mind," Mrs. Lewis said in introducing the nonagenda item. "I've had complaints from six different areas of town. We as the council have a responsibility to our citizens."

"I don't know just what we ought to do, but perhaps we should look at what Mr. (Thomas M.) Campanella has to say," Mrs. Lewis continued.

Campanella, assistant county administrator, has been visiting cities proposing a county-wide animal control ordinance.

"Are you going to let them snatch dogs right off their owner's front yard," he asked, referring to wording of a proposed ordinance which, although it doesn't require a leash on a dog, requires the owner to have the animal under control.

"That ordinance means that if the owner goes to the post office and leaves the dog on his front porch, they could come take him," Jones, a dog owner, added.

Mrs. Lewis said that the various complaints she received ranged from just barking dogs to those running in packs, both day and night.

"We just have to see that dogs are kept under some kind of control," Mrs. Lewis said.

A sparse audience, who had been conspicuously quiet while the council tediously plodded through the agenda same to life.

"We don't want a leash law around here, I'm certain," commented John H. Chase, "but I agree we do need something."

Chase, who lives on Upper Road, said that several times he has broken up packs of dogs in his area. "I've actually taken a club and broken them up," he said, "but they're right back the next night."

'I'm sure none of us want a leash law, but I think what we do need is an ordinance which would allow abatement of specific problems," Chase continued.

The council ended the hairy matter by voting to invite Campanella to the next meeting to discuss an animal control ordinance.

Sewer Plan Is Given Approval

Plans for sanitary sewer lines to serve the 82-acre Quail Hill development at Northgate Shopping Center were approved last night by Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District directors.

Secretary Lelia Sayers said developers will put up an acreage charge of $8,266 plus a deposit to cover the cost of engineering, inspection and the checking of plans on the sewer lines.

The Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District directors also:

INSURANCE — Renewed for another year the insurance policy with St. Paul Fire Insurance Co. at a cost of $2,446 premium.

Ross Ready To Rewrite Home Code

Ross councilmen last night began piecing together an ordinance which they hope will soon stamp out many "undesirable" businesses operating from homes in the city.

At least one councilman has his eye on a particular alleged violator of the city's existing code which prohibits a business in a residentially zoned area.

The council is seeking to enact an ordinance which would get rid of ''home occupations" which create traffic, require deliveries or involve any kind of manufacturing.

Councilmen Roy Farrington Jones came to last night's meeting armed with a list of "home occupations" in Ross which are paying sales tax to the state. Many of these, he said, were not paying a town business license fee, however. Jones said he got his list from Sacramento.

Jones noted in particular" . . . there is an antique shop on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard that sells every day, yet they maintain that they aren't a business.

"I've called them on the phone," he said, "and they assure me that they are not running a business from their home."

Jones said, however, that the homeowner advertises in the yellow pages of the telephone directory.

Jones and Councilman Natalie G. Lewis have been working on the draft of an ordinance which would spell out the types of "home occupations" which would be allowed in the city.

They indicated that such things as telephone survey work, an answering service or "small handicraft shops" would be tolerated.

Jones also said that a reduced $10 a year business license fee would be charged.

The Ross Town Council last night also:

TRAFFIC LIGHT — Applied to the county for $18,300 in Urban Thoroughfare funds to erect a traffic signal at the Laurel Grove and Sir Francis Drake Blvd. intersection. The total cost of the light will be $36,600.

STOP SIGNS — Adopted a resolution granting the town council the authority to erect stop signs at intersections where deemed necessary by the police force.

RENTAL UNIT — Denied Gregory K. Solon's request for a variance to allow rental of a second vacant house on his property at 48 Ivy Drive, requested, Solon said, to prevent hippies breaking in and living in it.

Tamalpais Valley Home Burglarized

David John Marriott reported to sheriff's officers that his home at 832 Autumn Lane, Tamalpais Valley, had been ransacked and burglarized Wednesday, officers said today.

Missing were $450 worth of camera equipment, $30 in coins, a stereo set and binoculars.

Auto's Windshield Shattered By Rock

Robert S. Horvath of 384 Ferndale Avenue, Homestead Valley, told deputied he was driving toward Sausalito at 2 p.m. when he passed a group of Negro boys apparently walking home from school. One boy approximately 7 years old, threw the bottle, which smashed the windshield on the driver's side, said Horvath who was not injured. The bottle was flung from the point where the fence ends on the Sausalito side of the underpass.

The incident came on the heels of a Wednesday night meeting in which Sausalito school officials and Marin City residents urged removal of a fence built at the underpass last July to curb rock throwing by juveniles. Opponents called the fence an affront to the Marin City community.

California Highway Patrol records show 45 vehicles were damaged by rock throwing at the underpass between October 1966, and last May. The vandalism was sporadic during most of that time, but last May 13 cars were damaged in incidents on seven different days.

Since the fence went up, only three incidents have been reported, including yesterday's.

The state Division of Highways erected an 8-foot fence between the street and the sidewalk, extended the existing fence on the other side of the sidewalk, and removed some shrubbery in which youngsters hid in ambush for rock throwing.

Highway Patrol Sgt. James Dukes said the fence also served to protect children walking home from school.

Highway patrol records show damage in 1966 to one car in October, and six cars in November; in 1967, one car damaged in January, one each in May, June, July and August, 12 in October and one in December; in 1968 two in January, two in April and 13 last May.

Bank Honors College Pair

Jeff L. Andre of Novato and Leilani E. Torres of Greenbrae, College of Marin students, were honored last night by the Bank of America for being among the best business students in junior colleges in Northern and Central California.

A total of 83 students were honored at a dinner in San Francisco. Each was presented with a $300 check.

The Living God

Anyone whose life has been touched by the healing power of divine Love, anyone whose prayers have brought a glimpse of what it means to be spirtually alive, knows from his own experience about "the living God" spoken of in the Bible. Awareness of His presence comes in different ways to each individual, but it grows only with deep prayer and study. Christian Science Reading Rooms and church services are there to help. UNEXPECTED ARRIVAL

The garage doors at the home of Lou Sabella on Marin Drive in Peacock Gap yesterday were smashed in at 7 p.m. last night when a car rolled down the hill on San Marino Drive. The car's owner, Ronald Goode of 24 San Marino Drive suggested to San Rafael police that someone may have been trying to steal the car at the time. The police investigation will continue.

Sirhan Smiles Over Tapes

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Sirhan B. Sirhan smiled and giggled as tape recordings were played in court of his conversations toying with police officers in the hours after his arrest for shooting Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

The 24-year-old Arab appeared to be enjoying himself immensely yesterday as he listened to the replay in which detectives tried to get him to give his name and he fended them off with wisecracks.

The defense contends he was intoxicated and "disassociated." The prosecution claims he was a shrewd assassin who knew perfectly well what he was doing and pretended not to know he had shot Kennedy.

The trial was in recess until Monday.

The tapes were made in police headquarters in the early morning hours of June 5, 1968. Sirhan rambled on about the stock market, other murder cases, the high cost of having a family, the administration of justice, the grape pickers strike and foreign travel.

Sirhan would answer questions until they began to hone in on his identity.

Federal Recreation Funds To Be Sought

Federal funds will be sought for recreational development of Marin Municipal Water District lands, Gen. Mgr. William R. Seeger revealed yesterday.

Seeger mentioned the application was being prepared after the district board approved sanitary facilities for the Rock Springs area of Mount Tamalpais.

He said the area had been planned for more extensive development this year, but plans were changed to develop the Lake Lagunitas area because it is more accessible. Plans for development are being prepared and a recreation report is expected in about two months.

Directors did not discuss recreational development or the federal grant.

After the meeting, Seeger said the application will be for about $57,000 on a 50-50 matching fund basis.

In other business, the board authorized Seeger to proceed with phase two of studies to take over four sanitary districts after Seeger recommended additional consideration.

He said he had talked with officials of the four districts, the Stinson Beach County Water Co. and the Homestead Valley, Alto and Almonte sanitary districts, but needs more extensive studies before bringing the matter to the board.

He said the studies would be done by the water district staff for $500 to $1,000.

Robert W. Elliott, the district's attorney, noted the study was probably a preliminary to annexation.

Seeger said residents of each of the districts would have to vote on the question of take-over by the water district. Each of sanitary districts have requested the studies by the water district.

Corte Madera Sanitary District also had asked consideration for absorption, but has since decided to merge with the Town of Corte Madera.

Marin Municipal Water District directors also:

WARM SPRINGS — Approved a resolution asking Congress to appropriate funds for the Warm Springs Dam project in Sonoma County. The dam, on which Marin's future water supply hinges, was approved in 1962, but so far, only funds for a road relocation have been allocated.

KEYPUNCH — Agreed to sell a keypunch which cost $4,000 in 1963 for $100 to the Sonoma Mortgage Co. The keypunch is part of the old data processing system which was recently replaced and Seeger said the equipment is obsolete and difficult to get rid of.

ACCIDENT — Settled with the San Francisco Municipal Railway for $137.25 damages, half of what the district asked following an accident between district equipment and a bus in San Francisco.

ROAD WORK — Approved contributing $500 to paving Fern Canyon Road in Mill Valley because part of the road passes district property. Mill Valley had asked $2,860, Seeger reported.

EQUIPMENT — Approved the low bid of $7,068 by American Pipe and Construction Co., San Leandro, for pipe needed for a Larkspur road project; and the low bids of Groniger Co. and the Crane Co., both of San Francisco, for valves, at a total cost of $2,386.

PHOENIX — Heard a report from Seeger that all of the Phoenix Dam problems have been solved and the lake is now filling.

PIPELINES — Approved a pipeline extension costing $37,596 for the Swig property on Lucas Valley Road, and another for the Romac Pacific Co. on North Industrial Way, Larkspur, for $4,370. All costs will be paid by the applicants.

RESIGNATION — Accepted the resignation of Wesley Baker of the pump department, because of sex education in Marin County Schools. District officials reported Baker was intensely opposed to sex education and had frequently threatened to move if it was adopted. In addition, his children had been threatened after he spoke against sex education, officials said.

Tam Firemen Seat Officers

Allen R. Howe was installed last night as president of the Tamalpais Volunteer Firemen's Association. Former president Wendell M. Joost Jr. was installed as vice president.

Other new officers are Frank Christ III, secretary; Robert Dewalt, treasurer; Tad Alvord, Station 1 trustee, and Clark Jensen, Station 2 trustee.

The firemen donated $100 toward expenses of a citizens' committee to work for a proposed district bond issue for a new fire station and upgraded fire equipment and mains.

The association agreed to hold its annual Easter egg hunt for children in the district on April 5, the time and place to be chosen later.

Wikel

The loss of your property by reason of flood, fire, storm, shipwreck, vandalism and other casualty, or by theft is deductible only to the extent the loss from each casualty or theft exceeds $100. This is like the $100 "deductible" under a casualty insurance policy.

If you have two losses from one casualty, only one $100 deduction is made. Husband and wife filing jointly are treated as one, so separate losses suffered in the same casualty bring only one reduction.

This does not apply to losses of corporations or business losses of individuals. If the property is part personal and part business, the $100 reduction applies only to the personal part.

Any insurance recovery must be deducted from the amount of the loss before you make the deduction on your tax return. Also, the loss can never exceed the cost or other basis of the property regardless of the fair market value at the time of loss.

Uusally the loss is the difference between the fair market value of the property before the loss and the fair market value, if any, of the property after the loss.

The costs of repairing, replacing or cleaning up after the casualty are not allowable deductions. However, if the repairs, replacements or cleaning up do nothing more than restore the property to its condition immediately before the casualty, and do not add to the value, utility or useful life of the property, such costs may be used as a measure of the decrease in value.

To prove a loss, you must show seven points:

What happened and when; that the loss was a direct result of the happening; that you owned the property; the cost or other basis of the property; depreciation allowed or allowable; value before and after the casualty, and the amount of any insurance or other compensation received.

Proving value before and after the casualty is the difficulty. Photographs and appraisals are helpful.

The costs of photographs, appraisals, accounting fees, etc., in connection with deducting your loss or the preparation of your tax return are deductible in the year paid on page 2, part IV, line 16, of form 1040 if it was a personal loss. They are deductible in the same way as any other business expense if it was a business loss.

On your federal return, if the loss is any amount greater than your income for 1968, you would carry the excess back to 1965 and fill a claim for refund of the income tax paid for 1965. If the amount of the loss was such that your 1965 income did not absorb it all, then any unused loss could be carried to 1966 and 1967, then any unused loss could be carried forward for the next five years and applied against the income of those years.

DEAD GIVEAWAY—Finding hypodermic needles and kindred equipment in a suspect's possession is a dead giveaway to narcotics addiction. (AP Wirephoto) coming to be regarded by many students as a badge of youth, like taking a drink or smoking a regular cigarette."

In some colleges, 20 to 30 per cent or more of students may have experimented with pot, according to various estimates.

LSD may make the pupils of the eyes dilate, so that a person who has recently taken a sufficient dose may wear dark sunglasses, even indoors. But, again, this same effect can be brought on by a medication, like an antihistamine that contains atropine. Or young people may wear their sunglasses out of affectation, or plain forgetfulness.

The LSD user, depending on the drug dose and his reaction, is usually not disoriented, one expert says. He can usually straighten up and give an impression nothing is wrong. He may be inclined to sit or lie quietly, in a dream-like state, but also may become highly agitated.

Up to 5 per cent of college students may have tried LSD at the height of its popularity, Dr. Dana L. Farnsworth, Harvard University psychiatrist, estimates. Now, with dangers or potential dangers of the drug better known, probably under one per cent are experimenting with it or using it frequently.

Pep pills or amphetamines can cause a variety of effects. Small doses make a person more alert, and reduce his need to sleep.

These drugs suppress appetite — one reason they are prescribed by physicians sometimes is to aid in weight reduction — and reduce the sense of fatigue. The abuser may be restless and nervous, may become very talkative, or have delusions.

Amphetamines produce a drying effect on mucous membrances of the mouth and nose. Bad breath and frequent licking of the lips may result.

... Barbiturates — the goofballs — may make a person appear drunk, but with no odor of alcohol on his breath. With a small amount, he may feel more relaxed, sociable, and good-humored. Larger doses can cause thick speech, clumsy or slowed movements, drowsiness and poor judgment.

The person drugged on heroin and other narcotics usually appears sleepy and lethargic, or even very intoxicated. Pupils of the eye may be constricted, not responding to light.

Finding hypodermic needles and other equipment on his person, or hidden away, is of course a give-away. The regular heroin user likely wears long sleeves even on hot days to hide needle marks on his arms.

Heroin is rarely used on college campuses, says Dr. Kenneth Keniston, Yale psychologist. It and other "hard" narcotics are the least of the drug use problem among students and young people, he says, and are little cause for parents to fear their children are becoming junkies or addicts.

Except in the instance of needle marks on the arms, none of the signs or symptoms described above are sure-fire clues someone is taking drugs.

Experts warn you should not jump to conclusions because you detect or think your detect any of these symptoms.

Moreover, they strongly caution parents and teachers that snooping around, sniffing a child's clothes, inspecting his eyes and breath, and otherwise policing him or accusing him in obvious pursuit of "evidence" can boomerang badly.

This kind of playing policeman by parents, out of their anxiety, could well lead to a deeper gulf between parent and child — or outright war.

Providing one perspective, Dr. Farnsworth declares that "the present generation of young people in our schools and colleges are the best informed, the most intelligent, and the most idealistic of any we have ever had in this country."

Today's young people "are more moral than their elders, 90 per cent of them," he adds. "The fringe is destructive because it becomes fanatic, and can contaminate the rest."

Stereo Is Stolen

Esther B. Bullard of 77 Wolfe Grade, Kentfield, reported to the sheriff's department that while she was visiting her hospitalized son Wednesday someone stole a stereo and portable television set from her home, officers said today.

Drug Booking Made On An Old Warrant

David Roger Harris, 21, former Lagunitas resident now living in San Francisco, sought for over a year by officials after being indicted on drug sales charges, yesterday was picked up on an old traffic warrant.

Harris, who was turned over to Marin officials by Sonoma County authorities, was booked into Marin County Jail with bail set at $5,000 on the drug charges and $161 on the traffic charges.

Harris, who was among persons indicted by the Marin County Grand Jury last February after a countywide narcitocs roundup, was to be arraigned today by Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Superior Court.

The outstanding warrant for marijuana sales came to light yesterday when a woman came into the county clerk's office to ask which court Harris was to appear in. A clerk, checking the name, found that Harris was also wanted by Superior Court.

Word was sent to Municipal Court, where Harris was being araigned on a year-old charge of driving at night without lights and giving a false name and identification to officers.

He is charged with selling marijuana to agents of the Marin Drug Abuse Bureau at his Lagunitas home on Dec. 1 and Dec. 8, 1967.

Harris is the son of Ross Police Chief John F. Harris, who said he has not seen the youth for some time.

Dredge Pact Of $23,368 Is Signed

A supplementary contract for $23,368 for additional dredging was signed last night by the Bel Marin Keys Community Services District board and Hydraulic Dredge of Oakland, according to secretary Betty Zoeller.

Of this, the distict will pay $3,000 and the lending firms the balance, she said.

The district will also pay Jack D. Kinney $500 for use of the new spoils site plus engineering costs estimated at between $300 and $400, she said.

The originial contract of $53,775 for dedging was awarded last Nov. 14, but the dredging company found much more silt than originally anticipated, so negotiations for removal of the additional silt have been going on since, she said.

The dredging should be completed in approximately three weeks, according to Mrs. Zoeller.

The board will investigate a possible dog leash law for the district to keep dogs from chasing people on bicycles, she said. This will mean going to both the county counsel and the Marin County Humane Society for advise, she said.

Spaghetti House To Reopen Under Original Ownership

Look for a reopening of the former Bellucci's Spaghetti House, across the highway from Hamilton Air Force Base, Ignacio, on March 27.

David Bellucci, who owns the Skylark Motel where the restaurant is located, has been running Adobe Creek Lodge and its extensive 100-acre operation in Los Altos since 1961 and has had the Ignacio restaurant leased out all these years.

You may recall that Chris and Lavonne Baseheart, now at the Plaza Restaurant and Cocktail Lounge at Pacheco Shopping Center, operated the Skylark Cocktail Lounge previously.

Dave has redecorated the place from top to bottom and carpeted it from wall to wall, including even the restrooms. He has formed a partnership with Charles and Dina West of Sausalito and they will manage it. For a time anyway, Dave expects to spend two or three days a week at the restaurant himself.

Planned is the type of menu he used to serve: Italian spaghetti dinners at a low price. I'm told the complete dinner will be $1.95 for adults and $1 for children. And there will be a good list of imported and California wines and beers. There is also a banquet room which will seat up to 80 persons.

Lunches will be served Mondays through Fridays. Dinners will be served nightly except Wednesdays to about 9 p.m. Sunday hours will be from noon.

A NEW DRIVE-IN RESTAURANT will open in San Rafael in June at 462 Third Street. It will be called Mr. T's.

This will be located on the former Marin County Humane Society property, where ground has been broken for a 2,000-square-foot building by contractor Charles Jones, according to plans drawn up by Sausalito architect Donald Keith Olsen.

Mr. T's will be operated by Frank and Peter Tarantino and Caesar Taverna, who already have The T's in Northgate Shopping Center. There will be self-service inside, where there is seating for about 65 persons, much of it around a large fireplace. Outside there will be car-hop service and off-street parking for about 25 cars.

THE KING AND I, 42 Red Hill Avenue, San Anselmo (on the Miracle Mile), which has been closed recently due to the death of the former owner, has been reopened under new proprietors.

Kimmo Durand of Novato and Arthur Pla of San Rafael are the new principals. They are continuing the former type of operation, hamburgers and ice cream. Kimmo was with Trader Vic for more than seven years. Art has been a restaurant manager in San Francisco.

Hours are from 10 am.. to 10 p.m. seven days a week. During the summer an additional hour will be added at each end of this schedule.

IN SAUSALITO, Tom Siddle has added prime rib of beef to the menu at the Vicarage, 291 Bridgeway. This is the much redecorated sequel to the Cat 'n' Fiddle, done over like an elaborate English pub.

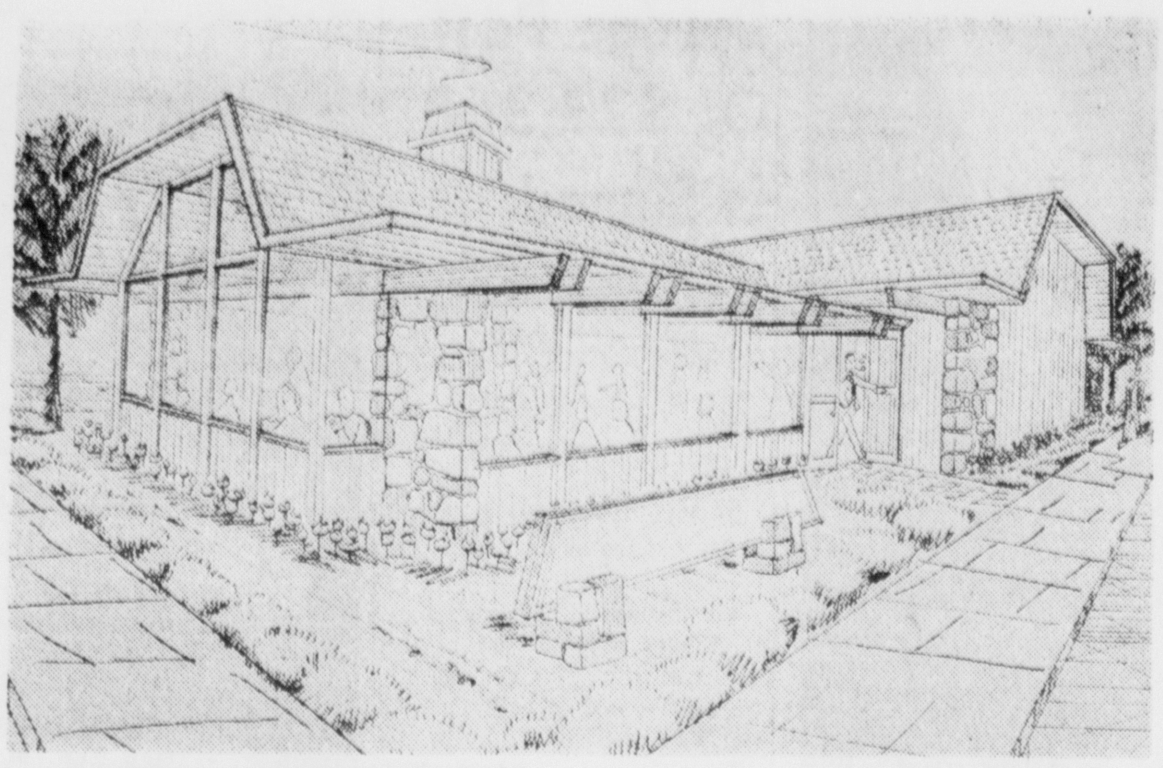
MONDAY will be St. Patrick's Day and Jim McKee, being the loyal Irishman he is, will observe the occasion properly at his Lincoln Avenue hofbrau with plates of corned beef and cabbage. There will be music and good listening to the old songs o' Erin. Tab is $1.25 for all you can eat at both lunch and dinner.

PIER 15, San Rafael, will observe St. Patrick's Day tomorrow night so far as its menu is concerned. Featured, naturally, will be corned beef and cabbage among other things.



NEW DRIVE-IN FOR SAN RAFAEL — Ground has been broken at the former Marin County Humane Society property on Third Street for Mr. T's, scheduled to open in June. This drawing was prepared by architect Donald Keith Olsen.

AND THE SAME MENU SPECIALTIES will be served both at lunch and dinner Monday by Franchini's Chateau. True, this place has no Irish name to go with it, but its corned beef is lean and flavorsome.

There are some who do not realize Franchini's is open seven days a week — from Mondays, when many restaurants are closed, to Sundays, when a morning brunch is served in addition to the regular Sunday dinner.

RYSTTAFEL is a new Dutch-Indonesian dish now being offered at L'Europe on the San Rafael Miracle Mile Wednesday and Thursday nights only. But it will have to be ordered by phone in advance. Frits Verburg says the recipe is too involved to prepare on short notice.

Basically it's rice surrounded by about 10 different other dishes — fish, vegetables, stuffed peppers, shrimp, brochette of beef and some other items, all highly seasoned. Tab is $9.50 for two. It's a rare spread and should interest those looking for something new.

CORRECTION: Pierre Bitterer of Santa Venetia is not chef at the Mark Hopkins Hotel in San Francisco, as related here last week. He is manager and maitre d' of the Nob Hill Restaurant at the Mark Hopkins. Versatile chap, isn't he?

HAVING OPENED one Jack-in-the-Box drive-in restaurant in San Anselmo, Foodmaker, Inc. (a subsidiary of Ralston Purina Co.) is now planning on another franchised establishment in Novato.

FRED CHERRY has sold out more than half his space for his first California Night on Thursday, March 27. First vintner guest is Louis Martini. Robert Mondavi, Steve Mirassou and Mike Elwood are some of the winemakers scheduled for later weeks at the Cafe Bon Vin, San Anselmo.

THERE ARE ABOUT as many theories on the origin of the martini as there are favorite ways of mixing this popular cocktail. Probably each section of the country has its own story.

In the east, for example, it was said to be invented by one Alejandro Martinez at the old Astor House in Manhatton, though some researchers have traced this one for other theories.

One of the most-repeated legends on the West Coast is that it was created by a San Francisco bartender, Jerry Thomas, back in the 1860s.

According to Robert O'Brien, author of "This Is San Francisco," Thomas also gave the world the Tom and Jerry and the Blue Blazer, probably concocted at the old Occidental Hotel.

O'Brien speculated that the original drink started out with gin and bitters, a touch of maraschino for color and an inspirational jigger of dry vermouth. And it was probably called the Martinez, after its first imbiber who very likely had stood at the bar and called for "something different."

And he speculated further that the maraschino was later abandoned as superfluous. Also that after three or four of these drinks the final "Z" in Martinez would get very much in the way — so the name was corrupted to Martini.

If you take it for granted that the Russians invented vodka, there are several other eastern European nations to dispute that claim vociferously.

And the "sour," that old reliable, apparently was a popular tipple as a rum sour in Puerto Rico long before it was "invented" either in London or Kentucky.

Headlands Road Job Bids All Rejected

Bids for construction of a road and parking area at Marin Headlands State Park, north of the Golden Gate Bridge, have been rejected and the project is being revised, state park officials reported.

Low bidder on the project to pave a dirt road from Conselman Road to Kirby Cove and provide a parking lot above the beach was by W. K. McLellan Co. of San Anselmo for $19.981.10, about $3.000 under the estimate.

African Living Bill Introduced

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Negro congressman has proposed that the United States offer black Americans the chance to settle permanently in Africa through government financing —if they are willing to give up their citizenship.

Rep. Robert Nix, a Philadelphia Democrat, introduced the bill yesterday on behalf of constituents," according to an aide who added. "The congressman personally disagrees with the purpose of it."

Nix's bill would have the United States buy land for each immigrant, provide free transportation, a house, health benefits and $7,000 a year until permanently settled.

Marin City Sets 'Soul Session'

The Marin City Council last night called a town meeting — "soul session" — for April 10 to air community concerns.

The "soul session" tag was placed by Councilman Ronald Foster and the members enthusiastically endorsed it.

Emphasis at the town meeting, which will begin at 8 p.m. in the Manzanita Community Center, will be on Marin City establishing its own police force and on a greater voice in education.

"We have to encourage parents to go up and find out what's happening," Councilman Collie Gaines said. "We have to take a more active part in education."

Councilman Margaret Beauchamp suggested the start of community newspaper in Marin City.

The council decided representatives of all community groups should be invited to the meeting as a means of determining whether they are being effective.

A representative of Plan of Action for Challenging Times, the San Francisco group which is advising the council on community planning, was unable to attend last night's council meeting as scheduled, but will be present at the town meeting.

In other business, the council urged Marin City residents to appear before the Marin County Board of Supervisors Tuesday when the board hears the council's request for $25,000 in funds to accompany a $50,000 planning grant sought from the federal government.

The council, with six of its nine members present, also endorsed a number of improvements proposed in the public housing in Marin City.

Three Hurt In Auto Collision

Three women received minor injuries yesterday when two cars collided avoiding a stalled car on Waldo Grade, the California Highway Patrol said.

Shari L. Sage, 22, of St. Helena, was treated at Marin General Hospital for multiple bruises. Pamela J. Smith, 22, of Calle del Occidente, Stinson Beach, was treated for multiple bruises and her passenger, Christine Nelson, 21, of Stinson Beach was treated for multiple scrapes and bruises.

The highway patrol said the accident occurred at 10 p.m. when a car driven by Gerald W. Conner, 30, of 201 Bagby Hall, Golden Gate Baptist Seminary, Strawberry, ran out of gas approaching the Waldo tunnel. When Miss Smith swerved to avoid Conner's car, her car was hit by Miss Sage's car and overturned.

'Oakland 7' Defense Calls Witness Halt

OAKLAND (UPI)—The jury in the case of the Oakland Seven has been excused until Monday, when it is expected to begin deliberations.

The defense surprisingly rested its case yesterday without calling any of the defendants to the witness stand.

Charles R. Garry, chief defense counsel, said the defendants, charged with conspiring to have others commit misdemeanors during the 1967 antiwar demonstration at the Oakland Induction Center, wanted to testify but were overruled by their lawyers.

The defense rested its case in the ninth week of the trial after testimony from a Palo Alto High School girl, 18-year-old Susan Garrett.

Miss Garrett said she and her group at the demonstration came on their own and received no instructions from the defendants.

Superior Court Judge George W. Phillips is considering motions by prosecutor Lowell Jensen, who is seeking to have certain testimony by defense witnesses stricken because the defendants could not be questioned about it.

Where the bluefin tuna fish spawn is a mystery. In mid-May they move in schools along the Atlantic Coast to Nova Scotia, where they stay until October. From that time on they seem to disappear until the next May when they reappear off the Bahamas.

Bay Transport Fiscal Proposals Under Fire

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

BERKELEY — The Bay Area Transportation Study Commission's draft report on how to finance transportation came under strong fire yesterday by advocates of public transit.

The report, drafted last month by the commission's study group on finance, "doesn't even recognize the problem" of financing public transit, charged Commissioner John C. Beckett of Palo Alto.

Citing his county's need for transportation systems other than the freeways provided by the "inflexibility of the state highway program," he said "Santa Clara County's message apparently hasn't gotten through."

The report firmly rejected any diversion of highway funds to public transit.

The report, which instead proposed a new property tax to finance public transit, thus only glossed over the problem, said Beckett, a former resident of Kent Woodlands.

Bay Area citizens should have a chance to use highway funds for public transit, argued Commissioner William J. Bettencourt, a director of the Alameda-Contra Costa Transit District. Public transit is "essential," he insisted, "and must be made a viable alternative to the automobile."

Mill Valley Mayor Dean N. Meyer, representing the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District on BATSC, noted that the bridge board was on record favoring an excise tax on gasoline to finance public transit. The commission's report, he said, should include this sort of proposal.

Also urging amendment of the report to include new sources of revenue for transit were Seymour Kashin, manager of the Marin County Transit District, and John Lilly, general manager of the West Bay Rapid Transit District.

The commissioners, meeting in the Hotel Claremont, agreed the report needed more study, and set a special meeting to adopt it on March 26. The meeting, at 9:45 a.m., also will be at the hotel.

Chairman Nils Eklund, who argued unsuccessfully for a vote yesterday on the report, said the delay will make it "extremely difficult" to file the commission's final report with the Legislature by the first week of April, as required by the law that set up the commission.

The only substantial changes yesterday in the report, detailed by the Independent-Journal on March 6, were to delete its statement that a second deck on the Golden Gate Bridge was "desperately needed" and to add a statement that the state has failed to increase highway taxes to meet increasing demands for highways.

The chairman of the study group, James A. Folger of San Francisco, said the reference to a second deck was cut "because some felt it was not appropriate in a financial report."

The report also recommended special gas and vehicle taxes in the Bay Area to improve highways.

Core Renewal Issue Balks Petaluma Bonds Decision

The relocation of Petaluma Boulevard North proved to be the stumbling block yesterday afternoon as the Petaluma City Council considered projects to be included on a bond issue that may be put before the voters June 10.

Vice Mayor Kenneth J. Colin and Councilman Phillip L. Joerger disagreed with the five other council members who wanted $1.5 million included for the project to widen or relocate Petaluma Boulevard from D Street to Washington Street.

Speaking of the project as part of the core area plan to revitalize the business district, Colin said, "$1.5 million is not nearly enough to do the job right —we'll need something more like $3 or $4 million."

Joerger agreed that the proposed funds would only serve to purchase and demolish buildings to make way for future street work. "Under this plan we'd only have a flat block," he said. "That would be detrimental to the business district. It might be another five to 10 years before we'd have enough money to go any further — plus we'd be lowering our assessed valuation by demolishing the buildings."

Both Mayor Helen Putnam and Councilman Robert S. Lipman argued that the downtown redevelopment project should start somewhere. "The council must provide the leadership in getting the project going," Lipam said. "Investors are looking to see how Petaluma Boulevard will go before they put any money into the city."

"We don't need to finance a complete project," he said. "The area will just get worse in the meantime."

The council did agree, however, on several other street projects. They included $600,000 for a Highway 101 overpass on Caulfield Lane and the widening of the lane through to Hopper Street. Councilmen David W. Brainerd and Albert L. Battaglia recommended continuing the project through D Street to Petaluma Boulevard.

Also agreed on was the reconstruction of South McDowell Boulevard from McNeil Avenue to Sarkesian Drive for $300,000 and a pedestrian crossing at the Washington Street overpass for $60,000.

Drawing general approval was a $230,000 plan for the fire and police departments: $120,000 for a new fire station on South McDowell Boulevard, a $60,000 addition to headquarters station; and a $50,000 addition to the police station. Councilman John W. Cavanagh Jr. also suggested that $50,000 might be included for property acquisition for the future development of a larger civic center.

A request for $100,000 for parks drew support from all except Vice Mayor Colin. The plan would allot $50,000 for the development of Lucchesi Park and another $50,000 for acquisition of new park sites.

Several possible resolutions for the bond issue will be presented at the council meeting at 7:30 p.m. Monday. The measures must be approved by a 5 to 2 council vote to be included on the ballot.

Bay Pilot Will Face Charges

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Coast Guard said it would file charges today against bay pilot F. T. Hawkesworth in connection with the ramming of a San Francisco pier by an ammunition ship March 5.

Coast Guard Cmdr. Edward hearing on the accident yesterday and said Hawkesworth, 64, will be charged with improperly navigating his vessel. If the accusation is upheld at a hearing Tuesday, he could have his license suspended or revoked.

The testimony indicated the loaded ammunition ship, American Producer, swerved into Pier 27 to avoid striking the freighter M. M. Dant, piloted by Hawkesworth. The ammunition ship was bound for Vietnam.

Bond Vote Fails; Teachers Absent

SALINAS (AP) — Half the 112 teachers in the North Monterey Elementary School District reported themselves sick yesterday — two days after a tax override was voted down.

In addition, the California Teachers Association chapter voted to ask for the imposition of sanctions, meaning other teachers would be discouraged from accepting jobs in the district. The CTA says it represents 98 of the teachers.

Voters turned down a proposal for a 79-cent override on the present tax—$2.17 per $100 assessed valuation on property.

To help them get off on the right foot, tomorrow's Independent-Journal Marin Magazine is the annual special spring gardening issue. You will find its pages—all 42 of them—crammed with information on plantings and with helpful landscaping suggestions. It's a must for every "green thumber."

One good way to go about doing this is to read the book review pages of the Marin Magazine carefully. The I-J reviewers once again tomorrow will report to you concisely and cogently on some of the more important books of the new spring season.

A Redouble Is Foolish Action If The Opponent As Easy Out

It doesn't always pay to tell an opponent he has made a mistake. If he believes you, he may still have time to correct his error. Then all you will have for your trouble is a reputation for philanthropy; and this will not get you very far at the bridge table.

GOOD DOUBLE

West has a reasonable double of four spades. He expected to take two spades and a heart in his own hand, together with whatever East had for his jump to four hearts. North thought he had an even more reasonable redouble since he knew something that West didn't know: that South would lose no heart tricks.

As it happens, knowing that the doubler has made a mistake is only one of two conditions you need for a redouble The second condition is that you must be in a position to punish the opponents severely if they try to rescue themselves.

East believed the redouble and knew that he had woefully overstated his high-card strength when he jumped to four hearts. Since no terrible disaster could befall him at five hearts East ran to that contract, grateful to North for the warning.

POOR CHOICE

Now North had a poor choice. If he doubled five hearts he could not expect to collect much. (Only 200 points in fact.) If North went on to five spades, his partner might be too high.

North did actually go on, and South was indeed too high. South lost two trumps and a club for a penalty of 100 points.

GREED ACT

North's redouble was greedy. If he passed the double, there was a fair chance that East likewise would pass. South would score 790 points instead of losing 100 points. Even a philanthropist can't afford to throw away 890 points too often.

ANSWER: Bid one heart.

The only alternative is to bid one no-trump, but this is unattractive because the diamonds are too weak and the hearts are too strong.

ALMANAC

Today is Friday, March 14, the 73rd day of 1969 with 292 to follow.

The moon is between its last quarter and new phase. The morning stars are Mercury, Mars and Jupiter. The evening stars are Venus and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1743 the first town meeting in America was held in Boston.

In 1812 the U.S. government authorized the issue of the first war bonds, floated to buy military equipment for use against the British in the War of 1812.

In 1947 military and naval bases in the Philippines were leased by the United States for 99 years.

In 1964 a Dallas jury found Jack Ruby guilt of killing presidential assassin Lee Harvey Oswald. Ruby was sentenced to death but the conviction was overturned. He was awaiting a second trial when he died in January, 1967.

A thought for the day: President Harry Truman said, "The responsibility of the great state is to serve and not to dominate the world."

THE SUBURBAN SCENE

By MOLLY MARIN

Point Reyes Community Center will be transformed into an indoor garden March 27 for the annual Primrose Tea, sponsored by the Inverness Garden Club.

The building in which the tea will be held was once the round house for the now defunct railroad. The tea is also "steeped" in tradition, having been held in various West Marin locations for more than 30 years.

From 1 to 4:30 p.m. the public is invited to the indoor garden, far removed from the soot, the huffing and puffing of steam engines and the grime of a railroad yard.

Members of the garden club traditionally wear hats decorated with flowers from their gardens. Primrose plants and homemade breads will be offered for sale.

SEVERAL PARTIES will be given by Sausalito Women's Club members in connection with Thursday's annual founders' day luncheon and High Jinks.

Mrs. Carl Spring will be hostess at a party at her home in Sausalito, and Mrs. Leslie Cowen will have a sherry party for 30 friends at her apartment in Sausalito preceding the luncheon.

Following the Jinks Mrs. Leonard Blakely will have a party at her home in Sausalito.

"GUESS WHO'S Coming to Cocktails?" read the invitations which the Marin unit assisting the American Conservatory Theatre has issued for a benefit cocktail party at 7 p.m. March 24 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Morrison in Belvedere.

Who is coming to cocktails? Members of ACT cast, including director William Ball; Peter Donat, Barry McGregor, David Dukes, David Gerringer, Patricia Faulkenhain and Michael Learned, will be honored.

Folk singer Letitia Lewd will entertain.

MR. AND MRS. Leon Brossier of Hastings-On-Hudson, N.Y., are parents of a boy born Wednesday. The new baby joins two sisters, Kristen and Brigette, and is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brossier of San Anselmo.

The Brossiers are former San Rafael residents.

MR. AND MRS. CHARLES S. Morrison of San Rafael entertained their son Richard and 10 of his friends Saturday evening at a dinner at Oreste's Restaurant in San Francisco on the occasion of Richard's 21st birthday.

MAJ. GEN. (RET.) and Mrs. C. W. McColpin of the Country Club Estates are on a trip to Los Angeles, Riverside and Las Vegas. In Riverside, General McColpin will attend a reunion with the Eagle Squadron of which he is a member.

They plan to be gone 10 days and while away, Joan McColpin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Fitzpatrick, are staying with the two McColpin daughters.

Treated Fairly, Says Nurse About Capture By Viet Cong

By COLIN LAWSON
London Express

FRANKFURT, West Germany — West German Red Cross nurse Renate Kuhnen Wednesday came down the steps of the jet airliner which brought her to Frankfurt after more than a year as a prisoner of the Viet Cong.

She stood in the pouring rain and exclaimed: "It's wonderful to be home again."

Miss Kuhnen was taken prisoner while working in a South Vietnam hospital as a volunteer Red Cross nurse. She tended all types of patients including wounded soldiers and civilians.

She was freed by the Viet Cong at exactly the same place where she was dragged into the jungle by the Viet Cong — the village of Kontum.

She described her treatment as "absolutely fair and decent after the Viet Cong established that I was not working for the Americans. This conclusion they reached within a few hours."

She also told of how she spent her time in captivity.

"At no time did I work for the Viet Cong medical people. I spent my time knitting articles of clothing which I assumed were destined for the Viet Cong, and also in working in the rice fields.

"Never was I allowed to function as a hospital nurse.

"I told the Viet Cong that I was neither a doctor nor an American. This changed their attitude toward me and thereafter I was well looked after. I ate just what the others did in the small hamlet where I was kept — bowls of rice and occasionally fruit and sometimes a chicken.

"The Viet Cong told me last August I was soon to be freed. But something went wrong and my release was held up. Every month I was told I would be freed but not until the end of February did this become really apparent."

On her way back to freedom she marched for several days accompanied by Viet Cong fighters.

"We covered more than 14 miles a day through the jungle for several days before reaching Kontum," she said. "I was told I could be picked up in the jungle by an American helicopter if I wished. This would have been arranged in agreement with the Viet Cong. But I refused and preferred to plod back the same way I had been forced to march into captivity."

On the march back the party went through several villages where the inhabitants would kill a chicken and also provide eggs.

She refused to discuss the village where she was held, but agreed it appeared to be a base for Viet Cong jungle fighters.

"All I want to do now is rest. I am in good health but still a bit nervous," she said.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Childrens' Lives May Be Ruined By Raging Battle Of Parents

DEAR HELEN:

Yes, it works both ways. That "Frustrated Husband" whose wife "loves for pay," may be the type who has never outgrown bachelor days when he had to pay for love.

Consider my husband. He gives me a weekly allowance for food only. Any additional requests for clothing, cosmetics, education, recreation, etc. when granted, must be repaid with additional bedroom usage or other assaults or insults. The consistency of his reaction is unmistakable — this for that. If I won't play along, he gets his money's worth by belittling me, making me feel like a frigid worm.

The battle rages at our house, and I hang on because we have two children to raise. Little does my husband realize, as he beats me down, that the minute our daughters are grown and gone, I'll be gone on the next bus out of town. (I can save bus fare out of my food allowance!)

Wish me luck! — WIFE, NEE WORM

DEAR WIFE:

I wish you better sense, worm.

A woman who hangs on to a miserable marriage "for the sake of her children" may mess up their lives as well as her own.

If marriage counseling can't unwarp your husband and de-ice you, then you'd better buy that bus ticket now.

But insist on professional help first! — HELEN.

DEAR HELEN:

This is to "Doubtful Thomas" who said fathers didn't tan their daughters' bottoms in his day. He should speak for himself, but not for the rest of us!

My father as did most fathers of his day, used a hazel switch on my bare skin — for the same transgressions he let the boys get away with. You see, he wanted us to be "ladies," but felt "boys would be boys."

There wasn't a day between the time I learned to walk and the day I reached eighth grade that I didn't get at least one whipping. One-tenth of them would have gotten the message through, but this was the rule of the times. Our parents thought they were doing right.

However, spankings stopped before I was 12. My mother used to say, "If you haven't taught your children respect for you and your judgment by age 13, you'd better give up for you won't do anything but build resentment after that."

Some of today's teen-agers need a good whacking, but most of their actions can be traced to lack of wise discipline in their early years. — MRS. B. N.

DEAR MRS. N:

The emphasis is on "wise." Even in this permissive age, too many parents substitute heavy-handed discipline for real understanding because it's easier to boss than listen. — HELEN.

DEAR HELEN:

How dare you champion sex education in schools? It's all part of a giant Communist conspiracy! Now they're showing films on drugs and liquor. This only incites kids to try them. Why, they're even giving out information on venereal diseases! How deprived can a nation get? — B. J.

DEAR B:

You can't solve problems by pretending they don't exist .Wise sex education — and I'm convinced most school programs are as well-planned as they are unsensational — is long overdue. When young people know the facts, they are much more able to make mature decisions, and this goes for drugs, liquor, tobacco, as well as sex. It's the secret "unknown" which fascinates. — HELEN.

Chosen to head Terra Linda Guild 3 of Sunny Hills is Mrs. Donald Gregory of San Rafael. During her three years as a member of the guild, Ann Gregory has held offices of Bargain Box chairman and secretary.

The guild members aid the Sunny Hills home by assisting at the Bargain Box. Plans for this coming year include a membership drive and sale of guild products at the annual Grape Festival in October. Items sold include pinatas and party props.

As to who may join the group, Mrs. Gregory stated any woman in the area interested in helping carry out the work of the guild is welcome.

The new president is the wife of a communications engineer and is active in the Terra Linda Cooperative Nursery School where she is also president. She has lived in Marin the past five and one-half years and is the mother of two children, Linda, who is six, and Mitchell, four.

Ann Gregory lists her interests as stamp collecting, gardening, sewing and reading. Her pastimes would be the same if time would allow.

"Maybe someday when Sunny Hills and Nursery School obligations do not take so much of my time," she said. Her largest measure of enjoyment comes from working with people and accomplishing a worthwhile goal, she added.

Assisting the president will be Mmes. Wes Bidgood, vice president; Duncan Davidson, treasurer; John Kostecki, secretary; Raymond Waterbury, publicity; and William S. Miles, hospitality.

Girls Are Mostly Fat

TORONTO (AP) — A Minnesota doctor says girls are not made of sugar and spice—they're made mostly of fat.

Dr. W. N. Tauxe, associate professor of pathology at the University of Minnesota graduate school, told a seminar on nuclear medicine Wednesday that even girls like Twiggy are composed largely of fat.

He said he conducted tests at the Mayo Clinic that showed up to age 12, boys and girls have almost identical amounts of fat. But two years later boys increased their muscle mass and reduced the amount of fat, while girls did the opposite.

But, he added, some of that female fat is called "curves."

Astronauts Fly Home In Slower Vehicles

ABOARD THE USS GUADALCANAL (AP) — The Apollo 9 astronauts, flying in three separate helicopters, took off from the deck of this carrier today on the first leg of a trip which ends with family reunions at Ellington Air Force Base near Houston.

The crewmen, Air Force Cols. James A. McDivitt and David R. Scott and civilian Russel L. Schweickart, are flying first to Eleuthera Auxiliary Air Force Base in the Bahamas.

The spacemen will transfer to a space agency airplane for a 60-minute flight to a refueling stop at Cape Kennedy. They'll leave there half an hour later and are expected at Ellington about 4 p.m. PST.

The space trio rode their Apollo command module to a pinpoint landing yesterday, splashing into a calm Atlantic 300 miles north of Puerto Rico within view of television cameras aboard this ship.

After more than six hours of medical tests a flight surgeon said they were in very good condition with no significant medical problems.

He said none of the three suffered sea sickness after the splashdown.

They walked to their heat-scarred spacecraft on the carrier deck and McDivitt said affectionately, "Good old Gumdrop," referring to the code name used for the module during the flight.

McDivitt, Scott and Schweickart then visited through a window with three men locked away in a test mobile quarantine facility (MQF), a trailer-like shelter that will be used to isolate astronauts returning from the moon.

The astronauts were honored guests at a dinner of steak and baker potatoes in the ship's officers mess.

Air Force Lt. Gen. Samuel C. Phillips said the success of Apollo 9 left open the slight possibility that the Apollo 10 flight will land on the moon.

Gen. Phillips said a decision on that would be announced March 24.

Present plans call for Apollo 10, carrying a lunar module, to fly to an orbit around the moon, spend 63 hours circling the lunar surface and then return to earth.

The flight will include separation of the lunar module from the command module, flight to within 10 miles of the moon's surface and a lunar orbit rendezvous.

The first possible launch date for Apollo 10 is May 17.

The actual lunar landing is scheduled to be made by Apollo 11, now set for a July launch.

New Tomales High Soon To Be Ready

Construction on the new Tomales high school is nearing the final stages, Supt. Anthony Matulich last night reported to the Tomales Union High School District board of trustees.

The board authorized moving the chain link fence around the treatment ponds from the top to the bottom of the bank, adding another 107 feet of fence, Matulich said. The vote was 4-0 with Trustee N. Louise Passalacqua absent.

The board authorized Matulich to get estimated on the cost of landscaping around the ponds, he said.

Matulich was also authorized to start purchasing lockers, desks, laboratory equipment and other items for the new school which take the longest time for delivery, he said.

The school is expected to be completed in May but will not be occupied until September, he said.

The Tomales High School District board also:

APPLICATION — Approved a $7,100 application for matching funds to the federal government under the National Defense Education Act for audiovisual equipment for the new high school.

TRANSFER — Authorized the transfer of $3,794 from the undistributed reserves to the instruction and maintenance budgets.

SHOP — Heard a report from shop instructor Christopher Bratt that the shop department was developing plans for two-bedroom houses which the shop students could construct. The board authorized going ahead with the construction of the houses after the shop gets cost estimates from contractors.

RESIGNATION — Accepted the resignation for the end of the school year from Mrs. Diane Alexander, reading teacher.

Roads' Signs To Be Modified

The state Division of Highways said today it will modify roadway striping and signs and restrict parking along Routes 37 and 121 near the Sears Point International Raceway in Sonoma County to relieve congestion at the two highways' intersections during racing events.

The work will be done before the next event scheduled at the new track March 29-30, the district said.

The district also said it has approved an application from Sears Point Properties, Inc., to construct a third lane on Route 121 to handle traffic into the raceway.

The division currently has a plan under design to bring both highways in the Sears Point vicinity to full freeway standards.

Trial Opens In Kidnap, Theft Case

A jury trial opened yesterday in Marin Superior Court for Jerry Stanley Borst, 22, of Novato, accused of kidnaping, raping and robbing a Novato housewife, with the victim tearfully recounting her experience.

The 28-year-old woman told a jury of seven women and five men how she was abducted at knife point with her two small sons from a Novato shopping center parking lot about 5 in the afternoon on July 9, 1968.

The victim was scheduled to continue her testimony today.

Borst, who earlier had said he wanted to be his own attorney, is now reporesented by Albert Rizzo of Sonoma County.

The jury had been seated in the case Jan. 16, but Borst said he no longer wanted the public defender to handle his case. Continuances were granted for him to hire a lawyer, then he wanted to be his own attorney and finally he has hired Rizzo.

Five-Year-Old Hurt By Auto

San Rafael police reported that Peggy P. Hodel of Winding Way, Ross, told them that the boy ran into the side of her car when she was making a left turn on D Street. Mrs. Hodel stopped the car and took the child and witnesses to a doctor, police said.

Moriarty was arrested by Larkspur police Monday night when he and a 17-year-old companion were allegedly found in a car parked at Redwood High School by the owner who said his stereo had been partially dismantled from the car.

Mother, Son Found In Grave

AUBURN (UPI) — The decomposed bodies of a San Mateo woman and her son, who vanished last October, were found yesterday in a four-foot-deep grave near their remote summer cabin.

Placer County Sheriff's deputies said they recovered the remains of Mrs. Betty Nelson, 47, and her son, David, 9, from the grave covered with a piece of plywood piled with rocks and debris.

They refused to say whether criminal charges would be filed against the husband and father of the victims, William E. Nelson, 56, who was found hiding in the attic of the cabin Dec. 3. Since then he has been held at Dewitt State Hospital near here for psychiatric observation.

The discovery came two days after authorities talked to Nelson, an importer-exporter. However, deputies declined to say whether Nelson told them where the bodies were.

Polar Journey Slow, Frigid

LONDON (AP) — Wally Herbert, leader of a four-man British team trying to cross the North Pole from Alaska to Norway, says they are making progress but it's mighty cold.

Herbert radioed yesterday that the expedition, traveling over jagged ice in temperatures down to 50 below, hoped to reach the pole by the end of March. The trip began at Point Barrow, Alaska, a year ago.

Herbert said one member of hte team, Alan Gill, had slipped a disc in a fall and was being carried along strapped to a dog sled.

The sources said the meeting would open Monday or Tuesday with Communist party chiefs, premiers and defense ministers of the seven Warsaw Pact countries attending.

There has been no official announcement here or elsewhere of such a meeting.

The Moscow sources said they were unable to confirm reports that a meeting of the East European Economic organization, Comecon, would follow the pact summit.

Jean Murphy To Perform At Dominican

Soprano Jean Murphy will sing Franz Schubert's cycle, "Sie Schone Mullerin," in the second recital of the Young Artists Series presented by Dominican College Music Associates. It will take place at 8 p.m. Thursday in Caleruega Hall on the San Rafael campus.

Miss Murphy will be accompanied by Sister Mary Dominic, O. P., pianist.

She is a graduate of Dominican College, where she also earned her secondary teaching credential in music. She has been a student of Winifred Baker and studies voice with Gertrude Gruenberg at the college and piano with Georg Gruenberg in San Francsico.

She was a student teacher in San Rafael schools and taught one year at St. Hilary's School in Tiburon before returning to Dominican, where she teaches piano and voice to young students in the preparatory division of the music department.

Miss Murphy has been a member of the Dominican College Opera Theater since its inception two years ago and starred as Gretel in last year's production of "Hansel and Gretel."

The final concert in spring series will be presented by the Chamber Music Ensemble directed by Adolph Baller at 8 p.m. in Caleruega Hall on May 6.

Sukarno Seen At A Wedding

JAKARTA (AP) — Former President Sukarno, looking shaky, pale and older, made his first public appearance in six months today to attend the wedding of his daughter. He appeared quite ill.

Sukarno chatted with many of the 75 guests and smiled at old acquaintances. He spent some time with his old associate in the independence struggle, former Vice President Mohammed Hatta, who broke with him years ago. His eyes still flash, but his hands were cold and his grip weak. He is suffering from chronic kidney trouble.

ART REVIEW

Real Understanding In Use Of Pastels

By LAURA DEVENDORF

Pastels have been so ignored that discovering a group of them is always a pleasure, especially if they are as well done as Jean Halpert-Ryden's, being shown through March 26 at Gallery III in Corte Madera's Co-op Center.

Miss Ryden handles the medium with real understanding. Her technique is confident and free, full of quick, slanting lines and smears of high keyed pigment, often worked like glazes over washes of other color.

She respects the medium's soft surfaces and clear colors, applying them to strongly composed open landscapes that can be the essence of more general things such as winter, autumn, high noon or sunset. The most sensuously colored of these combines a darkened figure group and hot, red, rolling hills.

Uusally she only peoples her cityscapes with figures that grow out of abstract layers of color, jumbled and emerging from their backgrounds. Often they are faceless and always they are an integral part of their environment. Two very effective examples are "Waiting Souls," a huddle of figures before bits of buildings and "Kids Against the City," a grayed and gripping knot of soft shapes against grimey layers of color.

Miss Ryden also shows some competent, though less exciting oils and a collage. And further media variety is added by Winifred Madison's batiks and Al Garvey's serigraphs and paintings.

Miss Madison adapts the broken surfaces of batiks to East Indian and Oriental themes. They are especially attractive in an Indian city scene and the very restrained "Trio of Flute Players," with its faceless figures and undyed sections of cloth.

Garvey is showing new additions to his series of elaborate, colorful serigraphs. But his figurative paintings are the real surprise, their anatomical forms spelled out in brash, thick streaks of vivid, wet acrylics.

St. Patrick's Day Parade Is Slated Sunday

There will be a St. Patrick's Day parade Sunday, with prizes for the best entries in the Los Ranchitos and Northgate area Shaun Wiltshire, parade chairman, announced today.

The parade will assemble at 2 p.m. at the Wiltshire Towers, 3725 Redwood Highway and end in the Northgate area.

The route will be from the Wiltshire Towers south on Merrydale Road to North San Pedro Road, then to Ranchitos Road north to Northgate Drive, west on Las Gallinas to Northgate Shopping Center.

Then, through the shopping center to Northgate Drive, south along the drive to Las Gallinas Avenue, and along Las Gallinas past the reviewing stand at the Wells Fargo Bank to the parking area, where the parade will end.

MOTION PICTURE GUIDE

The Marin Motion Picture and Television Council provides these ratings of movies currently being shown in Marin County. The council's findings are from the California and National Parent-Teacher Association magazines and the Film Report of the Film Estimate Board. More complete reviews may be obtained by calling the San Rafael Library.

FAMILY

"Bible" — Strikingly filmed stories from Genesis. Picture will be interpreted according to involvement, belief and knowledge of viewer.

ADULTS AND TEENS

"Buona Sera, Mrs. Campbell" — For their 20th reunion, three fliers and their families return to an Italian village. Each flier has been paying generous child support to an Italian woman for her illegitimate daughter. Risque comedy.

"Charly" — Poignant dramatization of a fictional case history of first human subject of a new type of brain surgery on a mentally retarded young man. Thought provoking, sensitive performances from the cast.

"Heart is a Lonely Hunter" — A rather sad story about a deaf-mute who in his loneliness touches the lives of many. Compassionate tale is tenderly told and played with rare perception.

"Impossible Years" — College girl is arrested in a student demonstration. Both parents and teenage daughter deserve a better image than this film projects.

"Lady in Cement" — Private eye Tony Rome again copes with murder. Crime is treated as comedy, language is gutter foul, action is brutal with lots of violence.

"Seventh Seal" — A Swedish knight in the time of the Crusades searches sadly for the meaning of life. Unusual thoughtful allegory.

BORDERLINE

ADULTS ONLY

"Candy" — A 17-year-old girl wanders through a series of sexual adventures with the strangest assortment of characters ever presented on the screen. Massively dull, ugly pornography.

"Guide for a Married Man" — Crude sex farce holds marriage up to ridicule. Philandering married men and women who cheat on their spouses.

"I Love You, Alice B. Toklas" — This satire makes free love and drugs seem the life of happiness.

"Joanna" — An amoral girl goes from one affair to another with any man that comes along until she falls in love with a black man. Emphasis on nudity and frank love scenes. Impressive acting.

"Monika" — A sexually experienced girl and a young boy spend an idyllic summer living and loving joyously until she finds herself pregnant, bored and afraid.

Drake Freshman Class Seeking Fund Projects

Members of Sir Francis Drake High School's freshman class are offering their services for yard and housework to raise money for the class treasury.

The students haven't set a firm price for their services. "We will be paid according to the nature of the job, how long it takes to do it, and how hard it is to do," said class president Dennis Gallagher, chairman of the project.

"We prefer to work in groups of four or more," Gallagher added, "and we guarantee a good job."

Persons interested in acquiring the services of the freshman class may call Thomas E. McEntee, dean of student activities, at Drake High or Dennis Gallagher of 57 Karl Avenue, San Anselmo, son of Dr. Donald M. Gallagher, after 6 p.m.

Brazil's Political Struggle Still On

Three federal lawmakers and 91 members of state legislatures were on the new purge list issued after a meeting of the military-dominated government's national security council. The legislators were accused of subversion.

Costa e Silva assumed extraordinary powers after Congress refused to lift the immunity of a congressman the military wanted to put on trial. The president has closed down congress, suspended constitutional rights, recessed five state legislatures, ousted three supreme court justices, and stripped scores of persons of their political rights.

Ex Felon To Talk

Kalir O. Shannon of San Rafael, an ex-convict, will speak on his experiences and life in prison at 2:15 p.m. Wednesday at Marin Catholic High School. Principals and students from other schools are also expected to attend.

Kenya is on the Indian Ocean.

BLASTING FOR NEW TURNOFF

A layer of smoke rises from hill off Highway 101 as workmen blast big rocks impeding progress of construction of new Civic Center turnoff. Traffic was halted (left) at 3 p.m. yesterday in both lanes of the freeway during the blasting. Workmen expect to move 80,000 cubic yards of dirt for this interchange project, expected to be completed late this year. (Independent-Journal photo by Bob Hax)

'FINAL PHASE FOR 12 YEARS'

Sausalitans Ask Waterfront Action

By FRANK FARRARA

Impatient Sausalito residents last night urged city officials to get on with adoption of a central waterfront plan and bring the long studied matter to a conclusion.

They called for action at a town meeting sponsored by the Sausalito Citizens Council at Campbell Hall which attracted more than 100 persons.

One resident asked: "Why has it been necessary to continually make plans and hire people to make plans . . . qithout reaching a conclusion in a reasonable length of time?"

Robert L. Nissen, planning commission chairman, said the planning consultants, William Spangle and Associates, are expected to have the final plan ready soon.

Asked if there were a deadline on completion of the plan, Nissen said the contract with the consultants simply runs until the job is finished.

"As far as the central waterfront plan, we've been in the final phase for 12 years," said William W. Remak of 2 Crecienta Drive.

Residents also called for cleaning up the mess along the waterfront and curtailing development there.

Nissen explained that the central waterfront area is mostly privately owned land "and the city can only go so far in regulating and limiting certain types of uses."

Residents proposed condemnation to preserve the open water area, but City Mgr. George M. Patterson said the cost could run into millions of dollars and the city didn't have the money.

"There is a tremendous undeveloped area in the central waterfront, more than people realize," Patterson said. The idea of the central waterfront plan is to provide as much open water as possible, he said.

During the discussion on planning, Remak said that Marinship has been a mess since 1945. "Half of Europe has been rebuilt and all of Japan and we haven't been able to do a damn thing about Marinship."

There was a brief discussion on parks and recreation with Ruth Sisson of 160 Curry Avenue contending that neighborhood parks aren't being used.

One resident replied that at least the park areas supply open space and trees, even if not used.

There were calls for a bicycle path through the city, one which will enable students to cycle to Tamalpais High School, and Patterson noted that plans are in the making.

One resident asked if there were any plans to construct a swimming pool and Recreation Commissioner Elmo V. Maggiora said no.

While police matters were being discussed residents wanted to know what could be done about lettering and planhandling.

Police Chief James D. Wright explained that there are officers on foot patrol in the downtown area and the city is preparing on ordinance whereby citations will be issued to persons who litter streets and sidewalks.

Panhandlers can't be cited unless they commit the offense in the presence of an officer or the citizen makes a citizens arrest, the chief explained.

Other topics covered during the three-hour meeting were:

LIBRARY — The Northwestern Pacific Railroad Co. Property at Caledonia and B streets is still under consideration for the site of a new library, but because of the high cost of the site would have to be shared with other city buildings, possibly city hall. Librarian Kathleen Worsley asked residents who had any books or newspaper clippings about Sausalito to notify the library because it needs information about the city.

FINANCES — Patterson said that 13 per cent of a Sausalito property owner's total tax bill goes to city government, 22 per cent to Marin County, 19 per cent to the Sausalito School District, 33.1 per cent to the Tamalpais High School District, 8.2 per cent to the Marin Junior College District, 1 per cent to the Marin County Schools Office, and 3.3 per cent to special districts.

BRIDGEWAY WIDENING — Norman Wohlschlaeger, public works director, explained that the project includes a center lane for travel by emergency vehicles, and will include a walk way along the waterfront below street level, with completion scheduled for June 10.

There was brief comment on downtown parking and dog controls but no comment on two other topics listed for discussion, the backyard burning ban to become effective next Jan. 1 and residential lighting.

Arie Slikkerveer, citizens council president, announced early that the meeting was limited to city business, and that school district matters wouldn't be discussed.

The council will sponsor a candidates' night for school board candidates March 31 at Central School, Slikkerveer said.

Woman's Plunge Off Span Seen

A San Diego woman jumped to her death from Golden Gate Bridge last night, the California Highway Patrol reported.

A witness, James E. Berger of Santa Rosa, told the highway patrol he saw a woman stop her southbound car at 7:25 p.m., run to the rail and dive over.

The highway patrol found a car stopped in midspan, lights on and motor running. A purse in the car had identity papers of Cleo Cora Nelson, 35, of San Diego.

A drift marker was thrown from the spot but a Coast Guard search failed to find the body.

County Aide Wins Appeal On Suspension

A Marin County probation officer, who was suppended Feb. 19 because of a felony assult charge stemming from a domestic quarrel, will be reinstated if a medical examination finds him suitable for continued employment.

The Marin County Personnel Commission made that decision on group counselor Byron Conrad Walters, 31, after a hearing last night at the civic center.

On Wednesday, Walters pleaded innocent to a charge of assault with a deadly weapon and faces a preliminary hearing in Berkeley-Albany Municipal Court in Berkeley April 15. He is free on $3,000 bail.

The personnel commissioners, headed by Bella Aaron, said Busher had acted in good faith. However, they noted that Walters "has competently performed his job" and should be reinstated if a medical examination finds him suitable to continue as group counselor.

Walters was hired as group counselor in October 1967. In addition to his work in the probation department, he also attends University of California at Berkeley part-time.

Larkspur Teachers' Pay Plan Attacked

The Larkspur School District board, pledging it will not raise taxes, last night unanimously rejected a "ridiculous" request by the district's teachers for an 18.6 per cent pay raise.

Board president John W. Boyd said today the request by the Larkspur Teachers Association, if granted, would "drive the district bankrupt within two years."

He said such a raise and other benefits asked by the teachers would cost the district nearly $250,000 while projected increases in income for the district next year amounted to only $7,000.

He said the board will not consider raising the present $3.58 tax rate and any teachers pay increases would have to be worked out "within the bounds of the present budget." This year's budget is $1,627,000.

"The entire response of the board was that the whole thing was ridiculous," Boyd said, adding that taxpayers in the audience were "violently opposed" to such an increase. Board member Leon Persson opposed even discussing the proposal, Boyd said.

The board acted before a packed house of about 80 people, including about 35 teachers. Boyd said the teachers refused to discuss where the money would come from for the big increase and also refused to say how they came up with a 18.6 per cent figure when cost of living increases were projected at only 4.7 per cent.

"It looked very much like they wanted to take the money first and let the schools and educational program go by the board," Boyd said. "The education program simply wasn't first in their thinking."

He said if such a raise was granted, it would force "drastic" cutbacks in educational programs and personnel and would eliminate the district's money reserves.

Board members will meet with the teachers' negotiators "within the next two or three weeks," Boyd said. "We intend to do the best we can within our budget."

The board also rejected as ridiculous a negotiating council policy statement submitted by the teachers association. The 9-page document "told the board what we should do, which we considered ridiculous," Boyd said. The board will make its own policy statement on negotiating procedures, he said.

The teachers, besides asking for the 18.6 per cent hike in salary, also asked for a continuation of a medical-dental plan, paid sabbatical leaves and longevity benefits.

The Larkspur School District Board also:

KINDERGARTEN — Received a report from Supt. Milton Cohen recommending continuation of the district's 180-minute kindergarten program.

MONEY — Heard a report from Cohen that monies to the district under Title One of the federal government's aid to education act have been cut by approximately 20 per cent.

Driver Injured

Pvt. David R. Houston, 18, of Fort Barry, was treated for face cuts, a bruised shoulder and bruised right knee yesterday at Marin General Hospital after his car hit a center guard rail at 2:10 p.m. on Highway 101 on Greenbrae, the California Highway Patrol said.

Talent Contest Set Tomorrow

Marin County Masonic youth groups, including Job's Daughters, Rainbow Girls and DeMolay, will compete in a talent contest sponsored by the Marin and Mill Valley Royal Arch chapters at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the San Rafael Masonic Temple.

Winners of the area contest will go to semifinals in San Francisco on March 25. The state finals will be in Oakland April 29.

In addition to the talent contest, which is open to the public, the Sing-Out Marin Group will perform Saturday.

Color TV Set, Liquor Stolen

A color television set, two cameras and two bottles of liquor were stolen yesterday from the home of William A. Hennings of 155 Via Lerida, Greenbrae, Larkspur police said.

Officers found that the thief had entered the house by forcing the sliding glass door to a bedroom. The missing items were valued at about $550.

Civic Fathers, Collegian Not On Same Wavelength

The Sonoma State College student body president last night called for better communication among men, but found little success in addressing the Sonoma County Mayors' and Councilmens' Association.

As Terry Brennan spoke about new goals for college students, the civic leaders chattered among themselves, making comments about the youth's shoulder length hair and such remarks as "I'll bet he's never worked a day in his life."

The lack of attention and disturbing comments once prompted Chairman Helen Putnam, Mayor of Petaluma, to tap a water glass to restore quiet. Brennan, 22, stood out in the crowd with his long sideburns, and casual appearance wearing dungarees and sports shirt, minus the conventional tie.

As the student president spoke of "relating to other men," he was aware that he wasn't succeeding and charged that students feel alienated from society and its institutions.

"The current unrest stems from differences in values and differences in the criteria of judging educational quality," Brennan said, pointing out the obvious in effect.

College president Ambrose R. Nichols Jr., received far more courteous attention, appearing conventionally dressed, including the intellectual seeming pipe that laymen often expect of college presidents.

Dr. Nichols reported that the state has already invested $20 million in the 220-acre campus and plans another $30 million in construction in the next five years.

He said plans call for an art building, speech and drama center, a swimming pool, water plant, administration center and several general classroom buildings.

The college presently enrolls 3,250 students and may reach 9,000 by 1975 and 12,000 by 1981.

New Hours For Backyard Burns

Backyard fires must now be extinguished by noon unless a special permit is obtained from the Novato Fire Department, Lt. Raymond E. Dougherty, fire prevention officer of the district, reminded homeowners today.

In the past, residents of the Novato district could burn from daylight until 4 p.m., but the new regulation calls for fires to be out by noon, he said.

Dougherty urged residents to get rid of their debris by burning in small fires before the dry season starts. Regulations also call for one garden hose with water to be nearby and permit burning only on one's own property, he said.

This large area is now 3 large rooms, but one room could be a huge family room or divided into 2 big bdrms. — this lower area is almost another complete home perfect for your mother-in-law or a large family. The upper portion has an all new kitchen, including stove and refrig., all new bathroom, new luxury w/w carpeting, new furnace, all new copper pipes and new wiring thruout. The bdrms. are extra large. This beautiful property sits on a 50x110 level lot with plenty of trees. The lot alongside, of equal dimensions, could also be purchased. Combining both lots would make this an R-2 lot. House and one lot only $24,500.

SACRAMENTO ROUNDUP

COMBINED AP & UPI

SACRAMENTO — The state Senate's sole Negro member was optimistic today he would gain a new hearing to revive a resolution honoring slain civil rights leader Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Democratic Sen. Mervyn M. Dymally, who represents Los Angeles' Watts area, said Senate leader Hugh M. Burns pledged in a conversation yesterday that the Senate Rules Committee would reconsider the resolution next week.

Burns, D-Fresno, told a newsman that the final decision rests with the Rules Committee which voted Wednesday to take the measure under submission, an action that often spells doom for legislation.

The vote was 3-2, with Sen. John J. McCarthy, R-San Rafael, among those who, in effect, pigeon-holed the resolution.

However, the rules committee usually abides by the wishes by its chairman—Burns — when conducting its business.

The committee's action Wednesday came after a manila folder containing statements linking King to Communists was submitted by Republican Sen. H. L. Richardson of Arcadia.

Richardson, a former coordinator for the John Birch Society, did not testify at the hearing, but told newsmen the folder was submitted as opposition to the resolution.

The measure asked Gov. Ronald Reagan to declare April 4 Martin Luther King Jr. day as a memorial to "the nation's leading advocate of loving, nonviolent action."

The resolution was approved in the Assembly Feb. 12, with Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, voting in favor.

King was slain April 4, 1968. James Earl Ray Monday pleaded guilty to the murder and was sentenced to 99 years in prison for the killing.

CAMPUS

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan's proposal on campus disorder need some rewriting although the concept behind them as good, the chairman of the Assembly's new select committee on educational conflict said today.

"I agree 100 per cent with the concepts,' said Assemblyman Victor Veysey, R-Brawley, who heads the Committee on Campus Disturbnces.

But Veysey in an interview, questioned some of the wording used by Reagan in presenting four proposals designed to punish lawbreakers and bring peace to university and state college campuses hit by student and faculty strikes.

In particular, Veysey questioned proposals calling for dismissal or firing of students or employees convicted of a criminal offense "arising out of a campus disturbance."

Veysey said it would take months to convict the offenders, and months more to prove the conviction was "arising out of a campus disturbance" — thus blunting the effect of the law.

He said he expects Reagan to allow the Legislature to put in its own language in the measure, just so it sticks to the broad favors increasing penalties for second offenders convicted of offenses in disorders. But he indicated that sweeping new punitive legislation might not be the answer.

MEETINGS

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The fate of a proposal requiring open legislative meetings was uncertain today after only three out of 12 members of an Assembly committee showed up to hear testimony.

After witnesses were heard yesterday, the lower house Govtee's chairman, Republican Carl A. Britschgi of Rewood City, said a vote will be taken at a later date. Only three members appeared to listen to witnesses.

The bill would require that meetings of the Legislature be open except when personnel, national security or party matters are being discussed. A constitutional amendment would also have to be approved by two-thirds of each house and the voters for the idea to become law.

Local government now is covered by such a law.

However, extending it to the Legislature has met a hostile reception from the lawmakers, and Britschgi was decidedly cool.

TRANSIT

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—A bill levying a one-half per cent sales tax in the three counties of the Bay Area Rapid Transit District to pay off its $146 million debt has passed its first crucial committee test in the Assembly.

On a voice vote, the Assembly Transportation Committee yesterday approved the measure by Sen. Lewis F. Sherman, R-Berkeley, and sent it to the Ways and Means Committee where it faces another battle.

The tax would remain in effect in San Francisco, Contra Costa and Alameda counties for up to six years or until the governor declared that enough revenue had been collected to solve the financial problem.

"Every delay is crucial," Sherman told the committee. The bill cleared the Senate by a 29-8 vote March 5.

Flag Assembly

Representatives from the Presidio of San Francisco presented an assembly on respect for the flag today at Bernard Hoffman School, Terra Linda. The program included a film and a flag ceremony.

Ehrlich Blasts Politicians In Pleading For Policeman

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Attorney J. W. (Jake) Ehrlich ended a six-day marathon closing argument yesterday in his defense of a policeman charged with manslaughter.

"This man is not a killer—not a hater," said the volatile Ehrlich of his client, Patrolman Michael O'Brien, 28, who is accused of shooting Negro truck driver George Baskett while off duty.

During his lengthy closing argument, the attorney said the O'Brien case was in part motivated by political considerations.

"Don't sacrifice this boy on the alter of chicanery to get a few lousy, dirty votes," Ehrlich said. "If you don't find O'Brien not guilty there is only one answer—the Golden Gate Bridge."

Prosecutor Walter Giubbini was to deliver his closing argument to the jury today and the case should reach the jury Monday.

Outside of court, the San Francisco Conference on Religion, Race and Social Concern accused Ehrlich of engaging in a "public display of inflammatory language with clear racist implications."

Marin Driver Reports Attack

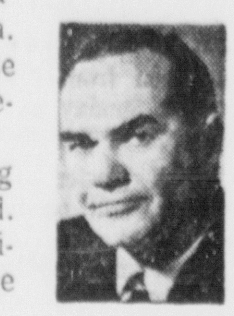
A Mill Valley man told sheriff's deputies that while he was driving home from Sausalito on Bridgeway early yesterday three men forced his car off the road, threatened and beat him and stole several credit cards and $6 from him.

Ronald Lee Phillips apparently blacked out from the beating, deputies said, and came to after the men drove him to the Shoreline Market on Shoreline Highway, running from his car there.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Surgeons Have A Bag Of Tricks To Correct Hernias Of Groin



VAN DELLEN

A soft protrusion in the groin usually represents an inguinal hernia. The abnormality will increase in size unless corrected, and should be repaired shortly after it is detected.

No one in good health is too young or too old to have the lesion mended.

The type of anesthesia used also plays a role. The patient may not have been sufficiently relaxed during the operation. As a result, the tissues are sewn together under considerable tension. In these cases, the stitches give way with the slightest muscular strain or distention of the abdomen.

IN OTHER INSTANCES, surgery is successful but the tissues are weakened or fragile and not strong enough to hold together. They tear like a piece of rotten cloth.

Now and then the victim is at fault because he has a cigarette cough. Constant hacking prevents healing. The same can be said of those who return to work and lift heavy weights too soon.

Recurrences can be prevented. Stop smoking several days before entering the hospital, and lose weight to reduce the fat content of the tissues. Add extra vitamins and minerals to the diet to improve the healing process.

SURGEONS HAVE a bag of tricks to counteract the effects of overstretched fibers. Some use suture material made from strips of fibrous tissue that remains alive and grows in place.

Others reinforce the hernial opening with tantalum gauze. This mesh is strong, malleable, and resistant to infection. After it is inserted, fibrous tissue grown through the openings in the mesh enhancing its strength. The metallic mesh may deteriorate in years but the mended area usually remains strong and supple.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

DENTURES, SLEEP

Mrs. B. writes: Is it better to keep the dentures in or out when sleeping?

REPLY

This is a moot question. My friends have tried both methods and been pleased. Full dentures can be kept in the mouth but partial devices, hooked to natural teeth, are better removed to reduce the possibility of decay and the chance that they will come loose during sleep.

HOW SOON PREGNANT?

G. B. writes: If no contraceptives are used, how soon after the wedding will the bride become pregnant?

REPLY

Two of three brides will find themselves pregnant within three months.

Today's Health Hint — Blankets and quilts should be washed regularly.

Suyderhoud Spending Birthday In The Air

The world champeen water skier, Master Mike is on a junket of the globe to compete in various tournaments and exhibitions. Just the other day, as you read on page one of the I-J, Mike won the Australian Moomba Masters championship at Melbourne before a crowd of 100,000 spectators who lined the banks of the Yerra River. The Moomba, by the way, is a big celebration Down Under similar to the Mardi Gras.

Next Stop: Johannesburg

Next stop on Suyderhoud's itinerary Sunday is Johannesburg where he will compete in the South African Games. He'll also ski in England before returning home around April 8.

JUST GOT word from Tempe, Ariz. that former Novato High star John Dolinsek is off to a roaring start with the Arizona State University Sun Devils baseball team. An all-league baseballer and basketballer as a prep, Dolinsek has stroked the old apple at a .364 clip through ASU's first seven games, leads the team in homers with three and runs batted in with eight, and has thrown out three baserunners from his left field post. Tomorrow Dolinsek will taste major league competition when the Devils battle the American League expansion team Seattle Pilots at Tempe.

Now, For The Little Squirts

IT'S FUN to give little sporty squirts a plug now and then, thus kudos to fourth grade basketball team at Blessed Sacrament School at Santa Venetia coached by John Coleman and Willie Mazzina. They're unbeaten going into tomorrow's San Rafael Recreation League playoffs at SRHS.

IF YOU'VE been wondering what became of former Drake High and College of Marin all-star Bill Hickerson, he's attending the University of Montana on a football scholarship and majoring in forestry.

KITSIE MORRIS, 16, of San Rafael, is one of seven girls along with eleven boys who will represent the Far West in the National Junior Ski Championships in Alaska next week.

SPEAKING OF she-ing, lovely RosAnna Thompson of Terra Linda has entered a reptile in Monday's St. Patrick's Day Snake Race at San Francisco's Crown-Zellerbach Plaza. Her speedy serpent is named Boa Boa Olsen, former middlesnake champ of the jungle.

Walter Tells Of Kids Days

WALTER "THE GREAT" MAILS of the S. F. Giants was an office visitor the other day to announce 15 dates for Kids Days at Candlestick Park. Any organization that would like to take groups of kids aged 9-14 free to games should contact Mails at Candlestick. "They can bring as many kids as they want and we also admit free one adult chaperone for each five kids," said Mails.

The dates and Giant opponents: June 16-18-19, Cincinnati; July 3, Atlanta; July 7-8-9, Houston; July 15-16, San Diego; July 17, Los Angeles; Aug. 12-13, Pittsburg; Aug. 26-27-18, Philadelphia.

Since the program was started in 1961 the Giants have hosted an average of 130,000 youngsters a year, said Mails.

Six Boats Race To Tokyo

Six boats will be leaving San Francisco tomorrow at noon for a race to Tokyo, the 4,500-mile trip expected to take six weeks.

San Francisco Yacht Club of Belvedere is helping host the event, which starts across from St. Francis Yacht Club at the Marina in San Francisco.

Two of the six boats will be representing the United States, one from Seattle and the other from Los Angeles. Two boats are from France and one each are from Germany and Belgium.

It will be a solo trip for the six skippers of the boats, which are in the 30 to 35-foot class.

Hamilton Boxers Triumph

OTHERS

Other winners for the Hamilton team coached by Major Bill Barros were flyweight Pat Neely who defended his title with a decision over James Darius of the Air Training Command; Lightweight Juan Ruiz who decisioned Bob Kemp of the Tactical Air Command; and Gerald Ivory who won the light middleweight crown with a decision over Mike Fisher of the Aerospace Defense Command.

Kennedy won two of his three fights in the tournament by first round knockouts to share honors with welterweight Jesse Valdez of Beale AFB near Marysville who scored two of his three victories by technical knockouts.

SIX WINNERS

Aerospace Defense Command, of which Hamilton is a part, won six of the eleven championships. The winners will compete in the Inter-Service Championships against Army, Navy and Marin Corps titlists March 25-27 at Hamilton.

JUAN HOLDS OUT

McCovey Signs 2-Year Contract

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — The San Francisco Giants, with Willie McCovey safely under contract for two more years, now must come to terms with their last holdout, pitching star Juan Marichal.

Marichal, who made $100,000 last year and is asking for a considerable raise from that figure, is not expected to be as hard to land as McCovey was. No one can argue the value of a 26-game winner.

McCovey, on the other hand, had some interesting ideas about contracts and it took considerable negotiation before Chub Feeney, the Giants' vice president, got the big first baseman to sign his pact calling for an estimated $85,000 per year yesterday.

McCovey, who led the National League with 36 home runs and 105 runs batted in last year, wanted a three-year contract or, barring that, a hefty raise, too hefty for the Giants to swallow.

"I wish he was only asking for $80,000," Feeney had said recently in response to a story that that is what McCovey was asking for.

McCovey had just finished a two-year contract at $60,000 and it was obvious a big raise was in order. But not, according to the club, a three-year contract and not as much as McCovey was asking for.

In the meantime, Feeney had another meeting set up with Marichal and an announcement that the Giants had signed their last recalcitrant was expected at any time.

Bruins, Broncos To Clash; Lew's Injury Not Serious

Gunning for a history-making third-straight national collegiate title, the Bruins have the day off before meeting Santa Clara's Broncos in the finals of the Western Regionals tomorrow afternoon in Pauley Pavilion. Weber State and New Mexico State meet in a consolation game.

Santa Clara gave up an 18-point lead, battled back for a 55-55 tie at the end of regulation time and then beat determined Weber State 63-59 in the opening round last night.

Then New Mexico State tried to use ball control to upset the Bruins but failed as Alcindor played one of his best games with help from a trio of sharpshooters, Kenny Heitz, Lynn Shackelford and John Vallely.

At halftime the amazingly low score stood UCLA 21, New Mexico State 17.

"It will be at least this afternoon before we have any definite word as to his exact shape," said Coach John Wooden.

Early reports were that Alcindor had twisted the ankle and the injury was not serious.

So even though Wooden doesn't like the new system of having a day between the opening round and finals of the tournament, it could be a help this time.

Santa Clara Coach Dick Garibaldi indicated his Broncos will also try a ball control strategy in an attempt to upst the Bruins.

"We haven't made up our minds about that," he commented. "It's not easy to run with UCLA because if they're running the way they want to, it's hard to stop them. I don't think anyone can run with UCLA."

The Broncos led Weber 27 9

On Television

The games tomorrow will be televised on NBC, channels 3 and 4, beginning at 1 p.m.

HERB MICHELSON

Hockey Scorers 'Fans With Some Experience'

OAKLAND — Phil Esposito, professional hockey's hero of the year, should have been overjoyed. Here in the Oakland Colesium Arena he had just tied a record (he was to break it two nights later back home in the Boston Gardens).

So one would expect him to be sitting there in the tiny little dressing room all smiles, wouldn't one?

But no.

Espo, who did to a one-season Bobby Hull-Stan Mikita scoring record what brother Maris once did to Mr. Ruth, was enraged about the fellow who awards goals and assists in hockey games at the Arena.

"THEY DON'T know what they're doing here," the Bruin fellow said. "Instead of watching the puck, they're too busy watching the game." Which isn't, of course, the same thing.

Esposito was most upset because he'd been awarded an assist on a play in which he had played no part. After the announcement was made, Phil skated over to the scorer and demanded morality, or something. Thus the assist was given to a teammate.

ONE OF the Oakland Seals suggested later that Espo never would have thrown the point back if the record wasn't looming. At any other time, Phil would have smiled and welcomed the assist.

Hockey people can earn bonuses and such for scoring — every goal and assist represents bucks to them. And this was Espo's major argument in knocking the scorer.

ANY MERIT to his gripes? A couple of Seals officials suggested there might well be.

The hockey official scorer (given the title "minor official") is hired by the home club with approval from the league. "Essentially, the scorer is a fan with some experience," is the explanation I was given.

HE'S PAID about as much as a baseball official scorer (a covering newspaperman) but has the additional duty of being in charge of other minor officials — timekeepers and the two fellows who turn on the red lights when the puck enters the nets.

Interestingly, hockey executives are not reluctant to knock their very own scorekeepers.

"SCORERS ARE almost very bad in every city," I was informed. "They're interested only in home team scoring. And unfortunately there are too many scorekeepers who will change assists when they're confronted by a player just after the goal." A la the Esposito incident.

There were so many scoring changes being made in the dressing rooms of the NHL that a couple of years ago a new rule was made, to wit: Unless an assist is changed before the game ends, it stands.

A BASEBALL official scorer, though, can make a change after a game if he desires consultation with players or eyewitnesses to certain plays.)

Punchless Seals Fall To Leafs

OAKLAND (UPI) — The Oakland Seals learned the value of close fore-checking last night. Unfortunately, in learninv, they absorbed a 3-1 defeat at the hands of the suddenly surging Toronto Maple Leafs.

The hard-checking Leafs kept the pressure on Oakland, which has now lost five of seven games, throughout the National Hockey League contest and the end result was the Seals getting off a meager 18 shots for the entire game.

That included an astonishingly low two shots in the second period. The Leafs, losers of only one game in their last nine starts, meanwhile, ripped off 32 shots at Oakland goalie Gary Smith.

Ron Ellis, Norm Ullman and George Armstrong scored in each of three periods before Joe Szura slapped a 30-footer past Toronto goalie Bruce Gamble at 14:27 of the final stanza to put the Seals in the scoring column.

Littler Retains No. 1 Golf Spot

Littler has earned $52,428 on the PGA tour this year. Barber has collected $52,380.

Lee Trevino moved up a notch to fifth at $35,561, followed by George Archer with $32,866, Tommy Aaron at $32,446, Billy Casper with $31,266, Ken Still at $26,179 and Charles Sifford with $23,179.

POMPANO BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Owner Bob Short of the Washington Senators again failed to sign holdout slugger Frank Howard last night and said "I positively will not trade him. He will play for us or be retired."

Short had said Howard was available a few days ago, but he has since taken him off the market.

Howard, who originally asked for a three-year contract, reduced it to two and now is asking for $125,000 for one year. Short is believed to be offering about $85,000.

Psychiatrist Looks Into Pro Football

NEW YORK (AP) — A prominent psychiatrist says he is astonished that there aren't more injuries in professional football. "The name of the game, in psychological terms, is to kill your opponent," Dr. Chester M. Pierce, professor of psychiatry at the University of Oklahoma, told a symposium in St. Louis.

"When expert football players with maximum experience as performers and magnificent all-around physical equipment use their keen minds to dedicate themselves intensively to contest, the wonder is that on each play there is not serious injury."

Pierce's comments at a workshop on football injuries held by the Division of Medical Sciences of the National Research Council in cooperation with the National Football League, were carried today in the latest issue of the Medical Tribune.

Dr. Pierce said he believes many professional football injuries result from fatigue caused by emotional stress. This fatigue may be caused from lack of sleep.

If a football player starts worrying about whether his job is in jeopardy, the psychiatrist said, "the emotional anguish interferes with his sleep.

"Soon both the quantity and quality of his sleep is very different from what it should be and his biological rhythm is put out of kilter."

Dr. Pierce said a player may miss assignments because his thinking speed is reduced as the result of loss of slow-wave sleep.

"The altered sleep cycle could be the reason this man crumples under a relatively innocuous blow," he said.

"It is not beyond the realm of possibility that some day coaches will take brain wave scans to help calculate potential injury."

Oaks Vs. Pipers In San Jose

SAN JOSE (UPI) — With the American Basketball Association division championship safely tucked away, the Oakland Oaks take their high-powered offense to San Jose Civic Auditorium tonight to host the Minnesota Pipers.

The Oaks, in moving from the league basement to the division title in one season, officially won the pennant Wednesday night—and did it without taking the court.

with five minutes left in the first half. Then the Wildcats switched to a zone defense, closed the gap to 10 points at intermission and went ahead midway in the second half—building a margin of 51-45 with 5½ minutes left.

Dennis Autrey, the 6-9 center, and Bud Ogden sparked a comeback which almost failed. Autry fouled out with the score tied 55-55 but Dave Sackolwitz missed the two free throw attempts.

In the overtime, Weber didn't connect on a field goal while Bud Ogden hit two. Each club connected on four free throws.

"Alcindor played better than he has in recent weeks," said Wooden after the UCLA victory. "He had to in order for us to win."

By RALPH CHATOIAN

To say Ray Haugen of Corte Madera was on a hot streak during the Marin County Men's Bowling Association championship tournament would be putting things a bit too mildly.

Haugen, a truck driver for Safeway Stores, has a 157 blue book average from last bowling season, but currently is carrying a 169 mark in the Woodcutters League at Greenbrae Lanes, the only league in which he bowls.

In nine games of bowling in the tournament the past two weeks, the 37-year-old Haugen averaged 194. The whole thing earned him a trophy for all-events champ, since he was given 258 pins because of his 157 average. That came out to a 2,008 total.

HIS SCORES

In singles, Haugen rolled games of 162-224-211 for 597; in doubles he rolled 236-226-190 for 652, and in team event he rolled 178-182-141—501.

Haugen, who also works in a San Rafael service station, and wife Leila have four children, three boys and a girl.

Elmer Tynes, Marin County Masters champ in 1967 and '68, was the winner of the singles and scratch all events titles at the tourney, which ended last Sunday. Tynes, 196 blue book average, won the singles title by rolling a 742 three-game series. He won both scratch and handicap (750) honors in singles.

A maintenance worker at Bergman Manufacturing Co. in San Rafael, the 36-year-old Novatan had high scratch all-events score of 1,968. That comes out to an average of 218 in nine games. Tynes is married and father of two daughters.

Doubles winners were Frank Bernardi and Dan Burke. Burke rolled a 697 and Bernardi a 634 in the doubles which were bowled at Greenbrae Lanes, as were singles. Team event was held at Country Club Bowl in San Rafael.

Bernardi is owner of the Marin County franchise for Roto Rooter sewer service. The 48-year-old kegler has a 188 blue book average and current 196, bowling in two leagues. He and wife Inez have two boys.

SALES MANAGER

Burke, the younger half of the duo at 29, is sales manager at Marin Bay Lincoln-Mercury in San Rafael. He has a 194 "book" average and 200 current. Married and the father of a 5-year-old girl, Burke lives in Novato.

Team event winner was Brandon Tire, composed of Ron Chesterton, Joe Cardoza, Don Fredette, Fred Schwab and Jim Folsom.

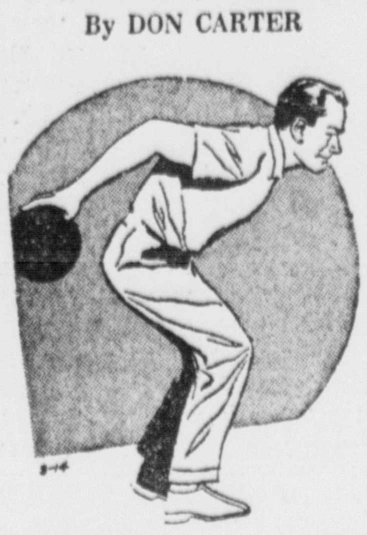
By DON CARTER



You may have a very good idea of how your hand should be at the moment of release, but unless you keep your wrist firm during the delivery, all your good intentions will be worthless. If your wrist twists on the way back, it will be almost impossible for you to make the proper correction as you walk to the foul line.

San Jose Kegler Leads Pro Field In Qualifying

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Jim St. John of San Jose came on strong yesterday to take the 24-game lead in the Professional Bowlers Association's $50,000 Buckeye Open.

St. John, a six-time PBA champion, shot six-game blocks of 1448 and 1356 for a 5505 total in pacing 15 other semifinalists into today's match-game play.

Following 16 games today, the top five will move into tomorrow's national televised finals with $6,000 going to the winner.

Four-Way Tie In Opening Round Of Monsanto Open

For Australia's Crampton, it's his young son Jay—and the chance of winning his first regular PGA tournament since the 1965 Indianapolis 500 Festival.

The four players, as different as sun and rain, all fired 67s yesterday over the wind-swept par 71 Pensacola Country Club course to lead the field of 150 seeking the $20,000 first prize at this third stop on the rich Florida circuit.

The swarthy, 29-year-old quipster from El Paso, Tex., said the course is playing a stroke and a half harder since it was lengthened for the long-hitting touring pros.

"It's in 100 per cent better shape," Trevino said, "but I'd play on a gravel road if someone put up a $100,000 tournament."

"Happiness is money," said the former shoe shine boy who won more than $132,000 on the tour last year and added $20,000 more last month when he won at Tucson.

But for Hinson, a quiet 24-year-old blond from Douglas, Ga., success is making the 36-hole cut so he doesn't have to play in a qualifying round for the next tournament.

"My attitude is changing though," said Hinson, who completes his rookie year next month. "Now I think of being first."

The former NCAA college division champion from East Tennessee State fired six birdies and eagled the 526-yard, par 5 12th for his 33-34.

Aaron skipped the customary news conferences for leaders yesterday, but his comments already are well recorded.

"I've heard it's nice to win a tournament," he says. "I'd like to know how it feels."

Aaron, 32, thinks about winnings all the way to the bank, where he's checked in more than $280,000 in nine years on the tour.

Crampton bounced his 18-months-old son on his knee as he described the bizarre round which included one eagle, six birdies and four pars.

Mays Smacks Key Blow For Giants

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Willie Mays' bat may change Clyde King's mind about using the San Francisco Giants' veteran center fielder as a leadoff batter.

The 38-year-old Mays, tried by the manager as a leadoff man periodically this spring, brought in three runs yesterday with a bases-loaded double in the fifth inning as the Giants downed the San Diego Padres 4-1 in a Cactus League baseball game.

With two outs Mays blasted a 425-foot drive over the center fielder's head, clearing the bases. The Say Hey kid then was caught off third in a rundown, for the third out.

Bobby Bonds singled in Don Mason with another San Francisco run in the sixth.

The Padres got an unearned run in the seventh as Giants pitcher Ron Herbel fielded Ivan Murrell's hopper and threw over the first baseman's head, with Murrell going to third and scoring on Jesse Gonder's sacrifice fly.

Giants' southpaw Ray Sadecki hurled five innings—the longest distance for a Giants pitcher this spring — and gave up no runs and four hits, striking out three and walking one.

The victory brought the Giants' Cactus League mark to 4-2.

Juan Marichal, if he signs in time, will hurl Sunday against the Chicago Cubs. The Giants play the Angels again Saturday.

Ross Vs. Kent In Cage Finals

Ross and Kent Schools clash tonight in the championship finals of the Redwood Elementary School District's eighth annual basketball tournament at Redwood High School gymnasium in Larkspur.

Ross gained the final round by nipping Del Mar School 31-29 last night behind Jay Weaver's 13 points.

In the consolation round last night Neil Cummins School trimmed Henry Hall School, 29-19, led by Bill Caito and John Frey with eight points apiece.

Talented Tackle

DENVER (AP) — Bill Cox is almost totally deaf but he was an outstanding defensive tackle last season for Thomas Jefferson High, runnerup for the Colorado Class AAA football title. Coach Don Day said Cox is "probably the best we've had in the middle on defense because of his quickness and his pursuit."

GIRL WATCHERS' DELIGHT

Bikini Olympics Tomorrow

NEW YORK (UPI)—When Devon Blaine and Kristina Nelson bare down to mini-bikinis this weekend, it will be merely to attract maximum exposure.

"Any girl with a halfway decent body likes to be looked at," said beautiful, blonde, 21-year-old Devon of Los Angeles. "It gives you self-confidence if men admire your body."

"I like for men to look at me," said beautiful, blonde, 17-year-old Kristina of Canogo Park. "Whistling is cute, it keeps up a girl's morale. I would think something was wrong with me if men didn't look."

Devon, Kristina and 58 other lovelies from nine countries will have their eye-catching outfits where they'll do the most good when they take part in the International Bikini Sports Competition at Rosarito Beach, Mexico.

Tomorrow, the girls will compete in sporting events, selecting any three from a list of choices including swimming, diving, archery, basketball, gymnastics, trampoline, motorcycle riding, horseback riding and dune buggy driving. The following day, they will participate in a bikini beauty pageant.

The sight of these bikini-clad girls engaged in fierce competition will be shown to an eager public on the American Broadcasting Company's "Wide World of Sports" on Saturday, March 22.

Ex-Mate Aker Comes Back To Haunt A's

MESA, Ariz. (AP) — It seldom fails. Trade a guy and he comes back to beat you.

Aker, who led the A's pitchers in game appearances with 54 last year, started and hurled four innings yesterday for the Seattle B team.

He retired the first nine men and gave up two hits as Seattle clipped the A's 3-2.

The San Diego Padres moved into Mesa today to battle the A's, who nominated Jim Nash for pitching duty. San Diego lost 4-1 to San Francisco yesterday.

Lou Piniella, former Cleveland Indians farmhand, blasted a two-out, two-run double to start the Pilots winning yesterday in the first inning against John Odom, the loser.

The Pilots' winning run came in the sixth on singles by Mike Hegan and Piniella, and a double steal. Gus Gill forced Piniella, with Hegan going to third. Gill stole second and Hegan stole home.

The A's picked up another run in the eighth when 40-year-old Seattle hurler Bill Henry, a former San Francisco Giant, fielded Allan Lewis' grounder and threw wild to first, gave up a walk to Ted Kubiak and surrendered a run-scoring single to Mike Hershberger.

Rick Monday went 0-for-4 as a pinch hitter and was expected to see his first action in center field today for the A's.

A Record Crowd

DENVER (AP) — A record for a sports crowd in Colorado was set when 50,002 turned out for the Oakland-Denver American Football League game last fall. But it was a sad day for the Denver faithful — they watched their Broncos take a 43-7 shellacking.

Warriors To Go Against Pistons

OAKLAND (UPI) — The San Francisco Warriors have a couple of things going for them.

For one thing, they've wrapped up a berth in the National Basketball Association's Western Division playoffs. For another, they've got a four-game winning streak at home.

They won't have to worry about the playoff berth but they'll have to worry about the winning streak tonight against the Detroit Pistons, 8 o'clock in Oakland Arena.

George Lee's San Francisco crew gained entry to the championship round Wednesday with a bruising 97-85 victory over the Los Angeles Lakers, who've just about sewed up the Western championship.

The win lifted the Warriors to the .500 mark for the first time this year. They are 39-39 with four games—all at home—remaining on the regular schedule.

Minus Tides For Opening Of Abalone Season Sunday

Abalone season opens Sunday and will remain open until Jan. 14. On opening day there is a minus 0.5 tide at 4:25 p.m., book time.

If not too windy or rough, it is possibble to locate some of these tasty mollusks at one of the abalone beds of Marin County. Best bet could be at the Palamarin Ranch in the National Seashore area near Bolinas.

It is also possible to walk, ride a horse, or a bike and get to other beds in the Point Reyes National Seashore area. Check with the rangers at the Seashore headquarters.

In Marin, we have the red abalones, with a legal minimum shell size measured along the longest dimension of seven inches. An occasional black abalone is also taken here. The size limit on blacks is five inches. The limit is five abalone in any combination of species.

Persons taking abalone are required to have a measuring device in their possession, and undersize abalone must be replaced immediately on the surface of the rock from which they were taken.

It is against the law to transport or possess abalone which have been removed from the shell unless they are being prepared for immediate consumption.

Scuba diving for abalones is illegal in Marin County, but scuba gear may be used in waters south of Yankee Point in Monterey County.

STRIPED BASS, sturgeon and salmon anglers should all do well if there is no wind over this weekend.

With the bay waters warming up, the bass should begin to hit. Joe Mello and his wife, Molly, took six bass Monday from San Pablo Bay near the Pumphouse. I tried the same spot and got nothing. Sam Knowles, who was with me, got a 60-inch sturgeon.

Sturgeon fishing has been good all through San Pablo Bay, but you can't be expected to land one of these prizes every time out. The average is probably about one for every 10 boats.

Salmon fishing boats out of Sausalito have just about limited for all hands aboard, when winds permit boats out. It looks like we have the start of a great year! The fish haven't been large, but these salmon will put on about 10 pounds in the next six months.

FRANK SUE of Corte Madera and a friend went to Lake Berryessa this week for black bass. I asked Frank to give me a detailed report. Frank's story:

"We left at 4:15 a.m. taking about two hours to get to the lake. We went to Rancho Montecello, one of the boat rental resorts along the lake shore. We rented a skiff for $5, and using our own motor, we fished on the east side of the lake. We used casting rods and Bomber lures of mixed colors. We took nine black bass, all largemouths, all about two pounds.

"We quit fishing at 1:30 p.m. and felt that we might have done better if the lake hadn't been so calm. One fisherman came in when we did. He had fished with minnows bought at the resort, and had a limit of five smallmouth bass."

Now that sounded real easy, didn't it?

Raider Rookie Top Return Man

NEW YORK (AP) — Rookie George Atkinson of the Oakland Raiders edged Floyd Little of Denver for the kickoff return title in the American Football League last year.

St. Pete's In NIT Stunner

Held to six points for the first 30 minutes and playing with four fouls, Webster came off the bench and poured in 16 points in the final 10 minutes to pace St. Peter's to a stunning 75-71 upset triumph over Tulsa after Temple turned back Florida 82-66 in the first game.

It was a dramatic win for St. Peter's, the Jersey City, N.J., school almost unknown outside of the East.

St. Peter's will now play Temple, in one of the quarter-final games on Monday night.

Temple displayed the savvy typical of a club from Philadelphia's Big Five and was able to neutralize Florida's 6-10 Neal Walk even though the Owls don't have a player over 6-5. Temple threw a press at Florida and the losers couldn't handle it.

Eddie Mast scored 20 for Temple and John Baum added 19.

In tonight's doubleheader, Ohio University plays West Texas State at 7 p.m. and Rutgers meets Tennessee at 9 p.m.

Duquesne Upset Bid Falls Short

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Duquesne almost pulled off a stunner against North Carolina before losing 79-78 to the fourth-ranked Tar Heels in the East Regionals of the NCAA basketball tournament last night at College Park, Md.

North Carolina, which at one time led by 14 points at 67-53, won on two field goals by soph Lee Demon on passes from Charlie Scott in the final 28 seconds.

"Time just ran out on us," said a dejected Red Manning, the Duquesne coach.

Marquette and Colorado State U. did register upsets. Marquette whipped seventh-ranked Kentucky 81-74 in the Mideast Regional at Madison, Wis., and Colorado State knocked off favored Colorado 64-56 in the Midwest Regional at Manhattan, Kan., despite 32 points by Colorado's soph, Cliff Meely.

"The boys were sky high for this one," said a happy Al McGuire, the Marquette coach, after Kentucky's defeat.

Mike Maloy's 35 points paced fifth-ranked Davidson over the eighth-ranked St. John's Redmen 79-69, Rick Mount's 32 points led sixth-ranked Purdue in a 91-71 rout of Miami of Ohio and Willie McCarter's 24 points sparked Drake over Texas A&M 81-63 in the other NCAA regional games.

The results set up these national quarter-final matches Saturday afternoon. Time is Eastern Standard.

At College Park, Md., 2:15 p.m., North Carolina, 26-3, vs. Davidson, 27-2.

At Madison, Wis., 4:05 p.m., Purdue, 21-4, vs. Marquette, 24-4.

Then, there's America's favorite way to get away from it all: Impala. Nothing else in its field comes on as strong. (A 235-horsepower regular gas V8 is standard equipment.)

Volatility Of Costlier Stocks Shocks A Novice

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. Last August I bought four shares of International Business Machines at 351. It has since fallen sharply. What's happened? Should I take this big loss? I'm disgusted with stocks. — L. G.

A. Two of the company's competitors — Control Data and Data Processing Financial & General Corp. — have brought suit to prove that IBM is restricting competition, and the federal government has added a suit of its own charging monopolistic practices in violation of the antitrust law. The complaints stem from certain pricing and sales policies that the company was planning to change before the lawsuits were set in motion.

If you're not used to following stocks, sudden price changes on the downside can be extremely disturbing. High-priced stocks are likely to appear more volatile. On a percentage basis, however, the change does not appear as sharp. Despite the uncertain outcome of pending litigation — which could be settled by some changes in price structure — I recommend holding your shares.

Q. Which of these three utility companies holds the greatest possibilities: Delmarva Power & Light, Pacific Lighting, Potomac Electric? I already own Commonwealth Edison, Consolidated Edison and Boston Edison. Do you advise any changes? — M. W.

A. I would buy Potomac Electric because it offers you a 5 per cent yield from dividends that are partially tax-exempt — 42 per cent in 1968 — and promising growth in its service area, both residential and commercial. Switching to Delmarva from Consolidated Edison will move that part of your capital into territory where industrial growth is accelerating, making possible an unbroken uptrend in earnings and dividends for Delmarva since 1959.

Q. You have in the past recommended retention of International Rectifier. Do you still feel there will be a better market for the shares in fiscal 1969. — F.A.

A. I cannot predict the market's response to IRF's earnings improvement but I believe the stock worth retaining as a turnaround situation. The December quarterly report of 2 cents a share, though a repeat of December, 1967, shows the company out of the red for two successive quarters. Sales for fiscal 1969, ending next June, should exceed the $30 million of fiscal 1968. Semiconductor and pharmaceutical sales are higher.

The Pro Sports Way: It's Brutal But Honest

This is somewhat of a between-seasons hiatus on the sports pages. Of course, the high schoolers are busy with track and baseball, but in pro sports, it's ho-hum time.

Hockey and basketball have about played themselves out. Pro football, though its seasons get longer and longer, has gone on vacation for awhile. And the baseball players are just starting to sweat off the winter's fat in spring training.

IN ONE RESPECT, however, there is never a lull on the sports pages. That's in the hiring and firing of coaches and managers.

It's too early yet for any baseball managers to get their walking papers. But the basketball and hockey bosses who have survived thus far may be given the bum's rush any time now.

Even successful seasons don't mean much in the turnover of managerial personnel in the professional sports world. Remember last year when Athletics owner Charles Oscar Finley bounced manager Bobby Kennedy the day after the baseball season closed, despite the fact Kennedy had turned a last-place team into a sixth-place one without any talent purchases?

THERE'S A DEVASTATING directness about the way these things are done. A front office spokesman calls in the reporters and tells them, "Bill Smith is being released as manager. Ed Jones will take over tomorrow." Just like that.

Often the reporters find out about it as soon as Bill Smith does — and maybe before Ed Jones.

Once in awhile, the president or owner of the club embroiders the announcement with an explanation that Bill didn't get along with the players, or softens it by saying he will be given a position in the front office organization. Ordinarily, though, even such amenities as these are lacking.

The reporters call Bill for his comments. And being long experienced in the way things are in the world of sports, he just shrugs his shoulders and says, "Well, he owns the club."

It's brutal. But it's a refreshing change from the way things are done in public employment.

IF A CITY COUNCIL wants to fire its administrator, or a county board of supervisors wants to get rid of its planning director, or a school board wants to dump the superintendent, such a blunt approach is never taken.

The council or board will go into a series of closed meetings with the official it's out to get. These will be camouflaged as held to discuss some other employee. Then, after a painful period of waiting, the administrator or director or superintendent will submit his resignation to take a job somewhere else or because of unspecified personal reasons.

The board or council will then express great regret at losing such a sterling servant, and go through tortures recruiting, screening and hiring a replacement — at a higher salary.

Nobody is fooled by this stage play, but it is supposed to avoid hurt feelings.

IT'S PRETTY MEAN when some big shot in the front office of a football or baseball club lowers the boom on the coach or manager without even bothering to give him advance warning. But there's a brutal honesty about it: "Produce — or else!"

Maybe that's one of the fascinations about the professional sports world. It's sort of the last enclave of rugged individualism.

Ultimate In Smog

We in the Bay Area think we have a smog problem and there is no question it is getting worse year by year. But we can take some comfort in the fact that bad as our smog is, it is much worse in Japan.

Tokyo, with its thriving industry and busy, congested traffic, is producer of the ultimate in smog. It is probably the only city in the world where traffic police have to return to their station every half hour to breathe pure oxygen from a tank. About 154 smog alerts are issued each year, as the smog approaches dangerous levels.

We suppose this comparsion makes Marin seem like an under-developed country, but have faith — we may yet overtake the Japanese.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Battle To Keep Purse-String Control Of Schools Not Won

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The battle over elimination of the right of the people to control school districts taxes above statutory limitations rages on in the state Legislature.

The people have won the first round of the battle, with passage by the state Senate of SB 35, by Sen. John G. Schmitz, R-Tustin. But there are more hurdles to be encountered. The measure must get out of the Assembly Education Committee, pass the Assembly, and be signed by the governor.

UNDER PRESENT law, the people of a school district have the right to approve through the ballot any general purpose tax increase proposed by the governing boards of the school districts. This right extends until July 1, 1971. After that date, the governing boards may arbitrarily set a higher rate and the taxpayer would be forced to pay it without having any say as to whether it should be imposed.

SB 35 removes the cut-off date in 1971 from the Education Code, thereby extending indefinitely controls the electorate have of this particular form of additional property taxes.

It was only last year in a special session of the Legislature that the Assembly Education Committee killed a similar bill by Schmitz. And it is expected that the powerful education lobby will do everything in its power to scuttle the bill this time.

REMOVAL of the public control as of 1971 was obtained through trickery on the part of supporters of the measure, Senator Schmitz claims.

When the clause calling for taking away the control of the public was inserted in the Unruh Education Bill at the last minute of the 1967 session, most legislators didn't realize its implications.

Supporters of the clause, says Schmitz, "frankly admitted that they never could have obtained legislative approval of a bill to do that and nothing else. Only trickery made their success possible."

Further, he said, "more and more people throughout the state are becoming aware that if the 1967 law remains on the books and the lid goes off school taxes in 1971, we have every reason to believe an enormous increase in local property taxes which could drive thousands of people out of their homes, and hundreds of businesses out of the state, will result."

Throughout California, more and more school tax increases have been defeated at the polls, which reflects voter dissatisfaction both with the high cost of education and with what the people are getting for their money.

Road Connection Proposal 'Amateur'

A local radio commentator has revived the question of an isolated Sleepy Hollow-Terra Linda connection. At best, this amateur attempt at road design is irresponsible. Anyone knowledgeable of Fawn Drive and Butterfield Road through San Anselmo recognizes that these roads would be unsuitable for the ensuing traffic load. The Gonzales plan contemplated the expenditure of about $1,000,000 in the interests of safety and was judged unsatisfactory.

Modern Schools To House Slobs

Forgive my ignorance, dear public, but what in heaven's name is going on in this county?

I strenuously object to any of my tax money being used for modern, attractive schools when they end up being inhabited by the slobs I have seen coming out of them.

I thank God for my parents who taught me the simple values of a bar of soap, an iron and a comb. . . .

Most of the public moans and groans about what's happening on our college campuses. "There's just no respect, no respect" — I hear it every day. Respect and moral strength are often made manifest by outward appearance. Marin County parents, your kids are impudent little slobs. . . .

It's funny. A prayer, which shows the belief in the beauty of life, is outlawed in our public schools. But filth is welcomed, supported, paid for.

I am 23 years old, a recent college grad. I must sound like an old lady, but I thank God.

District Attorney Ignores Complaint

As a resident of Marin County, I feel it my duty to share my recent experience with your readers.

It is indeed a sad situation when our own public service, the Humane Society, should fall victim to our legal system. In January a petition was filed in my neighborhood against the owners of certain animals declared public nuisances by the Humane Society. The latter served the required 48-hour abatement notice, but to no avail. Soon after and as a result of the animal owners' disregard of notices, phone calls, etc., the case was handed over to the district attorney's office. Since then, there has been no action taken by the D.A.'s office.

The Humane Society did all it could do and trusted that the law would bring the case to a close. As of now, nothing has been done; the animals still run loose, destroying property, and the larger animal still goes about terrifying passers-by and small children. As a reasult, the many households who signed the petition two months ago in hopes of immediate action, now know that despite the efforts of the Humane Society, this service is in reallity, helpless in the face of the law.

Army Endangers Tamalpais Creek

We need help in amplifying the voice of the people. We in Kent Woodlands have sought in vain to express our grave concern for the overkill methods used in the imminent flood control project. No serious effort has been made by the corps to find an alternate plan. Our Tamalpais Creek is about to be mutilated. The larger Corte Madera Creek will be killed next year.

Every inch of soil and nature has a value so infinite it is beyond monetary considerations. Yet, like a broken record, we hear over and over that the formula in the manual makes this concrete correction of a relatively small, flood problem necessary. The Army Engineers define "beautification in a unique way: green - vinyl - cyclone fencing, camouflaged by planting.

When my grandfather fought to preserve Muir Woods (now taken for granted) a friend asked him why he insisted on sticking his neck out for so much abuse (he was accused of all manner of ulterior motives). He replied that it was insignificant because "the people who will enjoy these woods are not even born yet." And we all will have to realize (and act on the realization) that each one of us must help to preserve Marin County's unique beauty for those not yet born!

The average individual citizen feels helpless against the system. The power of an agency like the Corps of Engineers, with its professional staff and tax money at its disposal, makes our efforts seem almost ridiculous in comparison. But I beseech Marinites everywhere to act now: write to our congressmen, invite them to see our natural stream. In the I-J of Jan. 2 on page 27, there was an article which will tell you that even the headquarters of the Corps of Engineers is questioning the need for such strong methods.

Long Hours, Little Pay For Jurors

Your articles on the workings of the Marin County Grand Jury have been most interesting and enlightening.

As the wife of a member of the 1967 grand jury and of the current grand jury, I also feel it might be of interest to the general public to know that each member is paid the magnificent sum of $5 per meeting. So far this year, six meetings a month have been scheduled, one of which commenced at 7:30 p.m. and continued until past 1 a.m. — all for $5. . . .

My reason for pointing out the small payments is in order for people to realize how much free time is devoted by the grand jury, especially as compared to our board of supervisors!

Washington Siphons Off Money While State, Local Costs Grow

By ROSCOE and GEOFFREY DRUMMOND

WASHINGTON — Frustrated with government? No wonder. State and local government today is breaking down so badly, the question now is will it survive.

There's a reason. The federal government is taking so much money from the states that they simply are unable to meet the mounting public needs, where the needs are greatest.

Washington takes two-thirds of all taxes. New York state, for one, gives up $22 billion a year and gets back 6 cents on the dollar.

Support for doing something about this is growing. That's good. But so far it is mostly talk. That's not good enough.

NEW YORK Gov. Nelson Rockefeller got a sympathetic hearing from President Nixon's Urban Affairs Council for his plan to return more federal revenue to the states. Without this, Rockefeller believes that "state and local governments, as we now know them, simply cannot survive."

Mr. Nixon recently asked the nation's governors for their views. He got them. All 50 of them, Republican and Democrat, urged the President and Congress to establish national standards for welfare, to take over a greater share of welfare costs which the state can't bear, and to establish substantial bloc grants to help state and local government do what is most needed.

There is a beginning at agreement on what needs to be done among the nation's governors and mayors and an increasing number in the Nixon Administration and in Congress. But the time for talk has passed. The need now is for action.

THE TEST will come early in this session of Congress. HEW Sec. Robert Finch, an innovative, do-something man, encouraged Rockefeller to put his proposals in legislative form. They will be ready shortly, and a number of the governors from both parties are urging their congressional delegations to help them get maximum bi-partisan support.

There's no dispute about the facts. State and local spending rose from $23 billion in 1950 to $83 billion in 1966 and will go to $162 billion in the next six years.

From 1950 to 1966, state spending rose 247 per cent and local spending 245 per cent, while federal domestic spending went up only 142 per cent.

The National League of Cities has just warned that many cities face bankruptcy unless national action is taken to relieve the urban financial crisis.

AND IT ISN'T that the state and local governments are refusing to tax. In the past 10 years the states increased taxes in 309 instances and added 26 new taxes. During this period, 43 have either increased or added new state sales and income taxes, many of them more than once.

The states aren't refusing to tax themselves; they have simply exhausted revenue sources because the federal government takes so much and returns so little to most of the states.

Some of the most acute problems of the states today are not primarily local, but national. Because there is a tremendous disparity in welfare payments between the states, ranging from $6 to $60 a month, there is a large migration of welfare recipients to other states. This creates welfare and education burdens the more compassionate states can't handle. This is why the governors are asking Congress to establish national benefit standards and greatly increase the federal share of the cost.

Is the money available? One answer is that everything contained in the Rockefeller proposals can be financed by devoting to them 25 per cent of the projected growth in federal revenue in the next four years, even with repeal of the tax surcharge.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

Peking's Ultimate Insult: 'Russ Deal With Chiang'

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — Charges inside Communist China that Russia is in collusion with Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalists elevate Sino-Soviet hostilities to a new propaganda peak.

The charges, aired by the Chekiang province radio after the recent Ussuri River border clash, have a special bite. Nothing is so offensive to mainland Chinese as Chiang's government and its hold on Taiwan (Formosa).

Experienced China watchers say the status of Formosa is the major irritant for Communist China's intense brand of nationalism, a nationalism which has helped Mao Tse-tung's regime survive the upheavals of recent years. Formosa is, of course, a cause of China's hostility to the United States too.

CHARGES of Russian collaboration with the United States are old hat on the mainland. Charges of collusion with the hated Chiang are something else again, something of an escalation in the already bitter war of words.

The border fighting, and the publicity given it by Moscow and Peking, lend support to the view that the two Communist giants are farther apart than ever.

There was a time when much of the hostility was credited to Mao Tse-tung and his personal ambitions. There was a feeling that the passing of the 75-year-old party leader might pave the way for a material easing of Sino-Soviet tensions.

Now, however, it is believed here that — even with Mao out of the picture — relations between Russia and Red China could be no more than "correct" on the surface and no better, in substance, than the present relations between Russia and Yugoslavia or Czechoslovakia.

CHINA EXPERTS here believe Peking's on again, off again attitude toward talks with the U. S. last month offer new evidence of basic differences in the upper echelons of the Chinese Communist party.

The very existence of such differences would not have been believed in the early 1960s, when it appeared that Mao and his politburo were leading China into the future in an ideological lock-step. That facade of monolithic unity was shattered by the events of Mao's cultural revolution.

Experts now report that the politburo, as such, has ceased to play a major governmental role. They believe Mao, with 13 other top party leaders, now wields the party's power and rules the China mainland.

In addition to Mao (and his ex-starlet wife, Chiang Ching), the top leaders appear to be heir apparent Lin Piao, Premier Chou En-lai, the nominal head of the cultural revolution, Chen Po-ta, and police boss Kang Sheng.

The experts identify no "soft liners," but see a changing group of pragmatists who sometimes resist Mao's view that China's future and that of a Mao-led world revolution are inseparable.

Experts here believe that pragmatic opposition to Mao's policies and alternatives designed to advance China's interests in the world come most frequently from the leaders associated with Chou En-lai in the state council.

News From Credibility Gap: Ananias Tree In Early Bloom

Life in Southern Marin this past week has somewhat resembled the Mad Hatter's tea party, what with city managers saying they aren't resigning when they are and in other ways playing games.

Mill Valley City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer's straight-faced denial Tuesday of his resignation, while it was already on its way the city fathers ("Why, no, of course I'm not resigning") was matched only by Mill Valley Mayor Dean N. Meryer's performance.

Balmer loves to play games, especially with the press, and so, although reporters always hope for a straight-forward answer, they are not surprised when they get a little less than the whole truth and nothing but.

However, Meyer has been pushing the straight and honest image during his three years in city politics — and successfully enough to win himself appointment to the Golden Gate Bridge District Board.

That's why it was more surprising to see His Honor merrily going along with Balmer's game this week. While Balmer was sincerely issuing sincere denials, Meyer was sitting at the same table chortling into his coffee cup. In fact, the mayor's mirth was so overwhelming he had to leave the table before he spoiled the game.

With all the double-talk around town lately, it appears that instead of the mayor changing the bridge district board, the bridge board is changing the mayor.

MEANWHILE, over in Tiburon, wild things are also happening. Last Saturday the long-awaited interviews were held with planning director candidates and the town's still reeling.

All started off jolly enough when the five city councilmen, three planning commissioners and one parks and recreation commissioner gathered Saturday morning to take a look at City Mgr. Lawrence D. Rose's final candidates.

Suddenly the harmony was shattered when one of the four finalists, Gary Saunders, assistant to planning consultant George Gatter (who as far as anyone knew was still on the city's payroll) started making a pitch for the council to drop the idea of a fulltime director and hire him as consultant for nine months or so. The point of his pitch was pretty much that Tiburon's problems could be wrapped up by then and any planner worth his salt would thereafter be quite bored with the whole scene.

The speech came as quite a shock to the council, already deeply divided over the planning director issue, and faces were still red from anger several hours later.

But even more surprising to the council was the news that Saunders had quit the city's employ several weeks before and Rose had not told the council of it. At the closed meeting Rose said the resignation had come in January. Three days later he told the press it was handed in two weeks ago.

CREDIBILITY GAPS seem to be contagious.

That issue is now taking a back seat to the now-burning question of why Rose is sitting on the director's appointment.

The two final candidates have outstanding recommendations (one is a Marin County man, the other is from Southern California.) The council and commissioners have made it very clear whom they prefer. And they want him now.

Unless the right appointment is made soon, the rumors are that this spring may see a new council a new city manager, or both.

Boyd Cleared In Railroad Grant

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A preliminary investigation has failed to uncover any wrongdoing by former Transportation Secretary Alan S. Boyd in accepting a $95,000-a-year-job from a railroad that profited from a $25 million federal grant made while Boyd was in office.

Boyd's successor John A. Volpe, who held up the grant and ordered the investigation, said:

"I received a report, a preliminary report which indicated no wrongdoing at all, but it was a sketchy report and I have asked for a full-scale report detailing every step of the way what happened."

Board Of Education Postpones Meetings

The Marin County Board of Education has postponed its committee meetings scheduled for Monday because several board members will be attending a joint conference of the California School Boards Association and county schools officers at Asilomar, Monterey County, reported Deputy Supt. Stanley W. Friese.

The committees will meet March 24 at the county schools office, 201 Tamal Vista Boulevard, Corte Madera. The administrative services and special education committee will meet at 7:30 p.m., and the educational services committee at 8:30 p.m.

COUNTY COMMENT

Fusselman

Wat Takeshita, in his "Reporter's Notebook" last Monday, wrote a darn good explanation of the new state homeowners' tax relief (1A). It was the best I've seen.

He emphasized that you must sign and return to the Marin County assessor's office two forms by April 15.

The pink one is for the $70 refund on your 1968-69 taxes, which will be mailed to you by the state. The yellow one is to claim a $750 exemption on your home for the 1969-70 roll. This will be reimbursed to the county by the state.

As he warned, be sure to get both into the assessor's office by April 15. Incidentally, to process all this has put an extra work load on the assessor's office this year.

HOWEVER, on Jan. 23 from Sacramento, Henry C. MacArthur's column in the I-J: "How 'Property Tax Relief' Proves Hoax On Taxpayers," in part had this: "So, actually the property owner gets little or no relief. He is merely an intermediary in the process of getting back a few paltry dollars, paying state and federal income tax on the refund, provided he deducted the tax payment, paying postage to send in his claim, and eventually winding up with no relief at all, or at least no more than coffee and doughnuts."

He goes on: "Here is how is works, at least in the case of this writer (MacArthur): Last week we received a notice from the Sacramento County assessor to file a claim for the $70 tax refund. Only a day passed before another notice was received from the bank advising that the FHA payment is being increased $5 per month or $60 a year to pay local taxes. All of which makes this 'tax relief' amount to $10 per year, which will dwindle to virtually nothing when income tax is paid on $70, and costs of collecting this $10 are figured."

Looks like maybe we all voted wrong. No?

IT'S A SHAME that County Counsel Maloney (Douglas J.) got mixed up in this negotiating team on employee salary schedule. Doug is one fine fellow, liked and admired by those who have had the opportunity of working with him, and a good lawyer too. I have always been glad that I urged his appointment as chief deputy and then later voted for his advancement to chief, when E. Warren McGuire (now superior court judge) resigned as county counsel to go into private practice. Doug runs a good ship.

That whole salary mess out at Brasilia was brought about by the administrator and his personnel office as well as the board, who toadied to them. (Abdication of duties must be rewarded you know, old chap.)

Anyone not blinded by the grand manner of operating should have been aware of the widespread resentment among the employees over the inequitable way that the sacrosanct clique was receiving such special salary treatment — 'way out of proportion to their ability.

You may recall that on the 28th of last month I said the editorial on "Hornswoggling" brought back 12-year-old memories. Well, it seems folks back in Madison, Wis., who 12 years ago also had the same kind of problem as our, are now up against about the same thing we are here now; the mounting costs out at the Civic Center (which looks like at least over $30 million).

They have forwarded some figures and circumstances that I think will interest you.

Coming up. Watch for them.

Coffee House Assured To Terra Linda Teens

Terra Linda Recreation and Park District directors have assured teen-agers that the district has taken no action to close the weekend youth coffee house program at the recreation center.

Rumors that the coffee house might close brought a delegation of youths to the directors meeting Wednesday night. The youths said they want to continue using the center for coffee house gatherings on Friday and Saturday nights.

Clyde Vaughn, minister of the Faith Lutheran Church, said the coffee house program will be "re-evaluated" this month, but no decision has been made on closing the program.

Eleanor Langendorf, general manager-secretary of the district, reported that the district has no information on coffee house schedules because the program is run by youths.

Terra Linda Recreation and Park District directors also:

Old debt paid — agreed to pay $312 in 1965 vacation pay to William A. Gordon, who resigned that year and went to Marinwood. The vote authorizing the payment was 3 to 1, with Chairman John A. Colistra dissenting. Director Robert A. Smith was absent.

POOL PASSES — Announced that swimming pool passes are now on sale at the Terra Linda recreation office. Tentative opening date of the pool is May 17.

RESIGNATION — Took no action on Mrs. Langendorf's letter of resignation, submitted last month, which means she continues as general manager-secretary. "I can see how busy things are, and I didn't have the heart to press the matter and just quit in the middle of everything," said Mrs. Langendorf.

MUNSON PARK — Torben Strandgaard, professor at University of California, presented plans for a creative play area at Munson Park, bounded by Las Pavadas, Las Gallinas, Freitas Parkway, and Hickory Lane. The first stage development includes a fence around the park and a storage shed. The $1,300 in the Munson Memorial Fund will cover that cost. Bathrooms, tricycle paths, and play equipment would be added in later stages.

Kite Warning

With trees and power lines already displaying remnants of kites, Lt. Raymond E. Dougherty, fire prevention officer of the Novato Fire District, warns parents and children of the dangers of flying kites near power lines. Severe burns and even electrocution have resulted when kites hit overhead power lines, he said.

Mental Health Panel Elects Wachsman

Edward K. Wachsman of San Rafael has been elected president of the Marin Mental Health Foundation succeeding Theodore C. Lachelt.

Lloyd Tunik of Terra Linda was relected vice president. Sidney Majors of Greenbrae was elected treasurer and Mrs. Helene Denebeim of Sleepy Hollow, secretary.

Record Snows Poise Major Flood Threats

FRESNO (UPI)—Few weather buffs in the San Joaquin Valley have ever seen anything to match it.

Snow in the Sierras is so deep it is crushing cabins. Rainfall in parts of the valley, such as Fresno with more than 20 inches, has broken all records.

And even if it rains no more this spring—an unlikely turn of events—runoff from the Sierra snowpack may swell valley rivers to the flood stage through July.

The new threat comes on the heels of severe floods which ravaged the valley in January and February causing millions of dollars damage, especially to agriculture, the valley's most important industry.

And as officials at reservoirs controlling major rivers fight to lower their storage capacity for the expected onslaught from the snowpack, excess water continues to take its toll.

FARMERS HURT

Hardest hit is a usually dry basin in Kings County which used to hold the waters of Tulare Lake.

A century ago some 750 square miles were covered by the shallow lake, which was then one of the largest in the state.

Later, the land was drained and the lake's fertile bed was turned into farmland.

But today nature is once more in command. An estimated 85 square miles at the pit of the basin are under water and the lake is growing at the rate of 11,000 acre-feet per day.

There doesn't appear to be much anybody can do about it.

The basin is the natural drainage point for the Kern, Kaweah, Tule and Kings rivers. While all the rivers are blocked by dams in the foothills, the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, which regulates the reservoirs, has ordered near maximum releases to allow space for the expected snow runoff.

GROWTH EXPECTED

With the exception of the Kings River, which is being diverted into the San Joaquin River to the north, and the Kern River, the other rivers and their tributaries are pouring water into the lake at a rate which may swell it to five times its present size by summer.

In the community of Corcoran, dependent on farming in the basin, a quarter of the work force may be unemployed this spring and summer because of the flooding.

The California Department of Water Resources reports the snowpack in the Sierras is fast approaching or exceeding records set in 1938, 1952 and 1967.

Amalio Gomez, chief of the Army's Engineering Division in Sacramento, said the situation is rapidly approaching the "classical snowpack of 1906" which is regarded by engineers as the heaviest in history.

Snowfall amounts are so heavy cabin owners in the Shaver Lake area east of Fresno and others near Sequoia National Park report some structures have been crushed by the heavy snow.

Water content in the snowpack is rated as one of the highest in history.

Gomez said the potential runoff is estimated at 245 per cent of normal on the Kings River watershed; 287 per cent of normal on the Kaweah watershed; 355 per cent of normal on the Tule watershed and 394 per cent of average on the Kern River watersed.

"By the end of July Tulare Lake will have more water than Pine Flat Dam on the Kings River," Gomez said.

However, he said other areas should not be too severely affected.

"We are confident we have the competence and experience to come through with a minimum of damage," he said.

The U.S. Bureau of Reclamation, which regulates Friant Dam on the San Joaquin River near Fresno, also is expecting a tight squeeze when the snow melts.

Geoffrey Nielsen, chief of the operations branch of the bureau's Fresno field division, said barring unusual weather conditions such as warm spring rains or an unseasonal hot spell, the dam should handle the runoff.

Further north the situation appears to be somewhat less critical. The Merced Irrigation District foresees no flooding on the Merced River below New Exchequer Dam and officials regulating reservoirs on the Stanislaus and Tuolumne rivers also said it appeared the runoff could be handled without serious flooding.
